

The Port Arthur News

VOL. XXIII. NO. 306.

PORT ARTHUR, TEXAS, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1924.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

TROOPS IN CONTROL IN MICHIGAN WAR

SHORT STORIES

Facts With Frills, Facetious And Otherwise By "S. S."

Everybody got a bill yesterday. Heavy fog arrived at midnight. Pirates, Bulldogs, Pleasure Pier at 3:30.

LEAP YEAR'S SHORTEST STORY: "Yes."

Two big revivals going on today. Go to church.

October measured up to the high hopes of a confirmed dry.

Night Patrol Driver Smith of police force had plenty of business last night.

Texas exes enrolling Aggie men here today. They both rode the bottom.

DAILY SHIP SCORE: In Port Arthur, Saturday, 10, at Beaumont, 3.

Leon Simon has trained his car to keep the road while he sleeps, he says.

"Cases" Casebolt among the duck hunters off to the marshes last night.

He who laughs best didn't return on the special from Houston last night.

Sergeant Enwright of police department initiated the dove season opening Saturday.

"The dear 'peep'" will talk Tuesday instead of the politicians, says Jimmy Brennan.

"Dutch Joe's" place and Big Hill lake region reported banned for hunters until it rains.

Duck hunters can pull the triggers now without consequences or game warden bothering them.

Golf tournament at Country Club this afternoon winds up, melee between W. W. Broussard and Leonard Ashbire.

Clyde Bates of the Portland Cement company, Houston, dropped of a rather here yesterday and looked the city over anew.

Soon as election's over will be time for the law-laws' annual gory elimination jamboree to start and there'll be politics again.

Homer Washburn says there's one objection about these new-fangled balloon pants—one is likely to have an ascension most any time.

Three holidays this month—election day next Tuesday, Armistice day one week later, and Thanksgiving day on the twenty-seventh.

Pet cown at fire station has gone to eating lead pencils now and leaves doubt whether he is a carnivorous or herbivorous beast, or both or neither.

Charlie Brouner, director of Hooster Band Friday night, very vergerie in directing band, beating bass drum and playing harpison solo in one session, his friends aver.

Slightly incriminated one running into a frame shack being moved from the Adams' building site at midnight declared the federal building had been placed in the middle of the street.

Opening of Southwest Pass at the Mississippi river, cuts 20 miles from the distance and two hours from the time for vessels plying back and forth between Port Arthur and the Cross-City.

One pedestrian near the city hall Saturday night was giving the building a once over as though he was considering purchasing the seat of city government, Tommy Gowan informs.

B. T. Griffing, who drives the city street sweeping truck, says there are more night hawks who run off and leave automobiles on Proctor for him to shove out of the way than you would imagine.

Judge E. S. McCarver, of Orange, commander of the second brigade, Sons of Confederate Veterans, was in Port Arthur Saturday conferring with Elgin H. Blalock, chief of staff, Texas division, S. C. V.

When results of Texas-Rice game came pouring over the wire last night, Buck Murray rushed wildly in quest of a bottle of tonic guaranteed for rapid growth in order to pull his hair in anguish.

Lezoy Stump, while fishing along the Orange road Saturday afternoon, had so many calls inquiring how many he had caught he says his voice gave out and he held up three fingers, half the afternoon so people could see.

Weather Report

EAST TEXAS: Sunday, fair, warm; Monday, fair, cooler. In north-east portion, moderate easterly to southerly winds on the coast.

WEST TEXAS: Sunday, fair, cooler; Monday, fair, cooler. In east portion, Monday, fair, cooler. In north portion, Monday, fair, cooler. In south portion, Monday, fair, cooler.

TIDE RECORD
Time of high and low water at Sabine Pass Light under normal conditions on Sunday, November 2, taken from tables prepared by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.
High tides, 7:01 a. m.; 5:59 p. m.
Low tides, 12:19 a. m.; 2:04 p. m.

Girl Dies in Fire With Sisters She Tried to Save

GASOLINE FIRE FATAL TO THREE

Can of Inflammable Lets Go In Home

ANOTHER MAY DIE

Guthrie, Okla., Tragedy Spares Parents

GUTHRIE, Okla., Nov. 1.—Three children of William Reed, farmer living several miles from here, are dead and a fourth is near death as a result of a fire resulting from a gasoline explosion early today. A can of gasoline in the home where the family was sleeping exploded and set fire to the house.

The three perished in the flames together. Another daughter, 14 years old, was severely burned by the flames.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

The home and its contents were destroyed.

Reed, his wife and 15-year-old son escaped.

GET MILLIONS

THEY have inherited $12,000—000, but Crawford Falley (below) and his wife (above), in-structed that the money of Oklahoma's best known early day fighters for law and order and famous for having cleared up the Dooling-Dalton bandit case in 1896, was shot to death at 11:30 tonight by an unidentified man who was attempting to arrest.

The shooting occurred after the player had fired a revolver in the air while seated in the car parked on the main street of Oklahoma's newest oil boom town.

The player fled in an automobile with three companions.

The shooting occurred after the player had fired a revolver in the air while seated in the car parked on the main street of Oklahoma's newest oil boom town.

The player fled in an automobile with three companions.

The shooting occurred after the player had fired a revolver in the air while seated in the car parked on the main street of Oklahoma's newest oil boom town.

The player fled in an automobile with three companions.

The shooting occurred after the player had fired a revolver in the air while seated in the car parked on the main street of Oklahoma's newest oil boom town.

The player fled in an automobile with three companions.

The shooting occurred after the player had fired a revolver in the air while seated in the car parked on the main street of Oklahoma's newest oil boom town.

The player fled in an automobile with three companions.

The shooting occurred after the player had fired a revolver in the air while seated in the car parked on the main street of Oklahoma's newest oil boom town.

The player fled in an automobile with three companions.

The shooting occurred after the player had fired a revolver in the air while seated in the car parked on the main street of Oklahoma's newest oil boom town.

The player fled in an automobile with three companions.

The shooting occurred after the player had fired a revolver in the air while seated in the car parked on the main street of Oklahoma's newest oil boom town.

The player fled in an automobile with three companions.

The shooting occurred after the player had fired a revolver in the air while seated in the car parked on the main street of Oklahoma's newest oil boom town.

The player fled in an automobile with three companions.

Butte and Ma Fire Last Shot Monday Final Blasts End Presidential Race

NO LULL SEEN IN STATE FIGHT

Mrs. Ferguson Takes Hard Rap at Butte

CLAIMS SHE SUFFERED

Brands Doctor's Conduct as "Unchivalrous"

DALLAS, Oct. 1.—At the close of the national campaign Saturday the Texas program will continue until the eve of election, reports from headquarters of the gubernatorial candidates here today indicated.

Dr. George Butte, republican nominee for governor, spoke at Hillsboro during the afternoon and goes to Mexico Monday afternoon and closes at Corsicana Monday night.

Ferguson Closes at Temple

Former Governor James E. Ferguson was in Houston for a speech to night in interest of his wife's candidacy. Only one other speaking date was on the Ferguson program. A home town speech at Temple Monday night.

Mrs. Ferguson will receive the election reports at her home and Dr. Butte will probably return to his home at Austin for the occasion.

TEMPLE, Texas, Nov. 1.—In a signed statement given out here tonight, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, democratic nominee for governor charged Dr. George C. Butte, her republican opponent, with "unchivalrous conduct" during the present campaign.

"No other woman has suffered more than I," she declared.

The statement was termed a "final word" to the people.

'SPLIT TICKET' TRICK SPRUNG BY WALTON

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 1.—Former Governor Jack Walton, democratic candidate for the United States senate today made plain that he was not supporting the democratic ticket "from top to bottom."

Workers at his headquarters here abandoned all attempts at secrecy and openly distributed thousands of "split tickets" which bore the names of eight republicans endorsed by the impeached governor.

Undergo an operation for ulcerated stomach at John Sealy hospital, Galveston, at 11 a. m. Saturday, Sydney C. Collin, Port Arthur steamship agent, reacted from the other during the afternoon and every indication is that he stood the operation well, according to advices received by his office here late Saturday.

Collin has been in Galveston for the past week taking preparatory treatment for the operation, which was performed Saturday.

TWO ARE ARRESTED IN LIQUOR RAID

Federal charges were filed against two white men arrested Saturday afternoon in the 1000 block on Houston by Officers Baker, Williams and Scroggins of the police force in a raid which also netted several pop bottles filled with corn.

The men gave their names as Henry Robicheaux and John Dominguez.

38 ARE HURT

One Passenger May Die as Result of Wreck

FARGO, N. D., Nov. 1.—Thirty-eight persons injured, one probably fatally, when four coaches of a great Northern Eastbound coast train derailed at Gardiner late Saturday.

The locomotive, baggage and mail cars passed over the rail safely. Three passenger coaches and a tourist car left the tracks.

Almost as important as the dredging of the original ship channel to Port Arthur 25 years ago is the completion of the project scheduled for Monday night which will give Port Arthur a ship canal 30 feet deep and 150 feet wide to the Gulf of Mexico.

This was the view of the project expressed Saturday night by George N. Bliss, marine superintendent of the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Stokes Murder Passes In Realm of Unsolved 4 Beaumont Mysteries

Mystery Recalls Murders of Dr. C. A. Penman, Miss Bessie Carl and P. O. Rial, Yet Unpunished

MURDER of R. C. Stokes, Beaumont refinery foreman, ten days ago seemed about to pass into the realm of unsolved Beaumont murders Saturday, with no additional clues in the possession of officers, members of the sheriff's department said.

Stokes was killed at about 9:30 o'clock Friday night, October 24, when an unknown assassin, armed with a shotgun, fired a solid ball into his body as, with friends, he was attending a radio party at the home of Deputy Sheriff Artie Pollock. He died Wednesday, a shattered lung developing pneumonia and hemorrhages.

Only Two Clues Known to Public

After the shooting several clues which may or may not be linked with his death were picked up. These included:

1.—Development that an unknown man had purchased two shotgun shells at J. R. Adams & Co.'s store about two or three weeks previous to the shooting, each loaded with a one ounce ball about the size of a .45 calibre bullet.

2.—Belated reports of a Ford touring car being seen rapidly driving in the neighborhood of the Pollock home immediately after the shooting.

These are the only clues which have resulted in the investigation of the case, so far as has been made known by officers. Two women and three men held for investigation the day following the shooting were released the day Stokes died, nothing, it was announced, tending to show any of them was identified with the crime.

Murder of Stokes marks the fourth unsolved murder in Beaumont in a little more than a year.

The Little-Rial Mystery

Miss Bessie Carl, pretty Houston girl, and P. O. Rial, her boy companion, were found brutally murdered in a patch of woods near Beaumont several days after the two had disappeared on the night of September 3, 1923. Their decomposed bodies were found by a searcher posse led by the young woman's brother-in-law, several days later.

Their slayer never was apprehended, though a negro boy, Verlie Adams, later said by officers to be mentally irresponsible, admitted he was present at the killings which he claimed were done by a mysterious "No. 8." Scott Bowman, negro burglar indicted following an epidemic of robberies and sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary, was identified by the negro boy, Bowman denied the murders.

Adams was indicted, but subsequently freed when it developed, in the (Turn to Page 9, Column 1.)

AD WINS HUBBY

Girl to Marry Man Who Lifts Mortgage

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Two months after she promised in a newspaper announcement to marry the first man who offered to pay off the mortgage about to fall due on the family farm, near Plymouth, Wis., Miss Cecilia Zeller, a comely blond, living here with her widowed mother, today announced she will become the wife of Harry R. Ragin, Chicago realtor.

Ragin is taking over the mortgage.

Too Many Clothes Cause Her Arrest

Found with a dress claimed by the owner to be valued at $17 concealed under her coat which F. K. Greenberg, proprietor of a Procter street women's store, identified as one taken from his stock a few minutes before, a white woman was arrested about 10 o'clock last night between Procter and Fifth on Port Worth by Patrolman Russell of the police department and taken to the station where a charge of theft was entered against her.

The store proprietor said he saw the woman conceal the dress under her coat and followed her out of the store until he found an officer. The woman will be tried in city court Monday morning, police said.

RANGERS NAMED IN FELONY INDICTMENTS

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 1.—Five indictments against state rangers stationed here were returned by the grand jury today. The bills charge felony, but fail to specify the offenses or whether one or more rangers are involved.

The rangers have been quite active here more than a year in arresting bootleggers.

EDWARD COLLINS, 70, Dies After Stroke

Edward Collins, about 70 years of age, died in Mary Gates hospital Saturday night about 10:45 o'clock. Collins was stricken several days ago with a paralytic stroke, and was removed from his home at 511 Fourth street to the hospital.

At a late hour Saturday night funeral arrangements had not been completed.

PLAGUE CLAIMS THIRTEEN LIVES

Los Angeles Citizens Mount Guard Over Quarantine

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—With the death toll standing at thirteen and with at least five more victims expected to die, city and county health authorities believed tonight they had controlled the mysterious epidemic which broke out in the Mexican section of the city and which has been diagnosed as the pneumonic plague.

Over an area of several square miles, including the residence section of Mexican town, 20 uniformed officers were patrolling the streets, aided by civilian guards. Rigid quarantine was established.

Several corpses were held for post mortem examinations. Health authorities said they expected, by this method, to determine some method of combating the disease.

Only five of the 17 persons who gathered around Mrs. Dora Mareno's casero are alive. They may die, officials said.

The pneumonic plague is considered the most dangerous of the three major plagues. It grips the lungs, strangulation resulting. The malady is similar to Spanish influenza which raged throughout the country during the world war.

INTERSTATE BODY'S Decision Promised This Month

Decision in Port Arthur's famous dock case, held here in May, 1923, before an examiner of the Interstate Commerce commission, wherein the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping seeks to compel the Kansas City Southern railway to allow other lines to have dock terminals here, is expected momentarily, H. Y. Taylor, chamber traffic chief, said Saturday.

The reopened case, now more than a year old, has been held up for various reasons. While in Washington recently Taylor inquired of the commission and was assured the decision would be forthcoming around the first of November.

30 Feet of Water 150 Feet Wide to Gulf to Be Completed Monday

Almost as important as the dredging of the original ship channel to Port Arthur 25 years ago is the completion of the project scheduled for Monday night which will give Port Arthur a ship canal 30 feet deep and 150 feet wide to the Gulf of Mexico.

This was the view of the project expressed Saturday night by George N. Bliss, marine superintendent of the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to load out of Port Arthur because of the depth of the ship channel from the Gulf Refining company here, pointing out that next week Port Arthur will be able to tell the world this port is ready for the largest oil tankers and cargo ships of even greater tonnage that now can be handled at the terminals here.

Vessels will be able to lift from three thousand to five thousand tons of cargo, and get in and out of Port Arthur drawing from 28 to 30 feet, Bliss said. "Doubtless vessels which have not been able to

LOCAL FIRMS

JOIN CONTEST

Prize Awards Offered for Home Lighting Essays

Prizes for boys and girls in Port Arthur writing winning essays on home lighting, and possibly giving them a chance to win international prizes, including a $15,000 model electrical home and university scholarships, are announced by four local electrical establishments putting on the contest between October 30 and November 25.

The prizes to be awarded both boys and girls are $50 for the best essays submitted by a boy and a girl; $25 second boy's and girl's prize; $15 third; $10 fourth; and for the next 11 boys and next 11 girls, $5 each, according to information from the Port Arthur Lighting Educational committee, comprising the Electric Shop, the Electric Specialty company, the Electric Supply company, and the Eastern Texas Electric company, which is leading the movement here.

Judges selected to pick the prize winning boys and girls are Mrs. K. A. Young, Miss Mary Donaldson, G. M. Sims, V. J. Wistner and S. P. McFadden. The essays on home lighting may be submitted by any boy or girl 10 years or older who attends public, private or parochial schools, no fee being charged and directions being given in a Home Lighting Primer which will be furnished all who sign a registration card, those in charge of the contest said Saturday.

The essays submitted must be confined to 600 words in length and written in pen and ink on one side of the paper only.

Port Arthur is allowed 20 entrants in the international contest, the essays to be forwarded to New York headquarters for consideration of the judges by December 15, and winners of the international prizes will be announced not later than May 1, 1925. The work will be judged by a knowledge of the lessons carried in the primer, originality of ideas and clarity of language in the essay, and thoroughness and neatness of work.

In sponsoring the contest, the Port Arthur concerns point out that it is put on with a view of improving lighting in homes, rather than for commercial purposes. Because of defective lighting, the percentage of defective vision is on the increase, it is claimed, and it is believed that through bringing improvements to the attention of the public through the essay contest, both conditions can be improved.

School authorities in Port Arthur, Nederland and Port Neches share this view taken by the electrical industries and establishments, and are co-operating in putting on the better home lighting essay contest. Enrollment cards and the Home Lighting Primers are available from teachers in the schools of this city and the surrounding section, and also from members of the Port Arthur educational committee.

For the information of contestants The News today publishes the initial lesson of a series included in the primer.

The Proper Use of Lights

Have you ever gone into a room at night, and felt that there was too much light in the room? Perhaps it was because you came in out of the dark, and your eyes were dazzled by the light. If this feeling of dazzle persisted, there was surely something wrong with the lights.

It was not too much light, however. For in that room there was certainly not more than one hundredth part of the light that we find during a clear day on the shady side of a tree or building. Nor one-fifth hundredth part of what we are accustomed to find in the bright sunlight. Surely, then, the trouble in that room was not too much light!

INSERT CUT

GLARE.

The trouble in the room was too much glare—too much dazzle. Any very bright light which shines directly into the eyes produces glare.

1 to 5 Units of Light 50 to 100 Units of Light 500 Units of Light 5,000 Units of Light and eyestrain. This becomes more and more unpleasant as the light stands out with greater contrast to the darkness of the background.

Lights for use in the home have improved quite rapidly during the last two or three generations and as soon as a better light was invented, we just put the new one in place of the older one. First the candle was replaced by the oil lamp, and then the modern electric light bulbs or incandescent lamps were invented and used in homes instead of gas, they gave more light and were much brighter than anything we had before.

A bright light burning outdoors in the day might not even be noticed, and it would not cause glare because there would not be enough difference between the brightness of the daylight. However, at night this same light would be quite disagreeable and covered ground. Do you remember the mischievous boy in the classroom who caught a beam of sunlight in a mirror and reflected it into your eyes? It made you start. These things are particularly annoying because our eyebrows give us no protection from this indirect or reflected light which comes in from below the level of the eyes.

This kind of glare must also be guarded against if we are reading or writing on glossy paper. The light should come over the shoulder, or be directed to the page at such an angle that a beam of light from the lighted filament of a lamp bulb cannot be reflected up into our eyes.

Lamps placed in front of a mirror and shaded by shades should not be placed in such a position that the mirror will reflect the image of the lighted filament of the lamp bulb back into our eyes and cause this kind of glare.

The two lower pictures show how to improve bad lighting. The man at the left shaded the light and changed his position; the man at the right changed the shade on the table lamp. The picture in the center shows a good arrangement for reading.

GOV. NEFF TO RESUME LAW PRACTICE SOON

AUSTIN, Nov. 1.—Governor Neff will, at the expiration of his executive term next January 1, return to the practice of law, he said today, and added that he had not had time to give the matter serious consideration as to location. "But the law practice somewhere will be my work when I am through serving as governor," he said.

HOME LAUNDRY

20 YEARS OLD

Big Institution Celebrates Its Anniversary

Growth in 20 years from a $5,000 plant, housed in a small wooden building at the head of Houston avenue, employing seven people with a weekly payroll of $75, to an industry representing an investment of many times over the original, employing 120 people, a fleet of 15 motor trucks and having a weekly payroll of $3,000 represents the development of the Home Laundry, established in Port Arthur by Henry Lohmann in 1904.

Celebration of the twentieth-anniversary of the industry will be held during the coming week by the management when the doors of the laundry will be opened to public inspection, and for each 100 visitors who visit the building this week to see the various departments and equipment the laundry management will give $25 to the milk fund raised for the Day Nursery by the Federated Missionary society here.

Entering the laundry business after graduating from the Port Arthur high school in 1907, the only member of the senior class that year, El Lohmann started in the business which he now directs driving the only delivery wagon used by the concern. At night, after putting up the ponies and wagons, Lohmann kept the books of the laundry, remaining open until midnight on Saturdays and paydays to collect bills from saloon keepers, barbers and restaurants.

"In those days the mosquitoes here were so bad that I had to wear two pairs of trousers and two shirts and keep paper wrapped around my ankles to protect myself from the mosquitoes," Lohmann said. "The ponies often ran away, and one time they were gone for 36 hours before we located them in a coffee bean patch where the corner of Sixth street and Stillwell boulevard is now."

Henry Lohmann, founder of the Home Laundry, first came to Port Arthur in 1897, returning to Kansas after a brief stay here, but returned in 1902 with his father, George Lohmann, and opened the Model Laundry in Stillwell Heights, near the Texas Company plant on Houston avenue. This laundry was abandoned after four months because water supply from the Texas Company reservoir, and hauled from Taylor's bayou, failed. Going to Orange, the Lohmanns opened the Orange Laundry, and after a year, Henry Lohmann came into Port Arthur again, made arrangements for an adequate water supply and started the Home Laundry in a building 24 by 40 feet on Houston avenue.

REFINERY WORKERS

PLAN ENTERTAINMENT

One of the main events of the week in labor circles will be the chicken and oyster supper of the local Refinery Workers' Union No. 28 next Wednesday night at Carpenters' hall on Sixth street.

Members of the local and their families are expected to be on hand in large numbers and plenty of refreshments are being prepared, the entertainment committee says. A dance with the local's band furnishing the music will follow the dinner. Musical and recitation numbers are also to have a place on the program.

HUSBAND SLAYS WIFE AND SHOOT HIMSELF

PAWHUSKA, Okla., Nov. 1.—May Worthington, 28, was shot and killed and her husband, Lee Worthington, 35, was in a local hospital tonight probably fatally wounded from a gun in his hands.

Neighbors found Worthington and his wife's body lying on the porch of their home near here. A shot gun lay nearby.

Officers said the shooting was a result of domestic troubles. Mrs. Worthington was said to have shot her husband in the leg a few weeks ago.

C. of C. Seeks Light On Marine Statute

Some member of the Chamber of Commerce and shipping marine committee will be in attendance Friday at Houston in the office of Major Schley, district government engineer, when the recent oil pollution act passed by congress will be interpreted, officials declared Saturday.

According to the wording of the bill no ship can discharge oil waste on any designated government waterways. Fine of $500 minimum and $2,500 maximum with possible jail sentences is provided under the terms of the bill.

N. O. SCHEDULE

CUT TWO HOURS

Southwest Pass Opening 20 Miles Shorter

Cutting off 20 miles of the distance between Port Arthur and New Orleans and reducing the sailing time two hours, opening of Southwest Pass of the Mississippi river to marine traffic is of vital importance to the shipping interests of Port Arthur, the government engineers have finally pronounced navigable and desirable Southwest Pass, according to dispatches received from New Orleans Saturday. The announcement was made by M. J. Sanders, chairman of the New Orleans jetty conference, Col. J. McD. Townsend, engineer in charge, has submitted the latest charts of the Southwest channel.

The Southwest Pass channel is not less than 500 feet in width with a minimum depth of 33 feet, and generally much wider and deeper. Government officials expect to soon have the channel 1,000 feet wide with not less than 35 feet deep. Dredging a channel off the entrance to Southwest Pass, somewhat to the eastward, is believed to have accomplished the desired results for making the pass navigable.

Because of the number of cargo ships and tankers plying back and forth between New Orleans and Port Arthur, including vessels of the Gulf Refining company, which have been using the Southwest Pass for several months past, George N. Bliss, marine superintendent of the Gulf company, said Saturday, and the ships operated in the South American and Far Eastern trade, which load out part cargo at New Orleans before coming to Port Arthur, the opening of Southwest Pass with the resulting saving in time and mileage is of

BENSON AGAIN HEAD OF CATHOLIC MEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Rear Admiral W. S. Benson, U. S. N., retired, today was re-elected president of the National Council of Catholic Men at the annual convention of the organization here.

Other officers elected were Thomas H. Flynn of Chicago, vice president; John Tully, Providence, R. I., secretary; Charles I. Donohue, New Orleans, treasurer, and Edward J. O'Connor, Washington, executive secretary.

Officials of C. of C. Going to Beaumont

All officers and directors of the Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce and Shipping are expected to attend the quarterly general membership meeting of the Sabine District Industrial association to be held at Beaumont Friday night of this week.

A. L. Bure, manager of the local chamber and general secretary of the Sabine association, has mailed out notices to the five chambers to have their full official bodies present at the Friday gathering. Many matters considered since the last general meeting held here in August are for disposal at the Beaumont meet.

SECOND CONVICTION MAY REVIVE OLD SENTENCE

BEAUMONT, Nov. 1.—Whether or not Elbert Gates, given a three-year sentence on a forgery charge yesterday, will have to serve a previous suspended sentence is now under consideration by Judge O'Brien.

Gates was charged with possession of a forged instrument with intent to pass. The grand jury originally returned nine bills on the one charge. But later several were dismissed. He stood trial and was given a two-year suspended sentence. He was tried on another charge Friday and given a three-year sentence. The suspended sentence law provides that it holds considerable importance to this port, marine men pointed out.

on the good behavior of the prisoner. Gates was arrested in Port Arthur on August 27, where officers alleged he was attempting to have checks printed at the Lone Star printing shop.

VOTER PAGES OFFICIAL FOR MIDNIGHT BALLOT

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 1.—A ballot was cast by a voter here at a few minutes before midnight Friday, after P. H. Leach, local salesman, read a newspaper account late Friday explaining that deputies in the office of the county clerk receive absentee voters until midnight. Deputy Clerk Earl Singleton was summoned from his home and supplied Leach with a ballot.

A total of 70 absentee votes were cast here by men and women who will be out of the county on Tuesday. There were 21 applications also mailed out and it is expected that when these are returned, it will bring the number of absentee votes to nearly one hundred. There were only 149 absentee votes cast in the primaries when many people were taking their vacations and county officials declare that there is an unusual interest in the elections.

Raiders Nab Eight

Five women and three men were arrested Friday night by Deputy Sheriff John Foote and Constable Dick Parsley in raids at McFadden's Beach and Sabine, two of the men being arraigned on whiskey charges and the rest of the number being charged with vagrancy.

At McFadden's Beach a man giving his name as Ben Reece was arrested and 45 bottles of beer confiscated. Reece was arraigned Saturday before Judge R. G. Robertson in justice court and bond of $500 assessed in a preliminary hearing.

Cleve Patrick was the name given by a man arrested with a small quantity of whiskey at Sabine. His bond was set at $500 by Judge Robertson.

Four negro women, a white woman and a man all paid fines on pleas of guilty to vagrancy. They were arrested at Sabine.

PRICES SLASHED

ON DINING ROOM FURNITURE

Pay Only $5.00 Down

To help you take advantage of this extraordinary saving on a dining room suite we have devised a simple plan for payment. A down payment of only $5.00 delivers any dining room suite you select to your home. Convenient, liberal terms will be arranged to suit you.

We have spent several months in arranging for this event. Special price concessions, with factories because of the quantity purchased, is the reason for the exceedingly attractive price we offer you. These suites are of new creations—popular and pleasing lines. There are many styles too. You may be assured that you will find one to please you. The prices are good only while the present stocks last.

The Style The Pieces

The Queen Anne period is ever popular—always pleasing. Graceful, sweeping curves—graceful legs, give the period a distinctive appearance. The suite pictured above is of that style and made up in American Walnut finish. This combination is both practical and delightful.

The extension table has a genuine walnut top 45 by 60 inches. It extends to 6 feet. There are four chairs, strong and comfortable. High backs and genuine leather seats in either blue or brown. The buffet is 54 inches long. The top of the two center drawers is velvet-lined for silverware.

THE STORE AHEAD

VAUGHAN-PACE

HARDWARE AND FURNITURE CO.

Phone 483 617-619 Procter

CREDIT TO ALL CREDIT

Dress Up

IN THE SEASON'S NEWEST STYLES

It will help you in more ways than you can possibly realize. Our credit plan is free from the burdens usually associated with time-payment houses. People in all walks of life are immediately impressed with our methods—and our manner of making sales—our willingness to offer every possible convenience and advantage, from the time you make your first payment until your account is renewed.

Garments of Style and Quality

Garments that compare favorably with those shown only in exclusive shops but here at prices you can afford with the added advantage of easy payments.

Luxurious Coats Fashion's Favored Creations

Manufacturers give us extra concessions because of our large buying power, and you in turn get the benefit of our savings. Here are the smartest straight line models with stitched sides, sport coats with fur collars and cuffs, new wraps of kasha cloth and ever so many new models.

Men's Suits Correct in Every Detail

Garments of style and character, tailored of reliable quality, all wool worsteds, cassimeres and serges in solid colors, pencil stripe and check patterns. Make your own terms. Incomparable values.

LEADER CLOTHING CO.

306 Procter St. Opposite Piggly Wiggly

Leader Where as Low as $1 A WEEK Will Dress You

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succor them that are tempted.—Heb. 2:18.
It is one thing to be tempted, another thing to fall.—Shakespeare.

The Editorial Mind

PORT ARTHUR NEWS

Published every evening and Sunday morning at 422-424 Fifth street, by The News Publishing Co., Port Arthur, Texas. Mail subscription rates in advance. One year, $9.00; six months, $4.50; three months, $2.25. City subscription rates, in advance. One year, $7.20; six months, $3.60; three months, $1.80.
Phones: Editorial department, 43; circulation, 41; advertising, 42. Full leased United Press wire. Newspaper Enterprise Association Service.

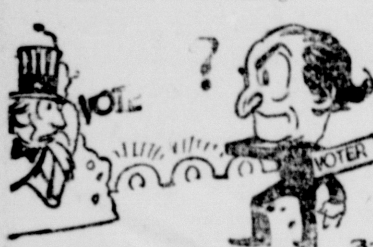

Cast a Vote

Don't let your interest come too late. On how election's fared; Get out and cast your vote on date; Suppose NOBODY cared!

The fellow who forgets to vote, May protests be a-humming. On how election finished, but He has no kick a-coming.

The man who wants to win, of course, May need you is a backer. To give your help, the only course Is vote! Don't be a slacker.

The Letter Box

THE UNWRITTEN PLEDGE
Every one hundred per cent American citizen is eternally bound by an unwritten pledge; a pledge of absolute fidelity to his country and its institutions.

There is no halfway house between fidelity and falsehood; in this pledge he lives—it is his life.

There is much political talk today of a party pledge. This party pledge is certainly not binding on any of us if it violates our unwritten pledge. If by accident, or design, of political scoundrelery, the name of a convict or other unworthy or undesirable person should be placed upon either of our party tickets we should consider our unwritten pledge FIRST and say by our vote "My party if it is right, if it is wrong some other party."

W. F. JAMES.
Port Arthur, Texas.
November 1, 1924.

Your Dreams

Columbus dreamed of a voice saying: "God will give thee keys to the ocean."

With this encouragement he continued his plans, which resulted as everyone knows in the discovery of America.

Such encouragement through dreams has come to many, the nightly wanderings of the subconscious mind have often supplied the force which has made successful seemingly impossible enterprises.

Interpretations.
If you dream of a fountain, prosperity and health will be yours.

If an elephant comes through your dreams, someone will do you a very good turn.

Even the family physician is an omen of fortune and health, a rise in life, if he comes into your dreams.
A dove, if seen on the wing, means peace is coming to you and if the bird is at rest, happiness in domestic affairs will be yours.

Success of something which seems a failure is quite likely if you are eating peaches.
While to eat or pick strawberries foretells good fortune for all, especially lovers.

MEN'S GYM CLASS TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Meeting of the Port Arthur Business Men's Gymnasium class, scheduled for Monday night, has been postponed to Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the boys' gymnasium at Franklin school. D. W. Fidy, Scout Executive and instructor of the class, said Saturday. About twenty men have signed up for the athletic work, given one night each week for two hours and followed by a swim in the pool at Franklin, Edgy said.

DRIVER DIES IN CRASH—CAUSED BY HEADLIGHT

BALLINGER, Texas, Nov. 1.—Jack Edmundson, 24, service car driver, was instantly killed and four passengers slightly injured when his machine overturned near here during the night. Glaring lights of an approaching car was held responsible for the accident.

THREATENING THE VOTER BECOMES POPULAR POLITICAL PASTIME

Daily the campaign threats grow more bold and insolent. "If you do not vote our way, the country will be thrown into depression." That is the amount of it. Now the theory of our government, and of every free government, is that people shall vote for their convictions. If it isn't going to be that way, then there is little sincerity and little sense in going about talking about the constitution being endangered.

When you start telling voters that they must not vote as they believe, but your way, or they will suffer, you have gone a long way toward telling them that your crowd is able to punish them. Then look out. About the time rulers have got started talking that way, real trouble has come. Tell men that their bread will be taken out of their mouths, and you start them thinking about real revolution.

Men who pretend to fear revolution, but threaten voters with destitution, are talking dangerous stuff. It is not a pleasant thing to think of the reckoning they invite.

THE BRUTE IN THE MAN

Here is some common sense and an idea that will be new to most people. William Van De Wall, a Pennsylvania state official, says: "Our intellectual life has progressed at a more rapid rate than our emotional development. The struggle of very primitive fundamental instincts, revealing themselves through imperious emotional demands, with present day conditions and social demands, is claimed by many scientists to be at the bottom of many mental disturbances."

In other words, modern man has an enlightened twentieth century intellect obeying and serving primitive emotions. Stevenson, in writing "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," advanced the idea that in every man two natures struggle for supremacy, one good, one evil.

The good being is intellectual and spiritual.

The evil being is emotional.

All of us are descended from brutes. And their brutish emotions still lurk in us. We have inherited them, though through long generations we have, to varying extent, learned to repress our brute natures.

Rage, whether silent or expressed in a torrent of curses, is a repression of an inherited primitive emotion that led to physical attack, even murder.

In evolution, there are "throwbacks to primitive types." A long succession of very decent fathers and mothers may have a son, for instance, who is a "throwback" to a brutal ancestor of long ago. Repressed primitive instincts explode, break through—produce a fiend.

"Being good" is a matter of sitting on the lid—keeping our brutal natures imprisoned. Some find it easy. To others it is a lifelong fight. Accordingly, walking the straight and narrow path is more commendable in some cases than in others. The man who can be good only by powerful effort, but nevertheless is good, deserves more credit than the one who has few if any cravings to jump over the traces.

It works the other way, too: Criminals (unfortunates who have inherited more of the brute) cannot be judged by the same standards as others. An enlightened system of justice is gradually recognizing this and making allowances for it in inflicting punishment.

WHEN THE LINE VANISHES

Few days pass that we do not read of some heroism that makes us proud of our kind. When the test comes, mankind rises to the emergency. Seldom, however, do we hear of so stirring conduct as that of the woman in California who gashed her arm to save a child as they lay, injured, after a motor car's plunge over a precipice.

More remarkable even than the unflinching sacrifice of the woman, who has since died from her injuries, was that she thought of doing this thing. In he days of cave life, women and men doubtless were called upon frequently to meet these emergencies. It took nimble wits to survive in a world where danger lurked constantly beyond the next tree, where a falling branch meant a broken leg with no ambulance to call. In these days of ease we have grown more dependent upon each other than we realize. For a headache, we call the doctor. For a leaky pipe, we call in the plumber. Yet but scratch the varnish, and beneath this way of living we call civilization, we find the primitive being.

One morning, a group is rolling along man-built highways in the luxurious upholstery of a gasoline driven contraption that genius evolved. The next, a woman and her small niece lie injured, the husband dead, at the bottom of a cliff, in a place where discovery is unlikely. That fall has turned back the centuries. Night comes, and with it the wail of a cold and hungry child. And the woman does not hesitate. Her suffering does not matter. She opens a vein that the child shall not perish. How did she think to do this. She, perhaps, did not know. But we know that we owe a debt of gratitude to those ancestors of ours in the long ago, who bequeathed us a cunning and a fortitude born of their rude struggle for life.

HELP PREVENT A DEADLOCK

Many decades have passed since there was as much talk about the presidential election being "thrown into congress" by reason of a deadlock, as there is this year.

In the 1920 election, less than 27 millions of citizens voted, while over 25 million citizens neglected to vote.

If a considerable part of those 25 million negligent voters could be induced to vote this year, there'll be less chance of the election going into congress with attendant possibilities of the winner being someone the majority of the citizens never intended.

The law of averages does not intrude to any great extent. It's true that 27 million voters are apt to vote much like a million—that is, divide their votes among candidates in the same percentages. But the more-than-25-million who did not vote in 1920 are an unknown quantity, because most of them are chronic non-voters. They must have a voice in the decision, for real government by majority.

More than seven million young American citizens have "come of age" since the last presidential election. This year they are able to vote for president for their first time.

Seven millions! Enough to swing the election.

The vote of our newcomers is needed just as vitally as the vote of older citizens. You now are "of age." Eligibility to vote is your right. It is also your privilege and duty.

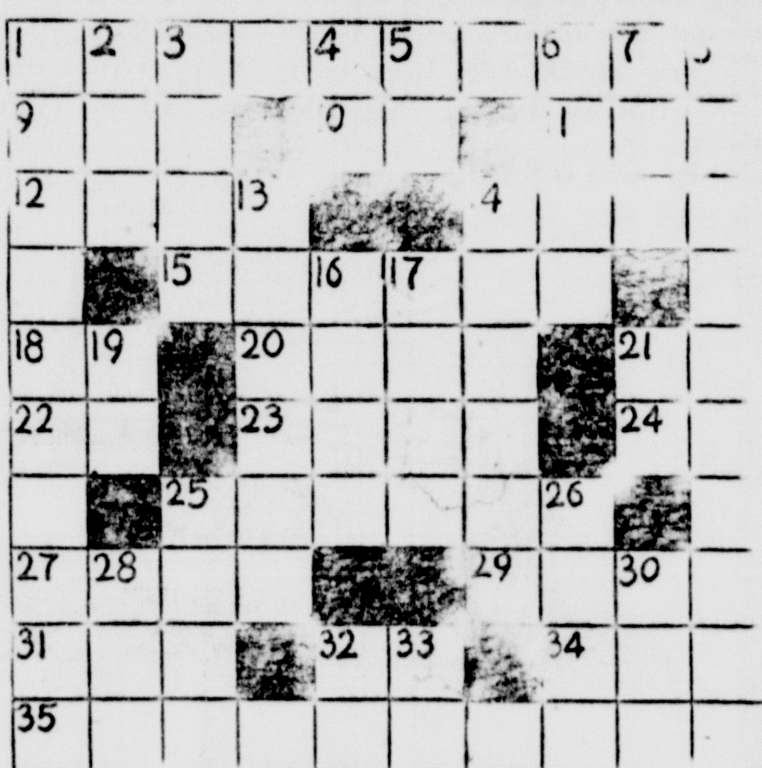

To preserve your heritage of government by majority: Vote without fail! Vote without fail!

Samuel Gompers and his federation of labor have endorsed Governor Alfred E. Smith for re-election and the wily Samuel is confident that the New York Smith will be a winner. Samuel has two strings to his bow in New York. He is backing La Follette for president and Smith for governor.

Was Your Name Printed?—Neither Was Ours

THE NEWS' CROSSWORD PUZZLE

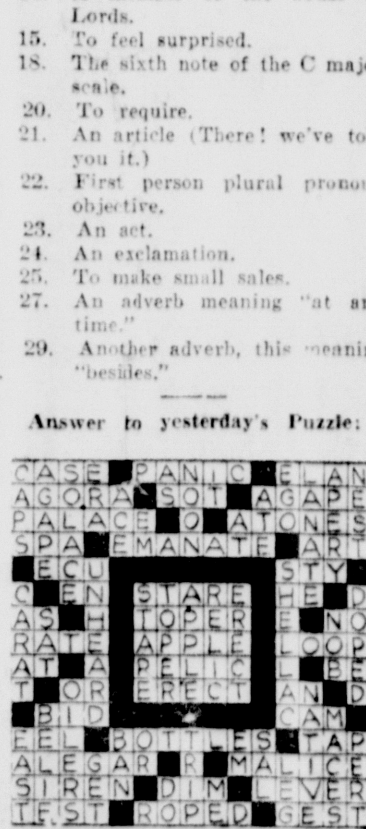

VERTICAL

- Mr. Sheen's favorite remark.
- Hurrah, as contracted for use in college yells.
- When you retract, you eat it.
- A Roman coin, originally of a Roman pound.
- The opposite of yes.
- At all times.
- An untruth.
- Gallants who play 'neath ladies' windows.
- Something that creates awe.
- To sell from place to place.
- To be necessary.
- A legal register of sale.
- Identical with 4 vertical.
- An exclamation of satisfaction.
- Domesticated animals kept for pleasure.
- Where Napoleon spent his exile.
- To compel.
- To speak.
- Third person, singular masculine pronoun.
- Yellow or gold color, but with an entirely different meaning, when used as a conjunction.

HORIZONTAL

- Angels of the highest order.
- Prohibition barred it.
- As.
- To strive for superiority.
- Exhibit.

Answer to yesterday's Puzzle:

IS THIS YOUR BIRTHDAY?

SUNDAY, NOV. 2.—Energetic and industrious, you have only to develop initiative and your life will be happy. On the contrary, if you permit yourself to be dormant the ability of mind you now possess will leave you.

Your ability has often caused others to confide in you, and perhaps you have lost by being too good to those who could take advantage of your friendship.

Use your brain power to the fullest extent in asserting yourself in new endeavors. The opposite sex attract you and you will be happy in your love affairs.

Slayer's Confession Frees Beaumont Man

AUSTIN, Nov. 1.—Pardon was granted today by Governor Neff to Frank Smith of Beaumont, serving a 15-year sentence in the penitentiary for the murder of Lee Duke, taxi driver, at Orange in 1922. It was the second pardon by Neff in the past 14 months. Last August a few hours before Eusebio Valdivia was executed at Villa Platte, Louisiana, for a murder committed in the state, he made a written confession that he and not Smith killed Duke. Investigations were made of the confession, and convinced him that Smith was not the murderer of Duke.

You Can Join Even If You Can't Fly

Pointing out that ability to operate an airplane is not required for membership in the Port Arthur chapter of the National Aeronautic association, Elgin H. Blalock, in charge of the chapter organization here, said a misunderstanding on this point has possibly kept many from joining the organization.

The landing field at Bland's Bend is listed in maps and data gotten up by the association and advises Port Arthur all over the United States," Blalock said. He pointed out that in addition to this feature, an active chapter in the city can do much toward assisting in the efforts to secure air mail service and the reserve officers training field located here.

JURY FEES FOR WEEK AMOUNT TO OVER $700

BEAUMONT, Nov. 1.—Jury fees for the 56th district court amounted to more than $700 for the past week when six cases were tried, but only two convictions were obtained. Appeals were immediately filed by attorneys in the cases where a verdict of guilty was returned by a jury.

Court officials commented on the fact that when so few convictions are tried with so few convictions it is disheartened law enforcement officers, since in the majority of them, a minor technicality resulted in a victory for the defense.

Of the cases tried, two were for forgery and the other four were for liquor violations. Convictions were obtained on the forgery cases, but the defendants in the liquor cases were freed.

NEW FAIR OFFICIALS TO BE ELECTED SOON

Fair officials will elect new officers and directors for 1924 as soon as all bills incurred for the first annual fair held last month are in and the books fully audited, Manager A. L. Burge states.

The winding up of the 1924 fair business is expected within the next two weeks at the most. This will be followed by intensive plans for next year which will be in the making throughout the entire 12 months, officials say.

Copyright 1924 by Wynne J. F.

ARTICLE No. 2

There is probably no subject in auction that is more interesting or difficult than that of inferences. Each bid that is made and each card that is played should carry with it some information that will often afford valuable aid in bidding and play of the hand. To be able to draw the proper inferences from the bidding requires not only long experience but also a certain analysis and deduction that all do not possess. For this reason no player should be discouraged at his lack of skill in making proper inferences, since even among the best players errors are common. Inferences are drawn from the actual bids made and the cards in one's own hand, so that if the bidding is incorrect or there is an unusual distribution of the cards, the results often are apt to be incorrect. Inferences at the best are only more or less brilliant guesses but the best auction players, however, are undoubtedly those who can draw inferences quickly and correctly.

In the following hand, one of the players made a correct and brilliant bid, based solely on his inferences from the bidding:

Y
Z
A
R

Hearts—A, Q, 7
Clubs—10, 9, 8, 4, 3
Diamonds—J, 10, 7
Spades—Q, 4

There was no score on the rubber game. Y dealt and bid one club, B one spade, Z two clubs, A two hearts, Y three clubs and B passed. What should Z now do with the foregoing hand? Z happened to be a brilliant player and one who was noted for drawing inferences quickly and correctly. His deductions were somewhat as follows: My partner has re-bid his club suit so must have much better than an original bid. A has not re-bid his hearts so must have refused to help his partner's spade bid and B has refused to re-bid. Therefore it is a certainty that I and my partner have the spade suit stopped. Since I have a double stopper in the heart suit, why not bid three no-trump and try for game and rubber? After going through these mental processes, Z bid three no-trump and all passed. The hands of the various players follow:

Hearts—K, 6
Clubs—A, Q, J, 7, 2
Diamonds—Q, 5, 2
Spades—K, J, 7

Hearts—J, 10, 9, 8, 5
Clubs—6
Diamonds—A, K, 9, 4
Spades—8, 6, 3

Hearts—A, Q, 7
Clubs—10, 9, 8, 4, 3
Diamonds—J, 10, 7
Spades—Q, 4

Hearts—4, 3, 2
Clubs—K, 5
Diamonds—8, 6, 3
Spades—A, 10, 9, 5, 2

A opened the eight of spades and Z won the trick with the queen in his own hand. He now took the club finesse and B won the trick with the king. B now led back a low spade hoping that his partner would hold three spades and be able to lead it to him if A got the lead. This was a good play on B's part as he had no re-entry and his only hope of

Answer to Problem No. 1

Hearts—A, Q, 10, 7
Clubs—None
Diamonds—3
Spades—None

Hearts—K, 8, 4, 2
Clubs—J
Diamonds—None
Spades—None

Hearts—9
Clubs—4
Diamonds—J
Spades—5, 4

If spades are trumps and Z is in the lead, how can Y-Z win all the tricks against any possible defense? Z should lead his five and four of spades on which Y should discard the ten of diamonds and the seven of hearts. A is forced to discard two hearts, or Z's four of clubs will be good. B also is forced to discard two hearts or Z's jack of diamonds will be good. A and B are now left with two hearts each so Z leads the nine of hearts, finesses the queen and then wins the balance of the tricks with the ace and ten of hearts.

WHAT THE REED-JOHNSON MEASURE PROVIDES FOR DISABLED WAR VETS

Free hospital service, including medical treatment, for any illness from any cause;

A grant of $100 for burial of any veteran of any war who dies without funds;

Free transportation to and from any hospital to which a veteran is assigned for treatment;

More liberalized regulations for rehabilitation of tubercular patients;

Additional time for reinstating and converting wartime insurance.

These privileges are highly important to all former service men—yet passage of the Reed-Johnson bill, providing most of these, is hardly known. It was overshadowed when it passed this year by the insurance bonus measure, but its provisions should be known by every Spanish War and World War veteran.

In case of injury or sickness at any time from any cause, any veteran of any war or expedition since 1897 can be admitted to government hospitals by showing his honorable discharge at the nearest Veterans' Bureau office. All necessary transportation costs to and from hospital, and all costs of medical or surgical service, medicines, food, etc., are borne by the government.

As first presented, this measure made the same provision for veterans of all wars. In conference, this was altered to include only Spanish War and World War veterans. A drive is to be made at the next session of congress to have it amended to include the handful of Civil and Indian War veterans now excluded from its provisions.

Another measure, included in an omnibus bill at the last session of congress, provides payment of $100 for funeral expenses of any veteran of any war who dies without funds.

In case the veteran dies at a government hospital, the government also pays for transporting the body to the home of the deceased.

Payment of the $100 in case of a death at home is predicated upon the veteran having no funds. Any insurance policies left by the veteran are not considered funds, but an estate. A veteran could leave $10,000 insurance, but if he had no funds at time of death, relatives could collect the $100.

In case a flag is desired to drape the casket, the government pays an additional $5.

Applications for payment of these aids should be made through the nearest Veterans' Bureau office.

LOUISIANA OIL FIRM TO OPERATE IN TEXAS

AUSTIN, Nov. 1.—Permit to do business in Texas was granted today to the Southern Oil and Refining company of Shreveport, La., capital stock $750,000. Texas headquarters to be at Houston, with H. P. Parmelee as state agent. Included among the directors of the company are W. G. Banks, Shreveport, President; John H. Kirby, Houston; former Governor W. P. Hobby, Beaumont; R. L. Henry, Houston.

SCHOOL BOY IS KILLED BY CHUM IN QUARREL

McALESTER, Okla., Nov. 1.—A fatal charge of murder was filed against Hobson Hays, 15, here today following the death early today of Lefflore Evans, 16, as a result of knife wounds inflicted by Hays during a quarrel at McAlester High school late yesterday.

Both boys were students of the high school and had been chums. Their quarrel was termed a "boys' quarrel" by their friends.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (kerosene oil).

The inventor, J. T. Johnson, 620 V. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money it is $250 to $500 per month.—A2.

H. M. HUBER

Contracting Painter and Paperhanger
Phones 498 and 2067-W

NEDERLAND HAS BUILDING BOOM

City Has Average of Two New Homes a Week

NEDERLAND, Texas, Nov. 1.—With an average of two new residences a week here, the latest dwellings under construction are those of Cornelius Dornbos and T. G. Mosley, while the home of Mr. Henderson, of Port Arthur, has just been completed in the Humphreys Heights addition, and will be occupied next week. It is announced.

The Dornbos residence, situated in Main street directly in front of the DeLong garage, is a modern structure and will be completed soon. The Mosley dwelling is being built in the W. K. McCauley addition near the new high school. W. M. Parker is contractor for the latter structure. The Henderson home was erected by Gilbert and Boyd.

PORT ARTHUR DRUGGIST BUYS NEDERLAND STORE

NEDERLAND, Texas, Nov. 1.—It was announced here today that J. M. Caplan, formerly connected with a drug store in Port Arthur, had purchased stock in the Twin City Drug company at Nederland from G. L. Moore, and will take charge of the establishment at once.

The amount involved in the transaction was not made public. No announcement as to whether Mr. Moore would retire from business, or open some other establishment here was made.

W. T. LANDRY TO HAVE SHOP IN NEDERLAND

NEDERLAND, Texas, Nov. 1.—With the business growth that Nederland is enjoying, additional business establishments are being opened here, the latest announced today being that of W. T. Landry, who will conduct a first-class barber shop in the Ware building in the near future. Fixtures for the place are already in the building, having been shipped here from Beaumont, where Landry formerly conducted a shop.

JUDGE OAKLEY MOVES INTO NEW OFFICES

NEDERLAND, Texas, Nov. 1.—The offices of Judge W. M. Oakley, justice of peace here, have been removed from the hostelry to the Ware building, Judge Oakley installing a complete outfit of new fixtures.

NEDERLAND GETS TWO NEW ENTERPRISES

NEDERLAND, Texas, Nov. 1.—Two new business enterprises have been opened in the Ware building at Nederland during the past week, the Cascade laundry of Port Arthur having opened a branch agency here, while the Lewis tailor shop has also been opened for business.

MRS. PARKER GAINING FOLLOWING OPERATION

NEDERLAND, Texas, Nov. 1.—Mrs. W. M. Parker, who has been confined to her bed in Hotel Dieu following an operation, is reported here as being improved. It is thought Mrs. Parker will be returned to her home in Nederland within the next 10 days.

W. H. NEWTON OPENS NEW GENERAL STORE

NEDERLAND, Texas, Nov. 1.—Among other establishments which have opened here recently is the Newton general merchandise store, which occupies a new structure adjacent to the Majestic theatre.

MRS. BLACK ENTERTAINS WITH CARD PARTY

NEDERLAND, Texas, Nov. 1.—Mrs. J. L. Black entertained at her home on Friday afternoon with a card party.

PT. ARTHUR DOCTORS OPEN NEW OFFICE

NEDERLAND, Texas, Nov. 1.—Offices of Dr. B. E. Chambers and Dr. W. T. McAlpin, former Port Arthurians, have been opened here in new buildings erected by John Ware on the Ware corner, Main street. Dr. Chambers is a specialist, while Dr. McAlpin is a dentist.

Nederland Notes

Members of the Thursday Book club were delightfully entertained on Thursday by Mrs. J. L. Barnham. A yellow and black color predominated in the living and dining rooms where four tables were arranged for refreshments. For success in the games Mrs. Jim Ritter was high and Mrs. Morgan consolation. Plate favors were yellow and black boxes holding candles. A salad course was served to members. Mesdames J. M. Carter, R. D. Davidson, J. E. Williamson, James Burnin, C. L. Freeman, A. S. Chestnut, C. T. Ingeversen, John Koper, J. B. Cooke, Jr., Miss Angelina Kaper and guests, Mrs. O. H. McDonald, Mrs. J. H. Haislip, Morgan, George Roach, and Mrs. J. E. Ritter.

A charming hospitality of the week was the masquerade party given by Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hiatt at their pretty home in Humphreys Row. The home was beautifully decorated in Halloween symbols. The mellow glow of the lights added a weird atmosphere to the costumes worn by the members of the Friday Bridge club and their husbands who were guests. Many contests were enjoyed. Mrs. J. M. Carter won in the pumpkin contest, A. S. Chestnut received "booby" and Mrs. Elbert Ingeversen first prize. For the best costumes W. K. McCauley won first and J. B. Cooke, Jr., second. Mrs. H. L. Ingram first for the ladies, and Mrs. Hiatt second, each receiving a prize. Refreshments in Halloween motif were served to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cooke, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. K. McCauley, Mr. and Mrs. George Roach, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Chestnut, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Ingeversen, Mr. and Mrs. George Beard, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ingram, Miss Angelina Kaper, Mr. O. H. McDonald, Mrs. J. M. Carter, Mrs. Vanter, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Hackworth, and Mr. and Mrs. Hiatt.

The pretty new home of Mrs. J. L. Black was prettily decorated in Halloween colors and symbols on Friday afternoon when she entertained the members of the Friday Bridge club from 2 until 4 o'clock. For high Mrs. J. M. Carter won, and consolation fell to Miss Teresa Kaper. A dainty salad course was offered Mesdames R. D. Dawson, J. E. Williamson, J. M. Carter, J. E. Williamson, A. S. Chestnut, George Beard, Willard Hiatt, Miss Angelina Kaper, Miss Teresa Kaper, and the hostess, Mrs. Black. Mrs. George Beard will entertain the club next Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. McCauley spent the week end in Houston attending to business.

Mrs. E. B. Dohman and Mrs. Fred Netterville were shopping in Beaumont Thursday.

The Nederland Parent-Teachers association will meet at the grammar school Monday afternoon at 3:15. A full attendance is desired.

Mrs. John Kaper and daughter spent Wednesday in Sabine.

James McNeill left Friday night for Dallas to spend the week end. He will be accompanied home by Mrs. McNeill who has been spending two weeks in Dallas and Waco.

The ladies of the Christian church will serve dinner and hold a bazaar Tuesday, Nov. 4 in the Haislip building.

The Methodist Missionary society held a rummage sale in Beaumont Friday and a nest sum was realized. Mrs. W. H. Gandy delightfully entertained the Art and Needlecraft club at her home Friday afternoon. Fancy work formed the chief diversion for the afternoon. Tempting refreshments were served to Mesdames Huffman, Verner, Carroll, Kaper, Parker and Gandy.

On Friday night Miss Adriane Roach proved herself a charming little hostess when she entertained a number of young folks with a Halloween party. Many games and contests were enjoyed by twenty guests. Dainty refreshments were enjoyed at a late hour.

DOGS FOIL ROBBERS AT GROCERY STORE

PORT NECHES, Nov. 1.—Attempt to rob the Holmes grocery last Tuesday morning was frustrated by the barking of dogs which scared two prowlers seen on the store porch by neighbors.

When the dogs began to bark, the prowlers fled.

CISTERNS GOING DRY IN PORT NECHES

PORT NECHES, Nov. 1.—Drought is affecting this city more than any time in the memory of the oldest residents, not an inch of rainfall being recorded here since June.

Stock water is at a premium and many cisterns are reported dry. Refineries have not reported any serious handicap through lack of water.

'FIGHTING PARSON' ENDS PORT NECHES REVIVAL

PORT NECHES, Nov. 1.—One of the most successful revivals in the history of Port Neches churches was closed here last Sunday evening when Rev. K. C. Minter, evangelist for this district, preached the last of a series of sermons at the First Methodist church.

Rev. Minter, prominent in politics and characterized as "The Fighting Parson," had recited crowds every night of the revival and standing room was at a premium. Many special services were held and all phases of church work was revived by the meeting.

HUNDREDS OF KLANSMEN MEET AT PORT NECHES

PORT NECHES, Nov. 1.—One of the largest gatherings in the history of Port Neches was held Friday afternoon and night when thousands of klansmen and their families from many cities and towns in this section gathered for a picnic and for initiation exercises by the women of the Ku Klux Klan.

Automobiles by hundreds passed through during the afternoon and night. Klans represented were from Port Arthur, Beaumont, Orange, Silsbee, Jasper, Hall and Port Neches.

JAMES H. HESLAR IS MARRIED AT MUSKOGEE

Special to The News. PORT NECHES, Nov. 1.—A recent wedding of local interest was that of Miss Pearl Julien and James H. Heslar, assistant superintendent of the Pure Oil company here. The ceremony was performed at Muskogee, Okla.

Following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Heslar spent their honeymoon at San Antonio. On return here Mrs. Heslar has been the guest at several parties in her honor. The couple will make their home at Smith's Bluff.

BANK HOLIDAY NOTICE

The Banks of Port Arthur will observe the following Legal Holiday and will not be open for business on the below mentioned day, to-wit:

Tuesday, November 4, 1924

ELECTION DAY

First National Bank
Merchants National Bank
Seaboard State Bank & Trust Co.
Holland Texas Hypotheek Bank

Join Our Xmas Club

A small deposit will reserve your doll for Xmas. Select your doll now while our stock is complete.

Join Our Doll Buggy Club

We have now on display 60 patterns open stock dinner ware, sets from $9.48 up to $125.00 Set

Join our dinnerware club, select your pattern, make a small deposit and pay something each week. Xmas Eve we will deliver you the set. The prices are the same as if you had paid all cash.

SPECIAL MONDAY, NOV. 3RD

2 Blue candle sticks and bowl to match, complete

$1.48

Phone 354

WELLER'S

439 Austin

THE SEASON'S EVENT BIG RUG SALE STARTING MONDAY

This is one of the most important sales we have ever held. Every Rug in our immense stock will go at ridiculously low prices. You will have a wonderfully wide assortment from which to make your selections. Among the rugs you will see a new range of designs in the best domestic weaves. Dyed in the yarn with fast color dyes. We are going to move these rugs—we don't care about price. They must make room for our large incoming stock. Get here early tomorrow morning. Secure those rugs you have needed so long. At the prices we are quoting during this sale you can easily afford to buy several rugs.

Gorgeous Velvets

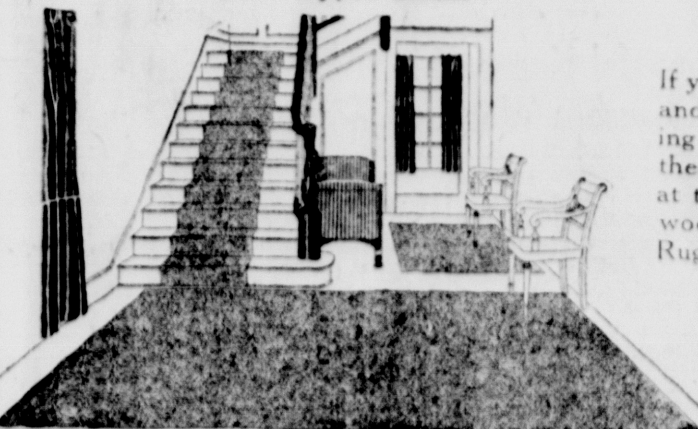

For All Seasons

These Waite Grass Rugs are designed by eminent interior decorators. They come in almost every color and pattern imaginable. 9x12 Grass Rugs.

$3.75 and up

Klearflax
LINEN RUGS & CARPETING

Chosen by decorators for year-round use in all rooms, on account of its lovely linen colors! Woven entirely of linen, Klearflax gives you exceptional wear. Special orders—samples from which to make your selections.

For Hard Use
WOOL FIBRE

If you want a rug to stand hard wear and at the same time, a good looking rug, you had better look over these wool fibres we are featuring at these extremely low prices. 9x12 wool fibre Rugs

See Our Window Display
It's a Treat

PHOENIX
FURNITURE CO. OF PORT ARTHUR

525 Procter "The Home of Good Furniture" Phone 600

This Is the Most Gigantic Rug Sale
Ever Attempted
In Port Arthur

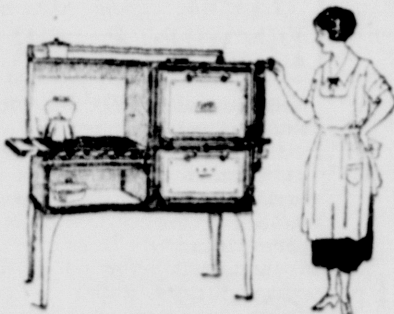

IF YOU DON'T CARE HOW You Spend Your Husband's Money

Use Your Gas Stove Oven for Heating.

It Is the Most Extravagant Means of Wasting Gas

OVENS are built to HOLD HEAT.
HEATERS are built to THROW OUT HEAT.

Bake with your Oven—Heat with your Heater.

The Gas Company Is Paying Good Money for this ad in the interest of reducing the income derived from Gas which is wasted.

LORAIN
OVEN HEAT REGULATOR

Please Burn Gas
Properly

Gas Stoves, Oil Stoves Converted to Gas and Gas Connections on Easy Terms

Peoples Gas Co.

422 5th St.

Phone 313

WEINSTEIN'S BIG SLAUGHTER SALE

BEGINS

Wednesday, November 5th

ALL STAPLE MERCHANDISE WILL BE SOLD AT SLAUGHTERED PRICES

We did not buy any cheap merchandise for this sale.
All merchandise sold will be strictly first class.

Watch for Our Prices in Tuesday's News

Sam Weinstein

Leader of Low Prices

Old Dope Bucket Certainly Got a Spilling Yesterday When the Owls, Baylor, Houston and Mississippi Aggies Kicked the Can Over

Pirates Doped to Beat DeQuincy Here Today

Bulldogs Bringing 160-Pound Club to Pt. Arthur Today

McCanns Replaces Carter at Quarter for Locals; Latter Shifted to Half for Louisiana Clash On Pleasure Pier Field at 3:30

The probable lineup today:

Pirates	Position	Bulldogs
Stewart	1c	Kelly
Pittman	1c	Kavanaugh
Proffitt	1c	Thitt
Peavoto	1c	Cecil Ross
Lacey	1c	Willack
King	1c	Barber
Prejean	1c	L. Pharris
McCanns	1c	Ray
Donaldson	1c	H. Pharris
Carter	1c	Wallace
Morgan	1c	Charlie Ross

BY BILL ARCHER
The News Sport Editor

ALL the football platters haven't been dished out yet. Today, in Port Arthur, it's the Pirates versus the Gulf Coast Bulldogs from DeQuincy, La., and if that isn't an edible dish for grid followers here, somebody's not hungry.

The game starts at 3:30 o'clock on the field at Pleasure Pier. Elam, former Pirate himself and once star with the Longhorns at Texas University, will officiate.

Timekeepers Chosen
The host about a timekeeper has been solved. George Gule, who watches the clock dial for the Yellow-jackets most all the time, agreed yesterday to hold the time for Port Arthur.

Can DeQuincy play football? Well, since the writer hasn't seen DeQuincy play, the only thing we can pass on to you is the fact that DeQuincy has played five games, won four and lost one, the latter being lost to the South Park College Brahmins. However, the loss to the Brahmins shouldn't be held against the Bulldogs, since their encounter was staged early in the season, and the Louisiana boys hadn't much opposition at that time.

Independents Drubbed
The four wins the visitors claim are all over independent football machines, and here's what the manager of the DeQuincy boys, who witnessed the game between the Pirates and the Galveston Hurricanes here last Sunday, has to say about his charges: "DeQuincy will put up a stiffer, better game than Galveston."

Whether that's the dope remains to be seen. And for the facts, they'll be available behind the entrance gates at Pleasure Pier this afternoon.

The Pirates and the Bulldogs will hit the scales weighing about the same for an average. Port Arthur's independent gridsters weigh around 160 pounds to the man. DeQuincy's boys will average 160.

Pirates Have Edge
Port Arthur is picked as the favorite, with probably a team more seasoned than the visiting contingent, although not having played as much this year. The Pirates' edge comes in by virtue of the fact that the local boys have all starred at some time or another with some well-known squad.

This afternoon, the Pirates will present Mr. McCanns, a newcomer from Mississippi, who will fill Doc Carter's shoes at quarterback. Carter has been shifted to right half.

Neither Penn Sandefur, Spot Hanna nor Earl LeBlanc will start today's game. Sandefur is out with a few bum teeth, just why Hanna will not start has not been announced. LeBlanc will probably not play again this season, it being announced that he is contemplating quitting football altogether.

Absence of this trio of stars may become a handicap to Port Arthur, but the probabilities are that the locals will cop the visitors by not less than two touchdowns.

Lookabaugh Stars in 6-0 Game Saturday
STILLWATER, Okla., Nov. 14.—For the second time in the history of both schools, the Oklahoma University football squad fell before their old opponent, the Oklahoma Aggies, here today, 6 to 0.

Rice Owls Humble Proud Texas Steers 19-6

Rice Owls Who Crushed Texas Longhorns Saturday On Gridiron in Houston

Sitting, left to right—Hopkins, back, 145; Moore, end, 170; Evans, line, 185; Matthews, guard, 180; Culin, back, 155; Winston, end, 162; Rich, back, 160.
Kneeling—Morgan, guard, 176; Smith (captain), back, 171; Hale, end and back, 148; Sullivan, back, 169; Williams, line, 172; Ray, guard, 175; Heyek, line, 178; Dugan, end, 160.

Yesterday's Results

- At Ithaca—Cornell 14; Columbia 0.
- At New York—Fordham 27; New York 0.
- At Syracuse—Pittsburgh 7; Syracuse 0.
- At Philadelphia—Penn 6; La Fayette 0.
- At Hanover—Dartmouth 10; Brown 0.
- At Amherst—Massachusetts Aggies 17; Amherst 7.
- At Grinnell—Grinnell 6; Coe 0.
- At Lincoln—Nebraska 14; Missouri 6.
- At Cleveland—John Carroll 17; Lombard 0.
- At Hanover—Hanover 38; Evansville College 0.
- At Crawfordsville—Wabash 23; Franklin 7.
- At St. Louis—St. Louis 18; Xavier 7.
- At Beaver Falls—Geneva 0; Thiel 7.
- At Chicago—Loyola 6; Missouri Mines 0.
- At Montgomery—Alabama 61; Mississippi 0.
- At New Orleans—Mississippi A. & M. 14; Tulane 6.
- At Burlington—Holy Cross 27; Vermont 0.
- At Boston—Boston College 34; Haskell 7.
- At Williamstown—Williams 12; Union 0.
- At Brunswick—Rutgers 20; E. M. 6.
- At Hamilton—Colgate 52; Providence College 0.
- At Middletown—Tufts 13; Wesleyan 0.
- At Carlisle—Gettysburg 20; Dickinson 12.
- At Urbana—Illinois 36; Iowa 0.
- At Chicago—Purdue 6; Chicago 19.
- At Evanston—Indiana 7; Northwestern 17.
- At Milwaukee—Creighton 21; Marquette 7.
- At Detroit—W. & J. 18; Detroit 6.
- At Indianapolis—DePaul 0; Butler 26.
- At New Haven—Yale 7; Army 7.
- At Cambridge—Harvard 13; Boston University 0.
- At Princeton—Princeton 14; Swarthmore 0.
- At Fort Worth—S. M. U. 6; T. C. U. 0.
- At Houston—Rice 19; Texas 6.
- At Evanston—Northwestern 17; Indiana 7.
- At Pittsburgh—Carnegie Tech 27; Western Maryland 0.
- At Chicago—Chicago 19; Purdue 6.
- At Minneapolis—Michigan 13; Minnesota 0.
- At Morgantown—West Virginia 13; Bethany 6.
- At Chapel Hill—South Carolina 13; Wake Forest 0.
- At Baton Rouge—Arkansas 10; L. S. U. 7.
- At Salem—College of Idaho 14; Williamson 13.
- At Reno—Nevada 13; Arizona 14.

Powerful Kansas 11 Crushes Washington

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 1.—The powerful football eleven of Kansas University crushed the Washington university team here this afternoon by a score of 11 to 0. It was not quite as bad as last year's game at Lawrence, which the Jayhawkers won, 53 to 0. An enthusiastic crowd of 6,000 watched the Washington homecoming game.

LOUISIANA POLY IN LOSS TO STEDWARDS

AUSTIN, Nov. 1.—Stedwards college defeated Louisiana Poly here today, 28 to 12. The Saints at every stage of the contest were in trouble.

GODS OF LUCK HAVE BEEN TOO GRACIOUS TO KIRKWOOD

By NEA Service
BOSTON, Nov. 1.—Joe Kirkwood has had things too easy. This is offered as an explanation for the failure of the greatest shot-maker ever known to golf to win a big championship.

USE BOARD TO REPORT CLASH

Grid-Graph Scoreboard For S.M.U.-Razorback Tilt

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.
DALLAS, Nov. 1.—After failing in their efforts to have the football game with Arkansas university transferred to Dallas, the athletic council of Southern Methodist university has arranged to show the game here at Owenby Oval with one of the famous electric grid-graph scoreboards for the special benefit of the students and Dallas fans who are not able to make the trip to Fayetteville.

After a thorough investigation of the scoreboard by the members of the athletic council they have decided that it is the nearest thing next to a real football game that telegraph, instruments and electricity will produce. Great crowds have witnessed the big games in the east, especially the one operated by Tex Rickard in Madison Square Garden in New York City.

It is said by those who have had the pleasure of watching a game from one of these scoreboards that it is much better than the best of the baseball scoreboards. It shows each player's part, the plays, and gives the yardage, line out, time to play, fumbles, kicks, interceptions and other special things that happen on the field of play.

Dope was completely upset for the game was predicted to come out in favor of the Bears by one lone field goal. But the Bears added their touchdowns to the field goal which was also made in the fourth quarter by the doughy Pittman from the 40-yard line. It barely cleared the cross bar and there was doubt until Referee Rump threw up his arms giving the Bears the score.

IRISH DEFEAT GEORGIA TECH

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 1.—A perfect running, smooth-hitting Notre Dame swamped a hard-fighting, desperate Golden Tornado 31 to 3, on Carter Field today.

FIRST CHAMPION

By defeating Center, 50 to 6 last week, Jasper High wins the distinction of being the first school in the state interscholastic league to win a district football title. Announcement was made at headquarters in Austin the past week.

Pittman, Playing Last Year, Races 55 Yards To Turn Bruin Tables

Dope Gets Complete Upset As Baylor Trims Farmers 15 to 7 Before Howling Throng of Fans

WACO, Texas, Nov. 1.—Baylor's purpose is accomplished. Before a screaming, mad-dened crowd of wild football fans, the Baylor Bears triumphed over the Texas Farmers today by a score of 15 to 7. The game was a heart-breaking one for the Aggies to lose and a marked victory for the Bruins.

The winning score came in the fourth quarter when Captain Pittman, playing his last game against the Texas Farmers, picked up the ball which Fay Wilson fumbled and ran 55 yards for a touchdown. It was a magnificent run, only two men being near enough to stop the Bear captain, one being taken care of by interference and the other missing a flying tackle near the goal line.

Dope was completely upset for the game was predicted to come out in favor of the Bears by one lone field goal. But the Bears added their touchdowns to the field goal which was also made in the fourth quarter by the doughy Pittman from the 40-yard line. It barely cleared the cross bar and there was doubt until Referee Rump threw up his arms giving the Bears the score.

CORNHUSKERS TRIM MISSOURI

MEMORIAL STADIUM, LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 1.—Brilliant turning of punts by Bloodgood, Husker pilot, that paved the way for one touchdown and a puny 10-yard punt that Richardson, Missouri tackle, sent up in front of his own goal posts gave Nebraska a 14 to 6 victory over Missouri here this afternoon.

BANQUET GRIDDERS

ROCKDALE, Texas.—Citizens of Rockdale were hosts to the local high school gridsters at a banquet Friday night.

PITCHER WEDS

GALESBURG, Ill.—Harold G. Carlson, hurler in the Philadelphia National league staff, was married to Miss Eva Nelson of Altona, near here.

COMMISSION SUE

NEW YORK.—Mike McGuire has instituted suit against the New York Athletic commission for $250,000 damages on the charge that he has been prevented from obtaining a license to box in this state. McGuire is the world's lightweight champion.

AERIAL ATTACK FEATURES GAME

State's Comeback Halted In Last Quarter

BY L. L. ENGLEKING
HOUSTON, Nov. 1.—Surely the shadows of 1917 walk on the Rice campus here tonight, memories of the Owl heroes who seven years ago defeated the proud University of Texas Longhorns 13 to 0.

Today the gay lady of fortune who makes history thought that it was time to tread in the gray footsteps of the past and tonight Rice Institute and Houston are in one wild outburst of joy at a 19 to 6 victory over the Longhorns. There was no question of breaks to today's affair, for Rice clearly and undisputedly outplayed the state university stalwarts in every branch of the game.

Once the gay lady of fortune smiled at the Orange and White team in her capricious fashion, and Texas scored. Try, try and then try again surely must be in the old copy books, and Doc Stewart kept on plugging away. The Longhorns threw longer passes than ever today but they were too long or too short. But every ace in the hole has its day, the lady of fortune must have thought as the Texas looks on their side of the field wearily gazed at a massive 19 to 0 against the scoreboard at the end of the field. The law averages ran true to form, after playing tag for a long time, but it paid when it did come true.

Gentlemen, a 70 yard gain on a forward pass is the bright spot tonight on the stained epaulettes of Texas U. Fred Thompson shot a 30-yard pass to Stud Wright very late in the third period. Wright, who had been kept warm trotting off and on the field as a substitute, was on the receiving end. It was a beautiful catch, as the alleged classics of the gridiron say, and Wright tore out like Man o' War himself for the distant goal line. One white line after another passed under his swift-moving feet until 40 yards had been made. It was a touchdown. Wright missed the try for point on a place kick that was a bit too slow.

The hardest blow of all came in the last period when two passes in succession gained 75 yards—almost. With only six minutes left to play, Newell gained 45 yards on a pass, putting the ball on the Rice 30-yard line. There wasn't any hesitating by Stud Wright who he passed again on the next down—in fact, over all of every three plays were passes. Allen gathered in the long spiral and was off on a mad dash. He shook off two tacklers and was across the goal line when Headlinesman Dwyer called the ball back for an offside penalty.

That tells the story of what Texas did as elaborately as could be wished, because that was all there was to it. Today's game probably holds the world's record for total number of passes with 71—44 by Texas and 27 by Rice. Texas completed 11 passes, had 7 intercepted and 26 were incomplete. Rice completed an even dozen passes, three were intercepted and 12 were incomplete.

Frank "Cotton" Dayvault, the veteran in the Longhorn line, went out five minutes after the game started. It didn't take him a few minutes for Rice is threatened in a serious fashion. A 17-yard pass, Wilford to Woods, started an attack that went down to the 12-yard line. But a pass on the fourth down across the goal line failed, and the Texas fans settled down. This was going to be a tough fight, no doubt about it, they thought.

Pittman was standing on his own goal line as Woods shot a pass to Captain Harvey Smith, who made it safely through the 27 yards of hostile territory to the goal line. It was eminently fitting for the Rice graciousness and poise to allow the captain to make the first touchdown, although that consideration never entered Underwood's mind when he called signals. Wilford place-kicked the extra point and only six minutes of the quarter was gone. Four more minutes of play passed when the score leaped to 13 to 0. Rice's forward passes had become a chronic complaint with the Longhorns.

Forward passes were again responsible for a dazzling Rice advance early in the third period. The ball had been successively to the 17-yard line when two successive 5-yard penalties after the Owls had won their first down by inches stung them to the quick and a pass, Wilford to Hale, netted 27 yards to a touchdown. Place-kick for the extra point was again missed by Wilford.

The lineup:
TEXAS.....RICE.
Allen.....End.....Hale
Sprague.....Tackle.....Heyek
Berry.....Guard.....Ray
T. Thompson.....Center.....Underwood
Dayvault.....Guard.....Hedlin
Pfanckhue.....Tackle.....Williams
Stegast.....End.....Terrell
Foster.....Quarter.....Hopkins
Shearer.....Half.....Wilford
F. Thompson.....Half.....Wood
Marley.....Full.....C. Smith
Substitutions: Texas—Moore for Dayvault, Schuchardt for Marley, Newell for Stegast, Smith for Foster, Randolph for T. Thompson, T. Thompson for Pfanckhue, Wood for Moore, Wright for Smith, Foster for Wright, Pfanckhue for Ruppell, Moore for Gooch, Wright for Shearer, Penney for Stegast, Haller, Slover, Rice—Nash for Halpkins.
Officials: Referee, Sweeney; umpire, Vonne (Cassile), head linesman, Proctor (T. C. U.)

Now They're Picking Rice to Trim the Mustangs and Tangle Up Southwestern Conference in Another Knot for 1924 Honors

Lax Punts Cost Port Arthur Houston High Clash

BUT JACKETS FIGHT CENTRAL SQUAD TO END

Iglesias, Trow, Taylor, Play Starling Game

BY L. L. ENGLEKING
Houston, Texas, Nov. 1.—You may have the best football team in the world, and still not have a chance in the wide, wide world if you have no punter. None of the wise men said this, but this goes as an axiom of the gridiron that the Port Arthur Yellowjackets found only too true this morning as the boys fought through almost three hours against Houston's superior team and lost, 17 to 0.

It was a clean-cut victory, and there wasn't a doubt about it. Central High, leading against inferior teams all season, snipped into line against Port Arthur and showed brilliantly.

Punts Fall Short
The punting of Iglesias, Port Arthur's own "Molicky," was rather below par today, and therein almost entirely lies the cause of the cruel Yellowjacket defeat. The line may not be able to withstand the plunging of powerful backs consistently, but with a strong punter a team can offer an almost insurmountable defense.

No criticism is needed against the Yellowjackets, for they fought and fought and gave all they had, but it wasn't enough. The defeat stung the boys to the quick; it was hard for them to take. Coming on the field with tears filling their eyes following the last gathering around the coaches, the boys were out to win, but it needed only a few minutes to show that they were up against a better team.

Houston Crew Scores
However, the first quarter rocked along scorelessly, and in the second quarter Houston smashed across 10 points, and made 7 more in the third. Port Arthur had no chance during the first half to cut loose with her offense, failing to make a first down until the third period, when three were made in quick succession on a desperate forward passing attack from deep in Yellowjacket territory—ordinarily a hazardous procedure.

For the Yellowjackets practically all the gains were made by Taylor, Prejean and Crow. It was in the second half that Port Arthur had a chance to cut loose with an offensive and Iglesias started an aerial drive that carried his team out of their own territory to midfield where a pass was intercepted and the tide turned. It was then that Taylor was pulled back from the line to play in Schlicker's place at halfback. "Slack" moving up into the line. And, oh, what a "warhorse" Taylor went through that Houston line. The "Warhorse" made anywhere from one to five or six yards on each attempt. It was a brave threat that Port Arthur made in the fourth quarter, the ball being swept to the 10-yard line on passes and Taylor's line plunging. But with 10 yards to go Iglesias preferred to try for a field goal instead of kicking all on another pass on fourth down. The dropkick was wide and low.

Yellowjacket Threat
Again in the fourth quarter Port Arthur carried the ball down to Houston's 35-yard line, but a pass was intercepted and the last serious chance to score was stopped. And thus it was that the Yellowjackets had not even the solace of a heartless 3 points to carry back home to night.

Possibly many of the 200 Port Arthur supporters, featured by the loyal singing Yellowjacket Supporters club of girls dressed in their colors of gold and maroon, were surprised at the strength of Houston. But Central High was exactly the team that had been expected, and Port Arthur simply couldn't come up to the scratch. Port Arthur was not out-weighted, but there was simply no stopping those ripping Houston backs, Kattman, Sawyer, Boyles and Blakeley—they were all alike—were husky but not heavy, and hard as nails. A pretty spectacle of line plunging was offered by Houston. Now it would be a buck through the middle of the line, and again it would be a flying crash over tackle, and once more the flying feet of Houston Central would be coming around end. It was indeed a fleet backfield that defeated Port Arthur.

Line Plunges Weaken
As for line plunging, Port Arthur was hopeless with the exception of Taylor. But that good old "Warhorse" did carry that ball whenever he took it, and the Yellowjacket passing attack was something Houston could not solve. Crow kept up his reputation as star Yellowjacket end. Of course you know "Buzard," tall black-haired fellow, generally rather quiet, but a fighting demon when he's out on the football field—rather a good-looking high school boy with a fighting football heart. He played the game of his life for Port Arthur today on the offense. One time it would be Prejean, tall, gangling back, oozing through the line or huddling a pass, and the next time it would be "Buzard" snatching the ball out of

Here Thursday

Jim Stewart who meets Tony Bernardi here in finish bill Thursday, November 6.

But when it came to going down under the punts the Yellowjacket line was almost completely boxed in. They had met their superiors on that point of football finesse. Iglesias' punts were weak enough as it was, but when the tackles and ends could not break loose to save the distance from being reeled right back again, the case was almost hopeless.

Houston Backs Fast
The line did all it could, but it wasn't enough, and the brings back the case, individually and collectively, of those four ripping backs—Kattman, Sawyer, Boyles and Blakeley. And of these four the greatest were Kattman and Sawyer—just simply too much speed and compact well-trained muscle.

Iglesias deserves little blame for today's loss—not a member of the team was there but that fourth hard for previous victories. But the game's the thing, and a man's a man, and all that sort of thing, for surely it won't be long before the world will never know the difference regarding what happened here today. Port Arthur has a perfect right to be as proud of her boys in defeat as in the red flush of youth's victory.

Second Quarter Disaster
The second quarter was the disastrous period of the game for Port Arthur. Throughout the first period the ball went back and forth on punts, staying in Yellowjacket territory constantly because of almost always being unable to hold down the Houston distance on punt returns and short kicking by "Molicky." Kattman, on the other hand, has splendid success with his punts, sending them soaring down the field out of bounds on Port Arthur's 10-yard or 15-yard line, a difficult thing for a punter to achieve consistently.

Then came that fourth period that put Houston ahead 10 points. Kattman started off by fumbling. Morgan's kick on his own 8-yard line, Iglesias punting out only to have the ball returned to the 27-yard line. Kattman reeled off five yards around end, two more plays gained only a yard, and Kattman politely drew back and performed the expected pace-kick for three points. It was easily made, and the stands, packed with 2,000, went wild.

Unexpected Reeled Off
On the following kickoff, which went across the goal line, Iglesias received "Molicky" hesitated a moment, but only a moment, and then started running the kick back. Spectators were surprised at this unexpected turn, for a quarterback may be under orders to run back a punt striking on the gridiron, but the kickoff went across the last white line this time. At any rate, Iglesias was stopped on his 12-yard line, whereas he would have been given the customary 20 yards if no return had been made.

Then came the greatest tragedy of football—a blocked punt. Coles, Houston end, was down on "Molicky" and blocked the kick behind the goal line. But fortune, the faded game, smiled, or perhaps she merely grinned sardonically, on Port Arthur. Tommy Morgan recovered and started a runner from behind that danger zone back of his own goal line. It was a remarkable performance by Morgan. He eluded two tacklers and reached five yards of safety before he was downed.

Ends Boxed In
But the seemingly assured safety goal of two points was shortly converted into a touchdown by Houston. Iglesias punted to his 28-yard line, still dangerous territory in itself, and Blakeley didn't do a thing but race back 15 yards, almost destroying the meager effect of the punt. This is merely a fair sample

If You Need
ICE
COAL
WOOD
PHONE
114 or 164
PORT ARTHUR
ICE CO.
Henry Mills, Mgr.

Bernardi and Stewart Meet At Elks Arena November 6

Match Postponed When Wop Leaves for Little Rock to Fulfill Contract Previously Signed

TONY BERNARDI, "The Gas House Wop," will meet Jim Stewart, husky heavyweight grappler, in the Elks theatre arena on Thursday night, November 6. The match was originally announced for Monday, November 3, but due to a match Bernardi had contracted to be staged in Little Rock, and because of the fact that he felt unable to make the long trip to Little Rock and back in time for his contest with Stewart, promoters in charge of the affair re-matched the pair for November 6.

Bernardi is wintering in Port Arthur, and has announced that he will be hitting a whang-bang stride the remainder of the season against all comers. It is Tony's hope to meet Paul Jones, the Houston sensation, on the local mats again, and "The Wop" promises that if he is so fortunate, Jones will come off second best. That, however, remains to be seen.

Stewart Is Husky
Stewart is a big chap, hits the scales at 190 pounds, and likes to rough it up about as much as "the Wop" likes it. Stewart and Tony have crossed arms and mixed legs in the squared circle a few times before—one over in Houston at which time Stewart downed the Italian grappler, and a time or two over at the Athletic show on Pleasure Pier during the Fair, when Stewart was sent into Tony's practice work for Tony. Incidentally, Tony got enough of Stewart, and quit using the Athletic show as a training ground.

Considerable discussion regarding the match is understood to have developed here since the contest was billed, and the grapplers and promoters are understood to have been at outs regarding the $200 side bet for which the two men agreed to clash. Both Stewart and Bernardi put up their money, but it is rumored that Tony's practice work for Tony, which was in charge of the match, objected to any side betting or wrestling for a purse put up by the contestants.

However, Tony says that "if we wrestle at all, we'll most certainly wrestle for the purse."

And since Stewart seems to be of the same opinion, it looks as if there will be considerable argument when the pair of huskies tangle up.

of how Port Arthur was defeated 17 to 0 despite all her bravery for lack of efficient punting, hampered even more because ends couldn't for the world save themselves from being "boxed in," as the football boys say.

Box went in for Taylor immediately after the touchdown, and stayed in for the few remaining minutes of the period, Taylor going back as the last half opened. Only the timekeeper's gun saved Port Arthur from another stinging touchdown in this period. A slight misjudging of the distance of a punt by Iglesias put a Houston punt for full distance on the Yellowjacket 10-yard line. "Molicky" immediately punted out, and for once the distance stood as Taylor made a beautiful tackle on the 40-yard line. Eight yards off end by Sawyer and a pass by Houston, Kattman to Devors, was carried down to Port Arthur's five-yard line. Only a pretty tackle by Iglesias, the safety man, saved a score. On two or three occasions "Molicky" saved a runner from crossing the goal line by perfect tackles in his safety position. Iglesias' tackling was above reproach—far above reproach. Boyles tried the center of the line and made no gains, and then came a piece of fortune when the timekeeper fired his pistol. The sound must have been heard at least three country blocks, Port Arthur's supporters thought, such a strain did it relieve.

Then came Port Arthur's rise of hopes. Houston made two first downs from scrimmage at the half. Port Arthur had made none. Although the count of first downs means not a thing in the world, today it showed the fighting comeback, the game never-say-die fighting spirit shown by the Yellowjackets, goaded to desperation by Houston's fierce attack. The final count of first downs showed Port Arthur had made six from scrimmage, Houston nine for the entire game.

The story of Houston's other touchdown is simple. Kattman's long punt out of bounds gave Port Arthur the ball on her own 14-yard line, Taylor

COAL
Cement
Sand—Gravel
Brick—Tile
Metal Lath
Lime—Plaster
Sewer Pipe
Transfer—Moving Storage
We Give Service
J. IMHOFF & SONS
Wholesale—Retail
Phones 36 and 37

Golf AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

What causes a smothered hook? How can it be cured?

A smothered hook is caused by an incorrect grip, usually by gripping the club with the hands too far over to the right. To overcome this, the left thumb should be pointed straight down the top of the shaft. The right thumb should extend straight down the top of the shaft, in a line with the left thumb and with the ball of the right thumb resting on top of the first joint of the left thumb. Make sure that the V formed by the right forefinger and thumb is directly in line with the V formed by the left forefinger and thumb, with both V's pointing toward the right shoulder. The third and fourth finger of the right hand should loosely overlap the left forefinger. Be sure that both hands are turned far enough over to the left. It will be awkward at first, but constant swinging should overcome this.

Copyright, Associated Editors, Inc.

tried a line smash, but unfortunately just as he was on top of the line the ball slipped and Houston recovered. Then Kattman showed his splendid reserve power when he advanced the ball 4 yards on a run from a formation that was meant for a pass. But he was rushed and was forced to run. Sawyer made first down on the four-yard line. Boyles, taken out once, came back in for Kattman, but fumbled on a bad pass from center, one of possibly as many as a dozen, losing two yards. The Yellowjacket hopes rose, but faded away again when Sawyer ripped off almost four yards. There was no stopping that demon eleven, simply a stronger team. With more than two yards to go, Hoover threw himself into the air, straightened out from head and toe and was across the goal line, across the tolling mass twisting against one another in the sweating line of scrimmage. Touchdown, again!

Kattman's place-kick for extra point was low, but Port Arthur was offside on the play and the five-yard penalty gave Houston her lead, to give in near the end of the game, although he took part in a goodly portion of the splendid drive that twice carried the scrapping port city boys in striking distance, once within ten yards of a touchdown. Finally he was taken out when it was evident he had given all, and he made his way completely dazed to the sidelines. It was a hard game for Tommy, and he had trouble standing up under the hard tackling by

S. M. U. HURDLES FROGS FOR WIN

6-0 Game Chalked Up In Aerial Contest

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1.—Southern Methodist University of Dallas successfully cleared another hurdle in the race for the Southwestern Conference title by defeating Texas Christian University here today, 6 to 0.

S. M. U.'s only touchdown came shortly after the start of the third quarter when Bedford snatched up a T. C. U. fumble and sprinted 30 yards for a touchdown.

Punts, Passes Frequent
Continued punting and repeated attempts at long passes sped the ball back and forth without result during the opening quarter. Both teams were cautious and the quarter ended with the ball in S. M. U.'s possession on the T. C. U. 30-yard line.

After a plunge from the 30-yard line as the second quarter opened, Stollenwerk tried for a place kick. The kick was blocked and S. M. U. recovered on the 35-yard line. Weisman intercepted a Mustang pass on the 35-yard line, but the Horned Frogs lost the ball on a fumble. Bedford tried another place-kick and T. C. U. took the ball on their 12-yard line.

The remainder of the half developed a punting contest and a series of intercepted passes which kept the crowd on its feet. The game ended without further scoring.

Score by quarters:

S. M. U.—0 0 6 0—6.

T. C. U.—0 0 0 0—0.

Baker University Is Victor Over W.-J.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 1.—Baker university of Baldwin, Kan., won its annual clash with William Jewell college of Liberty, Mo., by a score of 10 to 0 here this afternoon. Captain Hurst of Baker in the early part of the first quarter, skirted end for 65 yards and a touchdown. He followed by drop-kicking for the extra point.

COWBOYS WIN

ABILENE, Texas.—The Simmons College Cowboys defeated Daniel Baker's Hill Billies 17 to 0 here. A field goal and touchdown in the first period led the game for Simmons.

Cavanaugh Star Coach
Major Cavanaugh of Boston college is regarded as the best one-man football coach in the country. Football fans will remember that Boston college, under Cavanaugh, after twice defeating Yale, was wiped off the Blue schedule.

BATTLE TO DRAW

WACO, Texas.—Paul Quinn Tigers and Bishop College battled to a scoreless tie here.

Houston's players, Wilmer Butaud took his place.

Houston will remember Port Arthur for one thing, and that is the way the Yellowjackets completed passes. Crow, Prejean, Morgan and Trow were scooping them right and left. If once they had their finger tips on the ball as it came down, it was their property for keeps.

Defeat was hard for the Yellowjackets to take. Coach Smith sat on the sidelines, the last gun fired, the Yellowjacket girls rushing out ready to welcome their heroes in defeat or victory, seemingly unable to take it in. And it was a hard loss, although it was a richly earned victory for Houston Central. "Be sure and wipe the floor with you," yelled Coach Penn Sautter.

And it was all over. Well done, Yellowjackets, well done, for they played with all that their minds, hearts and muscles would give, sentimental as this gesture may seem.

Play-Off in Golf Tourney At Country Club Today at 1:30

Broussard and Abshire Clash; 'Blind' Contest Announced; Prof. Evans Enrolls Mob, Draws Interest

W. W. Broussard and Leonard Abshire meet this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Country club to settle their dispute as to possession of titular honors in The News cup race.

The match is rated by golf fans of the Country club to attract a large gallery. Play will probably extend over several hours.

And in the meanwhile, there will be other golfers out at the club today trying out their strokes and limbering up in general for the next big round of play, and that's to come off Armistice day, November 11, when the club stages a blind handicap tournament.

A Handicap Race

The handicap race will extend in points from 70 to 80 for a final count, each contestant will take his handicap for play, and at the end of the tourney, a "blind" number will be drawn denoting the victor. The player holding a finishing result nearest this "blind" number will be declared winner. In order to be in the running, each player must come within the 70-to-80 limit, it is announced by officials of the club in charge of the contest.

Considerable interest in golf is developing at the club these days, and since Prof. Evans, wizard of the links, has been added to the official grounds as instructor, many of the organization's membership are turning out to play. Evans has enrolled a good sized class and has time for more. Golf enthusiasts are urged to "get out and keep fit by taking lessons."

With the Broussard-Abshire match scheduled for today, and with many fans planning to turn out and either watch from the gallery or take a few swats on the pasture themselves, only the weather man can mar the day at the Country club.

Penn State Stands Undefeated In East

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—After a day of bitter and stalwart fighting, Pennsylvania State alone is the east's undefeated grid team. Thus climbing to the top, the Philadelphia were forced to the limit in triumph over La Fayette—until today another undefeated and untied eleven—6 to 3. Syracuse, the only other Sea-board team hitherto waving the banner "victorious" was forced to accept a 7 to 7 tie with Pitt.

WANT HARVARD TILT

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—William and Mary college has requested a game with Harvard for October 31, 1925. It is understood in athletic circles that Harvard may accept the proffer.

MAKES PEOPLE SLIM!

Many of your friends think that you are too fat. You too realize it. But why, in all common sense, should you get rid of that extra 15, 20, 30 or more pounds? Feel comfortable and secure like a human being again. I am a physician licensed by the State of New York. I have treated thousands of men and women overburdened with excess flesh. I have reduced as much as 60 pounds in a month. I prescribe for you a treatment as follows:—

will, in my opinion, produce not only the loss of weight without harm, but an improvement in health. Don't take my word for it. Let me send you free my trial treatment and convince yourself. Personal attention is given to each case and you are treated exactly as if you were in my clinic.

FREE TRIAL AND INTERESTING BOOKLET

I have successfully treated thousands of patients for fat reduction.

Without Change of Diet or Unnecessary Exercise

Below are a few extracts of letters from grateful patients which bear out my statements:

Lost 76 Pounds. Mrs. O. Whitlow writes: "I was lost to power as a result of my treatment and have never felt so well in my life as I do now."

Lost 70 Pounds. Mr. S. Sanice writes: "I lost 70 pounds as a result of your treatment. I feel better in every way. I can now take long walks without becoming tired or short of breath. I thank you very much for what you have done for me."

Lost 70 Pounds. Mrs. E. Horner says: "Well, I'm glad to inform you that I have lost 70 pounds in 6 weeks."

Make up your mind this very day to get rid of that fat. Write me for my free trial treatment now, then you'll soon realize how happy you'll feel, how much better your health will be for having joined the thousands of my grateful patients who now belong to the ranks of Slim People. Don't delay. Write now for FREE Trial Treatment.

DR. R. NEWMAN

226 Fifth Avenue, Desk D42, New York City.

OLE DOPE POT BOOTED OVER

2 Upsets Feature Southwestern Conference

The dope pot received several hard boots on the basis of scores turned in from Southwestern conference games today.

Baylor University pulled the unexpected by holding the cheery and husky Texas Aggies to the short end of a 15 to 7 tally; while Rice Institute took the measure of the Texas Longhorns 19 to 6. Texas was reported to be in better condition than when they held the powerful Florida eleven to a tie at Austin a week ago.

Oklahoma Aggies stepped out of the conference long enough to measure Oklahoma University, Missouri Valley member, for a 6 to 0 defeat while Arkansas University also declared a vacation from the conference to defeat Louisiana State University 10 to 7.

S. M. U. retained her perfect seasonal record by winning from T. C. U. at Fort Worth 6 to 0.

Upon the basis of today's games, Baylor, Rice and S. M. U. were tied for conference percentage leadership.

AMES CYCLONES BEAT KANSAS AGGIES, 14-0

MANHATTAN, Kan., Nov. 1.—The Kansas Aggies went down before the Ames Cyclones here this afternoon by a score of 21 to 0. Ames got its first two points when Roberts kicked off over the goal line and an Aggie man was downed trying to advance it from behind the goal.

4 NAVY MEN OUT

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—Four star naval academy football players have been disqualified from playing for one month because of failure in their studies. Loss of the players, whose names have not been announced, will greatly weaken the possibilities of the club, it was made known.

NEGRO TRAINER HOME

MARLIN, Texas.—"Bully" Irwin, Marlin negro known to the sport world as trainer for the New York Giants, has returned here for the winter. Irwin is a giant in stature as well as spirit.

THE NUT CRACKER

LONDON LAMPS A BALL GAME

"These American pitchers must be a cold-blooded lot."

"How so?"

"I'm told they warm up before each alteration."

"Isn't Mr. Gowdy perfectly ridiculous-looking in a mask?"

"But you should see him without one, my dear fellow."

"I'm all confused. You mention a bean ball, then a rabbit ball. What is this 'farm-products' display, or a hunt?"

"What a ripping pastime for nerf-geons. I just learned Pitcher Nuts split the heart of the plate."

"And yet I don't think it will ever compare with cricket. There are no interludes for tea."

"I don't profess to understand the thing thoroughly, but from what I have seen so far it is not at all like riding the horses or punting on the Thames. Now, really, you'll grant me that, won't you, Aigernon?"

"What! Kelly was called out on strikes? I thought Ramsay MacDonald and the labor party had lost their power."

"You say Kelly walked on four bad ones? Well, it's hardly the king's fault if he failed to watch his legs, is it?"

"So the gentleman at third base is a coach and his name is McGraw. Well, he does look something like a truck, eh, wot?"

"I say, father, when do the Americans put on the murder scene?"

"What murder scene, Rollie?"

"What I mean to say is, when do they assassinate the 'bally umpire'?"

"It is a custom, you know. Every one must be upon his feet in the seventh inning."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

"What a splendid idea! We must urge Joe Beckett to try it the next time he fights."

WARREN STONE—

Fireman Who Made 100,000 Workers Capitalists

He's Labor's Banks Young

WARREN STONE

SOME 25 years back Warren Sanford Stone was leaning out of the cab window of a railroad locomotive picking up signals along the flying track of the Rock Island from his post at the engineer's throttle.

Blowing the whistle at crossings cutting across the right of way, he gave warning of his speedy charge's approach.

Today, his hair whitened like the snows by his 63 years, and a bristling bayonet of a mustache accentuating the steely makeup of this man who rules one of the most powerful labor unions in the world, Stone clings to the throttle.

True, the lever of command is figurative, for his post has shifted from the business end of an engine to an easy chair behind the polished mahogany in a Cleveland (O.) skyscraper, from whence he directs the enterprises of 100,000 men of the rail.

His rapid rise from fireman to an eminence in both the fields of labor and finance is a tribute to education.

Stone was born in Ainsworth, Ia., Feb. 1, 1860, the son of John and Sarah (Stewart) Stone. He was educated at Washington Academy and Western College.

NOT AFRAID OF LABOR

Though a great many college graduates consider it beneath their dignity to do manual labor, Stone had no such ideals.

He was not afraid of grimy hands. Having picked railroading for his game in life, he went into the firebox pit on a Rock Island hogback freight locomotive on Sept. 27, 1879.

He did this only a few days after receiving his degree and sheepskin.

Sticking to the job—not an easy one in those days for a fireman—he applied to the task in hand all the intelligence of which he was capable. The district superintendent soon got to know that Stone was not a usual type of fellow.

Other railroad officials observed that he had his heart and mind as well as his muscles back of the coal-shoveling job in the "roarin' pit."

In the shortest time possible Stone was promoted to an engineer.

The reward came on April 12, 1884. It made him supremely happy.

MARRIES

There were two reasons back of his joy.

The first was Miss Carrie E. Newell of Agency, Ia., who had been waiting for him until he was able to support a family.

And the other reason was the realization of a boyhood ambition to some day guide one of the snorting monsters past the little red depot in the old home town.

But Stone, it must be remembered, had no thought of remaining at the throttle forever, just as he never intended to keep shoveling coal as a fireman.

He had started in from the bottom and intended to use each successive promotion as a stepping stone to the very top of the railroad business.

What he does, he does thoroughly, contenting himself with mastering every detail along the way with the ultimate purpose of getting the very best out of whatever situation confronts him for his organization and for his men.

Perhaps it was a trick of Fate, or a most fortunate occurrence for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, that he parted at the ways on the high road to Fortune and went to head the union instead of continuing upward to high office in the railroad world.

Stone, as soon as he was eligible after being promoted to engineer, joined the brotherhood's ranks.

His vigor of intellect frequently demonstrated at conventions of the organization when he acted as spokesman for his local lodge, attracted the favorable attention of former Grand Chief Arthur, who saw in Stone the promises of a leader to take his place.

He recommended Stone for the job, and in 1903 the recommendation was carried out at the national gathering of the brotherhood in San Francisco.

Stone has held office as grand chief engineer ever since without a single break.

In little more than four years he has torn down the barriers separating capital and labor.

He did this in a practical manner, although the move was considered a new departure when first conceived, by inspiring the labor organization which he heads as grand chief engineer to a union-owned co-operative banking enterprise.

The bank first opened in November of 1920. It was lodged in an abandoned barroom in not one of the over-gilded parts of Cleveland's downtown section.

For the first 20 months of its existence deposits poured in at the rate of almost $1,000,000 a month, and the bank now has total resources of approximately $25,000,000.

It did not take long for the former barroom to outgrow its banking business. So Stone and his union went out to purchase a new site.

They found one in a 16-story skyscraper and bought the entire building, together with the equipment of a former banking house which had been lodged in it.

NEW BUILDING

Now, even these added quarters are becoming too confined to house the rapidly expanding business, which has established branch banks in Hammond, Ind.; Birmingham, Ala.; Minneapolis, New York and San Bernardino, Calif.

To provide further room, the union is now constructing another 20-story skyscraper.

This building is being reared on the site of the former barroom and the union's first bank.

It is right across the street from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' own 13-story skycraper, which houses their own offices and which was built back in 1910.

This first building marking the brotherhood's entrance into the business world was a fortunate enterprise.

It paid back its original investment several years ago.

Perhaps the building's longest tenant, and the one which leases the most floor space, is the New York Central Railroad, setting up an unique situation of a railroad as a tenant of its employees.

After the barroom bank proved its merits, Stone and his conferees started reaching out for more worlds to conquer.

They placed branches in the other cities and, in addition, bought out a large block of stock in the Empire Trust Company of New York, where Charles Schwab, as a director, sits in roundtable discussion with Stone, the labor man, at frequent intervals.

It took just such a man as Stone to prove the soundness of the banking venture of the union.

He first thought of the idea in 1910, when reports were coming to him in increasing numbers, telling how the widows of dead union members were being fleeced out of benefits paid from the union's own $180,000,000 insurance company.

Members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers enjoy comparatively large salaries. Their unions had large funds.

Formerly, this money was scattered about the country in numerous banks.

Stone pondered this matter. He saw no reason why the brotherhood should not have the earning power and advantage of all this money.

Workers, he knew, had on deposit in America more than $5,000,000,000.

He felt that the brotherhood had such an excellent chance to become a financial power in the world that he once said in a speech at Houston, Tex., addressed to a labor meeting: "If you use the power you hold in your hands in 10 years you can control the financial policy of the United States."

Later on he said: "There is a fundamental conflict in interest between the financiers on one hand and the public and the employees on the other."

IN CONFLICT

According to this opinion, Stone the banker is in eternal conflict with Stone the labor leader. It is presumed that he meant as much when he gave out an interview in which he stated:

"I am first a citizen, then a labor leader and then a banker."

The brotherhood's banks are not organized for profit.

They are strictly co-operative.

The board of directors is composed exclusively of members of the brotherhood and the bank is controlled by the grand officers of the union, all functioning under Stone.

Dividends are limited to 10 per cent and all surplus earnings go into the bank surplus. No money is permitted to be used for speculative purposes.

The bank loans money to finance its own union, other labor organizations and individuals.

Stone has seen to it that loans were made to wheat growers in the northwest and that credits were refused to apartment house owners charging exorbitant rents.

In addition to the 4 per cent interest paid on savings accounts, the brotherhood banks also pay a dividend approximating 1 per cent on such accounts yearly.

Coupled with its banking business, the brotherhood has taken on a number of other unrelated sidelines, all of which are making good.

COAL MINERS

It operates the Coal River Collieries Company, a $2,000,000 project with 10,000 acres of mineral lands near Seth, W. a., and Prestonburg, Ky.

The brotherhood refers to this enterprise as a "coal company with a soul."

All the miners working for it are housed in GROWTH of labor banks in the United States during the past five years, in the opinion of economic students who closely have been watching the development of the new institutions, has been nothing less than phenomenal.

Prior to five years ago, for anyone to have predicted the rise of a movement to such magnitude and strength as the labor banks now have attained, would have been looked upon as having highly unreliable judgment.

Labor unions, until a short time ago, were concerned with nothing more than their traditional purposes.

Except for slight indications here and there of co-operative savings and loan departments functioning in a divorced manner from the parent body, there was no direct attempt to amass the wages of labor into a labor-controlled banking organization.

The change which took place, sweeping aside this old order of business, has all come within the past five years, the last four years witnessing the major part of the development.

GROUP OWNERSHIP OLD

Ownership of banks by special groups of trades is not new.

But to have a bank owned collectively and individually by a labor union and functioning for the immediate benefit of a particular working group constitutes what is a rare move in the field of banking.

Since the labor banks first came into being, largely at the hand of William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, who established the Mount Vernon Savings Bank of Washington, D. C., back in 1920, there have been organized 22 labor banks distributed in 13 states, which is their aggregate today.

Ownership of these institutions is scattered among the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, Amalgamated Clothing Workers, the Central Labor Council, the Ladies' Garment and Needle Trades Unions and groups of crafts who have merged their identities and gone into the banking business under other than a particular trade name.

ADVANTAGE

Resources of these labor banks today total in the millions. Every one of them is making good for the principal reason that, unlike privately organized banks which must compete for deposits, the labor bank has the advantage of assured deposits in the form of enormous aggregate savings of its members.

Labor banks have been largely responsible for the successful development of banking by mail, a special feature which necessarily forced them to work into its present state of efficiency to meet the needs of a scattered clientele.

The Amalgamated banks for example, whose depositors include a large percentage from Russia and Central European countries, have established a special service for the transmission of dollars to these countries.

SEND MILLIONS

During a period of 18 months these banks dispatched more than $4,000,000 abroad without the loss of a single penny to any sender. The average amount of these international money orders has been less than $30.

Frequently these labor banks have been able to unite loved ones long separated by war and revolution after governmental aid has failed.

It is an admitted fact among leading labor chieftains that the labor bank owes its origin chiefly to the constant fight for more wages and shorter hours for their particular groups.

These leaders have come to the conclusion that the battle for more wages and shorter hours in itself is entirely unsound and apart from the best theories of economics.

They have come to the conclusion that the whole history of labor is one of wages mounting ever higher, yet never quite keeping pace with the cost of living.

For this reason in the fall of 1919, at a co-operative conference in Chicago, it was voted to establish labor banks throughout the country owned and controlled by labor.

Only by using the financial tool, heretofore wielded exclusively by his employer, will the worker be enabled to assert his independence, labor leaders believe.

model homes of the most up-to-date type. Good wages are paid and the men are happy.

At the very outset, Stone raised the wages of the miners a dollar above the highest union scale obtaining in the district. Modern machinery was installed to lessen work in the pits and life above ground was bettered.

MAIL ORDER BUSINESS

The brotherhood also operates a mail order department store, the Brotherhood Investment Company, a $10,000,000 organization, and has its finger in the direction of some 4000 stores scattered throughout the country, where general merchandise is retailed along co-operative lines.

These joint activities keep Stone busy every minute of the day and often far into the night.

The union pays him $25,000 a year for his work. This is the highest salary paid any union official in the world.

Seated at his desk, he looks more like a capitalist of industry than a labor leader.

It's Easier to Sell If You Tell it Well in The News Want Ads

The Port Arthur News

Classified Advertising Information
Classified advertising is accepted over the telephone as a matter of courtesy. In return for this the advertiser is expected to remit promptly when the collector calls.

All ads set solid in nonpareil type unless otherwise ordered. Display limited to 10 point type and white space.

Use of cuts and ads of more than one column not permitted. Misclassification of ads not permitted.

Errors, not the fault of the advertiser, which clearly lessen the value of the advertisement, should be corrected the first day, when one extra corrected insertion will be made without charge. The News assumes no responsibility for error after first day.

Ads to appear week days are accepted until 11 a. m. same day of publication. Saturdays, 10 a. m. and Sundays, 9 p. m. Saturday.

One insertion, per word, 2c
Three insertions, per word, 5c
Seven insertions, per word, 10c
Thirty insertions, per word, 30c
Minimum word charge, 12 words
Rates based upon consecutive insertions, net, payable in advance.

Count six words to the line.

The Port Arthur News

Is delivered by carrier every afternoon and Sunday morning at the following places:

PORT ARTHUR
Beaumont
Port Neches
Nederland
Sabine
Sabine Pass
Galveston
Port Aransas
Groves

And immediate territory.
And is for sale daily at:
PORT ARTHUR
News Service
Tuxedo News Stand
Mitchell News Stand
Nelson's Book Store
Port Art Store
Ransom's News Stand
Plaza Hotel
Heights Drug Store
Thomas' Car Barn News Stand
Procter Drug Co.
College Pharmacy
Model Drug Co.
Mossman's News Stand
Quality Drug Co.

BEAUMONT
Crosby Hotel
Cozy News Stand
Crystal White News Stand
Ogden News Stand
Alexander News Stand
McDougle Book Store
John Aboud
Heilig Hotel
Smith-White Drug Co.
Hotel Beaumont

NEEDLAND
Nederland Drug Store
Thomas' Drug Store
Port Neches Drug Co.
S. A. NICHOLS
Gunter Hotel News Stand
The Atlas News Co., 220 E. Houston

HOUSTON
Wagner & Jones, 418 Main
The News Stand, 1000 Main St.
NEW ORLEANS
Wallace News Stand
Atlas News Co., 220 E. Houston

GALVESTON
World News Co.

Announcements
FRATERNAL AND LODGES

NOTICE KNIGHTS TEMPLAR
Sated convocation of Port Arthur Commandery No. 10, Monday, November 3, at 7:30 p. m. All officers and Knights are requested to be present.

T. P. GARDNER, Com.
L. A. GLECKLER, Sec.

I. O. O. F. BULLETIN
Subordinate Lodge No. 63, meets Monday night, 7:30 o'clock, Curtis Lottin, N. G.; A. O. Alexander, Sec. Port Encampment meets Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. T. P. Jurasek, C. P. W. H. Rizer, Sec.

Rehearsal Lodge No. 33 meets Friday 7:30 p. m. Mrs. P. Jurasek, N. G.; Mrs. W. Cockman, Secy.

Visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahs cordially invited to attend meetings of their respective branches of the order. All meetings held in Odd Fellows' hall, Procter street.

LOST, STRAYED, FOUND

WHITE gold necklace set with one diamond, lost Saturday morning between 1200, 200 block Procter. Liberal cash reward, phone 1519.

LOST—Sales book, Orange Water company, between 518 Ninth and 312 Augusta. Return to 513 Marshall or call 928 for reward.

PERSONALS

LOOK—Private readings given by Mdn. Merri, Sundays and anytime, 11:00, 1225 Eighth, phone 50-Y.

MADAME MINGE—Phrenologist. Gives advice on all affairs. Hours, 2 p. m. to 9 p. m. 315 Sixth street, Port Arthur.

SPECIAL NOTICES

SEAMSTRESS WORK GUARANTEED, prices reasonable, work called for anywhere. Phone 214-W.

WHEN YOU NEED WATER CALL BONAMI SPRING WATER COMPANY, PHONE 502.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
I have severed my connection with the Home Grain and Grocery Company of 613 Houston avenue, Port Arthur, Texas. Hereafter the affairs of the company will be conducted by my former associates, Joe Cascio, Frank Mosina and Joe Sgarino, who will be responsible for all obligations of said company.

TONY SALITO.

Automobiles
AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

There are several reasons why we have so many bargains in used cars.

DODGE—STUDEBAKER
FORDS AND BUICKS.
1922 Dodge T. new tires $575
1922 Dodge T. good tires $500
1922 Dodge T. good buy $340
1921 Dodge T. bargain $250
1922 Studebaker $450
1922 Studebaker Special 6 $540
1922 Buick T. good tires $525
1920 Buick 10 new cord tires, $425
1922 Ford T. $185
SMALL CASH. BALANCE EASY.

LET'S TRADE
Ford coupe A-1 condition, apply on lot, Albert Plattman, 606 Houston Ave.

Dodge roadster, new paint, five tires, runs good, first $75 takes it. 1225 Eighth.

CLASS 5
FORD TOURING
A big discount on Ford demonstrator. See me Sunday morning, 8 to 12 o'clock.

BOB BUTLER
With LINN MOTOR CO.
Procter and Atlanta

Automobiles

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

JOE'S USED CAR LOT

Ford chassis $25.00
Ford chassis $45.00
Ford touring "starter" $65.00
Ford chassis "starter" $75.00
Chevrolet touring $125

Above cars sold for $15 and $25 cash. Balance each pay day.

PHILIP INMAN AND CO.
Fourth and Austin Phone No. 6

USED USED USED

FORDS FORDS FORDS

Prices marked plainly on each car.

We have—

1924 Ford touring $395

1923 Ford roadster $295

1923 Ford coupe $295

1921 Ford coupe $275

1922 Ford touring $250

1921 Ford touring $175

Now the prices on these

Fords are marked plainly. See me Sunday morning.

BOB BUTLER

Manager Used Car Dept.

LINN MOTOR CO.

Procter and Atlanta

Phone 12 or 13

Practically new 1924 Dodge business coupe at bargain. Phone 1988.

FOR SALE—Ford touring, 1923 model.

Will make you a good proposition on this. 1027 Thirtieth.

A REAL BARGAIN—1924 model

Dodge business sedan, four tires and tubes, just purchased, car one year old, $150 cash. Mrs. Collins, 509 Shreveport.

JOE'S USED CAR LOT

Ford touring, 1923 $245

Ford coupe, new paint $235

Ford coupe, "special" $235

Ford sedan, good shape $225

Chevrolet touring, 1922 $195

Chevrolet touring, 1923 $215

Chevrolet coupe, 1923 $450

Chevrolet coupe, 1924 $450

Oldsmobile 4-cyl. touring, 1923 $325

Dodge touring, like new $575

These cars are in fine condition, can be bought on easy terms.

PHILIP INMAN AND CO.

Fourth and Austin Phone No. 6

REPAIRING AND SERVICE

AUTO TOPS & PAINTING

THROWER & MACHINERY

Seventh and Fort Worth, Phone 2454

TIRES AND VULCANIZING

SPECIAL FOR 3 DAYS

30x3 1/2 full oversize Empire cord casing $8.50. This is the very casing for Chevrolet or closed cars. Guaranteed by us to give satisfaction.

With each tire or tube can cold patch free.

AUSTIN AVENUE TIRE CO.

540 Austin Ave.

Phone 722

Good Tires Cheap

AUTOMOBILES WANTED

WANTED—To buy from owner a late model Ford. Must be reasonable. P. O. Box 1114, City.

Business Service

BUSINESS SERVICE OFFERED

NOTICE

When you figure on re-roofing

remember Genasco Latite shingle that reduces overhead expense, eliminates fire, reduces insurance, lasts twice as long as wood shingles, costs less.

For information call

PORT ARTHUR TILE & ROOFING CO.

1120 Fort Worth Ave.

Phone 194

NESTLE LAMOL PERMANENT

WAIVING. Call 1256-J for appointment.

COVINGTON BROS.

Moving, Storage and Packing

Phone 423 505 Fifth St.

GOOD, DRY SPLIT PINE AND OAK

WOOD, $12.50 CORD, DELIVERED.

Phone 2016-J.

O. C. MIZELL

House Moving and Hauling

Phone 2152-J

ED. F. WEEREN

Contractor and Builder

Room 7 Over Hart Drug Store

Phone 266

WOOD YARD

DRY HEART PINE

DRY OAK ANY LENGTH

PINE KNOTS

JOE SHERMAN PHONE 423

WOOD AND COAL

SNAPPY SERVICE

That is the only service we know how to give and so that is the only kind of service you can expect when you tell us your life is out.

K. C. S. WOOD & COAL YARD

W. L. SHEPARD, Prop.

Phone 543 537 Houston Ave.

OLD MATRESSES MADE NEW

G. H. MATTRESS CO.

Phone 537 15th and Ft. Worth Ave.

Work called for and delivered same day.

FURNITURE

Upholstering, Refinishing, Crating

J. RUSLING Phone 1923

Employment

HELP WANTED, MALE

BARRBERING taught quickly. Moler graduates always busy. Big pay. Write Moler Barber College, 712 Franklin, Houston.

RELIABLE man or woman with references to care for semi-invalid. Apply 1410 Fifteenth.

WANTED—Route boys. Circulation department. The News.

SALESMEN AND AGENTS

WANTED—Three salesmen who can collect. See Ed. LaVergne, 1230 to 2 p. m., room 2, Harris Bldg.

ALLURING stylish super quality popular priced shoes. Ten dollars per day easy pay in advance. We furnish samples. Nationally known organization. Style-Arch Cincinnati.

AGENTS WANTED FOR FREE SAMPLES. Sell Madison "BETTER-MADE" Shirts for large manufacturer direct to wearer. No capital or experience required. Many earn $100 weekly and bonus. MADISON MILLS, 352 Broadway, New York.

AMAZING, stylish shoes, large commissions. Complete sample outfit with actual shoes. Popular prices, $3.50 to $4.95 making everyone happy. Apply Style Arch Shoes, Cincinnati.

WANTED BY LOCAL FIRM—Men or women wanting steady employment. Those having experience in selling goods preferred. An interesting proposition awaits you. An interesting proposition awaits you. Investigate this now. Address "BBB" care News.

HELP WANTED, FEMALE

LADY to represent in her home town and vicinity. Janeline dresses, silk lingerie, hosiery, sweaters and silk neckties. All lines conveniently carried at one time. Reply L. E. Stuhenvolt, state agent, 424 Wilson Bldg., Dallas, Texas.

SITUATIONS WANTED, MALE

WANTED—Young man 18 or 20 years of age, one wanting to learn a good business. Light, pleasant work with good salary. By letter local firm. Address "AZ" care News in own hand writing.

Financial

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

RESTAURANT and four rooms furniture, good location, for sale at bargain. 323 Austin, phone 419.

MONEY TO LOAN

$5 to $500 quickly loaned to men and women. Used only for employment. Long time payment plan, lowest rates, all dealings confidential.

THE EMPEROR CO.

Phone 1478

Room 11, Merchants Bank Bldg.

The Standard Credit Co.

Oldest in Texas, loaning $5 to $50 without security to working men and women. Rates lowest—service best. 205-207 Turrell Bldg.

Instruction

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

BOOKKEEPERS wanted to learn higher accountancy. C. P. A. in charge of night class. P. A. College, phone 489.

Livestock

DOGS, CATS, PETS

FIVE-MONTH-OLD Spitz pup, 3539 Ninth, phone 2566-J.

BERKIAN cat, pedigree, full grown male, orange color, $10.00, 1511 Twelfth.

FINE pointer pup ready for hunting, for sale, 2019 Sixth.

HORSES, CATTLE, VEHICLES

FINE 3-year-old horse for sale or trade for milk cow. Henry Bosmu, San Jacinto Park, Pear Ridge.

FOR RENT—Sixty-acre dairy farm on paved road, J. Doornbos, Nederland, Texas.

Miscellaneous For Sale

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

O'NEAL BROS. GROCERY AND MARKET

WHERE YOU GET PRICES.

ALL MEATS AND SERVICE

Tall Rice Hotel, Pet and Carnation milk

Small Rice Hotel, Pet and Carnation milk

BEST KANSAS BUTTER 40c

BEST KANSAS BUTTER 40c

O'NEAL BROS. GROCERY AND MARKET

620 Mobile Ave. Phone 759

Where Your Business is Appreciated

HOUSEHOLD GOODS

TWO rooms furniture for sale. 803 Thomas Blvd.

FOUR-BURNER double oven gas stove, used only month, for sale. 528 Fourteenth.

FOR FULLER BRUSHES

PHONE 2467-X AFTER 7:00

P. M. 2321 7TH. J. D. REESE.

NEW portable electric Singer sewing machine at sacrifice price. Splendid Christmas gift. 2729 Procter, phone 1085.

B. LOUIER & SON

FURNITURE COMPANY

Special prices on bedroom and dining room suites. Easy terms.

505 Seventh St. Phone 1392

TEXAS FURNITURE CO.

Let Us Furnish Your Home On Easy Terms. Phone 1328

718 Houston Ave.

MISCELLANEOUS ARTICLES

WE DO any and all kinds of alterations. Work done by a first class

BRYAN TAILORING CO.

PHONE 243 414 PROCTER ST.

NOTICE

When you think of buying,

building or re-roofing—play safety first. Use a tile roof that is fire and water proof, reduces overhead expense and insurance.

The first cost is the last cost.

Cement Roofing Tile, home product, manufactured by

PORT ARTHUR TILE & ROOFING CO.

SECOND CARGO OF MEAL CAKE

Norwegian Steamer Sails For Denmark

Loaded out with meal cake consigned to a port in Denmark, the Norwegian steamer Endsboten sails Sunday from Port Arthur, the second vessel out of this port this season for Denmark with meal cake.

The Norwegian steamer Wilfred, which arrived several days ago and went to Port Neches for part cargo, shifted to the Texas Company terminals Saturday to load out case oil. Sailing Sunday from Port Neches terminals of the Texas Company will be the tanker Texas, which arrived Saturday to discharge a cargo of Mexican crude oil. The Texas is returning to Mexico.

Coming in from the West Indies Friday, the schooner Mabel Gale docked at the Texas Company's Port Arthur terminals to load out a cargo of case oil for the return trip to the islands. The schooner Stimson, also loaded out at the Texas Company, sailed this week with case oil for the West Indies.

ARRIVED NOVEMBER 1 Vessel, Flag, Tonnage, Agent, Location

President Sargent (Fr.), 2880, from Brussels to Beaumont, Chas. Martin company.
Texas, 5045, from Tampico to Port Neches, Texas Company.
Gulfcoast, 3202, from Jacksonville to Port Arthur, Gulf company.
Ligonier, 2396, from Galveston to Port Arthur, Gulf company.

SAILED NOVEMBER 1
Sanbeam, 4148, from Smiths Bluff for Sabine, Pure Oil company.
Acme, 4304, from Beaumont for New York, Magnolia company.
Wilfred (Nor.), 3044, from Port Neches to Port Arthur, Sydney C. Collin company.
Southsea, 1612, from Beaumont for West Indies, Hall Shipping company.
Gulftown, 4904, from Port Arthur for Philadelphia, Gulf company.
Aryan, 5154, from Port Arthur for Bayonne, Texas Company.

IN PORT ARTHUR Grain Elevator

Flowergate (Br.), 3183, C. Flanagan.

Meal Docks

Eidsbotten (Nor.), 1096, John E. Jones company.

Mexican Docks

Isonzo (Ital.), 704, J. S. engineers.

Texas Company Docks

Invincible, 4900, Lykes-Sgtovich.
Lorraine Cross, 3124, Lykes-Sgtovich.

Hanover, 3507, Lykes-Sgtovich.
Wilfred (Nor.), 3044, Sydney C. Collin company.

Gulf Company Docks

Sunco (Bel.), 4907, Gulf company.
Gulfcoast, 3202, Gulf company.
Ligonier, 2396, Gulf company.

AT PORT NECHES

Texas, 5045, Texas Company.

AT BEAUMONT

Ascot (Br.), 2786, John E. Jones company.

President Sargent (Fr.), 2880, Chas. Martin company.

OBSTRUCTIONS TO NAVIGATION

The following was issued through the New Orleans branch of the United States hydrographic office:

Oct. 30.—Latitude 24 degrees 7 minutes N., longitude 87 degrees 53 minutes W., passed waterlogged derelict with mast standing 15 feet above water. Radio from master s. s. Santa Teresa via Naval Station, Key West.

Oct. 27.—Schooner ashore abandoned on Florida coast between Coxambas Bar and San Marco Bar, both masts gone, probably a fishing smack. Went ashore in the hurricane. Has been identified as Scotia. Received by mail from Fort Myers, Fla.

Flushing Bay Light No. 2, heretofore destroyed, was rebuilt and re-lighted on October 4, 1924 (N. M. Lighthouse service superintendent, Third District, October 23, 1924).

The wreck of the schooner Franz Gottfried lies sunk about 14.3 miles 357 degrees from Gross Horst lighthouse. The masts do not show above the water and the wreck is dangerous to navigation; it will be marked by a buoy.

Approximate position; latitude 54 degrees 20 minutes N., longitude 15 degrees 2 minutes E. (Nachrichten für Seefahrer) 40 (3535). Berlin, October 4, 1924.

The range lights which lead into the Oste river have been moved and re-established in the following positions: the rear light in latitude 53 degrees 50 minutes 16 seconds E. The front light in latitude 53 degrees 50 minutes 50 seconds E. (Nachrichten für Seefahrer) 40 (3551). Berlin, October 4, 1924.

Local Notice to Mariners

West Pass, Appalachicola Bay, Florida—Mess Pass Bell buoy relieved October 28, heretofore reported capsized.

C. & G. S. Chart No. 183.
 Buoy list, Eighth district, 1923 p. 10.

Coast Pilot, section E, 1916, p. 74.

Corpus Christi Bay, Tex.—Tarble Cove channel light No. 1 discontinued October 28, 1924.

C. & G. S. charts Nos. 1285, 1286. Light list, Atlantic coast, 1924, No. 2240.

Buoy list, eighth district, 1923, p. 68.

Coast pilot section E, 1916, p. 150.

By order of the commissioner of lighthouses, E. S. Lauphler, superintendent of lighthouses.

DENTON BUSINESS MAN DIES IN NORTH

DENTON, Nov. 1.—C. C. McNell, 42 years old, and a native of Denton, died yesterday in the Mayo sanitarium in Rochester, Minn., where he recently underwent an operation. He had been engaged in business here for many years. Surviving are his widow and three children. The body will be brought here for burial.

Call 42 and let Ad-Viser help you fix an ad for your wants.

Stamped, hemstitched pillow cases, pair ... $1.50
 Stamped jewel cloth vanity sets, 3 pieces, finished with lace edge, set ... 75c
 Stamped towels, guest and regular size ... 35c 50c 75c
 Bed spreads, stamped, with thread ... $4.00
 We are closing out our yards for knitting and crocheting, all colors.
 1 oz. balls ... 20c
 2 oz. balls ... 40c
Harris Book Store
 524 Fifth St. Opposite Post Office

Ball Room Dancing

Classes Every Monday and and Wednesday Nights at 8:15 at the

PLAZA HOTEL

Althea M. Terry, Teacher
- Claribel Smiley, Pianist

This Tuxedo shows well-built shoulders; narrower at the hips; a suggestion of a waist line; wider trousers

The two-button coat in the background shows the wider button spacing, one of the new fall notes

This suit has the smart college flavor; substantial shoulders; freedom in the coat and trousers' wide cuffs

HART SCHAFFNER & MARX SEE STYLE THE WAY YOUNG MEN SEE IT

Most young men know how difficult it is to define style in clothes. A suit may look right, measurements correct, proper number of buttons, but the style isn't there; the suit hasn't "got it"

Young men have a practised eye for these things; they see them; so do we

You want a coat that suggests good shoulders, that hangs easily with just a slight snugness at the hips; a waistcoat that hugs in a trifle at the belt line; trousers that sit tight at the waist and drop full and easy to a wider cuff and cuffs must fall over the oxford just right at the heel and instep

You want distinction in the weave and pattern of the fabrics. You want color that is a bit unusual

You want good tailoring and value

You'll find all of these things in Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes for fall

The style in this coat is in the easy way it hangs; flowing into the natural lines of the figure

Copyright, 1924, Hart Schaffner & Marx

The double-breasted suit is in favor with many young men; looks good too; note this one

150 New Coats Just Received And Go On Sale Tomorrow

By Saturday's express we received 150 new Fall Coats obtained at a special purchase. These coats ordinarily would sell for twice their sale price. See them tomorrow.

12.95 to 29.95

Pretty new Fall styles, each different and individual. Coats of fine quality bolivia cloth and heavy pile fabrics, plain and with fur collars.

50 New Sport Dresses

Just Received Regular
$15.00 Values

9.95

50 new flannel sports dresses just received. Many pretty color combinations and styles. Regular $15.00 values.

$19.95 Value Wool Dresses

14.95

Fine quality poret twill, charmeen and French flannel, beautiful styles in all colors.

Bluestein's

539 Procter

Phone 868

Haber's
INC.

The Home of Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

Haber's
INC.

THE SUNDAY NEWS' SOCIAL AND CLUB PAGE

Noticeable Awakening In Social Activities With The Advent of November

WITH the advent of November comes renewed social activities, and though the prolonged warm weather is acting somewhat as a deterrent to the usual fall activities, there is a noticeable awakening in social and club circles as was evidenced by the calendar for the past week.

Among the affairs of the past week which made it an outstanding week in society was the bridge-luncheon Wednesday afternoon at the Department Club, which had as hostesses Mrs. R. L. Drake, Mrs. Fred Dodge and Mrs. W. N. McKeen. With the ever enlarging social circle, small and informal parties have become more and more popular, though occasionally it becomes necessary to have one large entertainment in order to cancel obligations. Of such a nature was the bridge-luncheon Wednesday. The handsome club house was the scene of much beauty where fall blossoms in profusion filled every available place, forming a pretty background for attractively gowned maids and matrons.

One hundred and fifty guests were invited to participate in the pleasures of the afternoon.

WEDDINGS and announcements of weddings are also coming in for their share of honors, the past week witnessing the announcement parties for two charming autumn brides, in addition to which there were a number of quiet weddings all of which were of occasional interest to society.

Two bride-elects, whose marriages will be solemnized this month are Miss Camilla Baker, lovely daughter of Mrs. C. Baker of 319 Lake Shore drive, whose marriage to Mr. D. A. Leak of Beaumont will be solemnized on November 10; and Miss Leonora Latimer, daughter of Mrs. Kate Latimer of Griffin Residential Park, who will become the bride of Mr. Leslie Harold Lee on Thanksgiving Day at the First M. E. church, south.

Both young women are popular members of the younger contingent. And now, with these announcements, every one is on the qui vive of excitement, wondering whether several "other" attractive members of the younger set under suspicion will follow the lead and "do likewise."

WITH the advent of the fall season and the resumption of active work of the various organizations throughout the city, there comes also the planning for bazaars, rummage sales, benefit card parties and what not, all of which will take such preparation and hours of society matron time. These duties, in addition to rounds of parties during the late fall and early winter days, will keep society busy right up to the Christmas holidays.

Culture Club to Study Program On Psychology

Mrs. H. H. Brown will sponsor the program Wednesday afternoon at the Young Women's Culture club session at Mrs. M. D. Carter's home, 427 DeQueen boulevard.

The program will deal with the third in a series of programs based on "Psychology—Social and Applied," and Wednesday afternoon's program will be on "Mental Acquired Equipment." The following numbers will be given:

"Habit Formation," Mrs. Leo Hamilton.

"Memory," Mrs. C. E. Yates.

"Association Process, Perception and Reasoning," Mrs. H. G. Johnson.

Questions for general discussion under the direction of the leader:

1. What relations does the psychology of the individual bear to social psychology?
2. What is that peculiar to social psychology that may not be found in individual psychology?
3. Does society possess any tendencies which may be said to be group habits?
4. What parallels may we find between memory in the group and in the individual?
5. What is social perception?
6. Does the law of association work in society? Explain how.
7. Does society ever reason or is this done by the individual?

LADIES AID TO MEET THURSDAY

The Ladies Aid of the First Methodist Episcopal church will meet on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. Whelpley at her home, 2100 Eighth street. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. R. B. Camp, Mrs. C. H. Witbeck, Mrs. George Woodworth.

The devotional service will be in charge of Mrs. C. R. Robinson, and an interesting program has been arranged for the afternoon. Members of the Ladies Aid who have not yet received the name of a friend in the Aid, are urged to attend Thursday's meeting to draw one of these names.

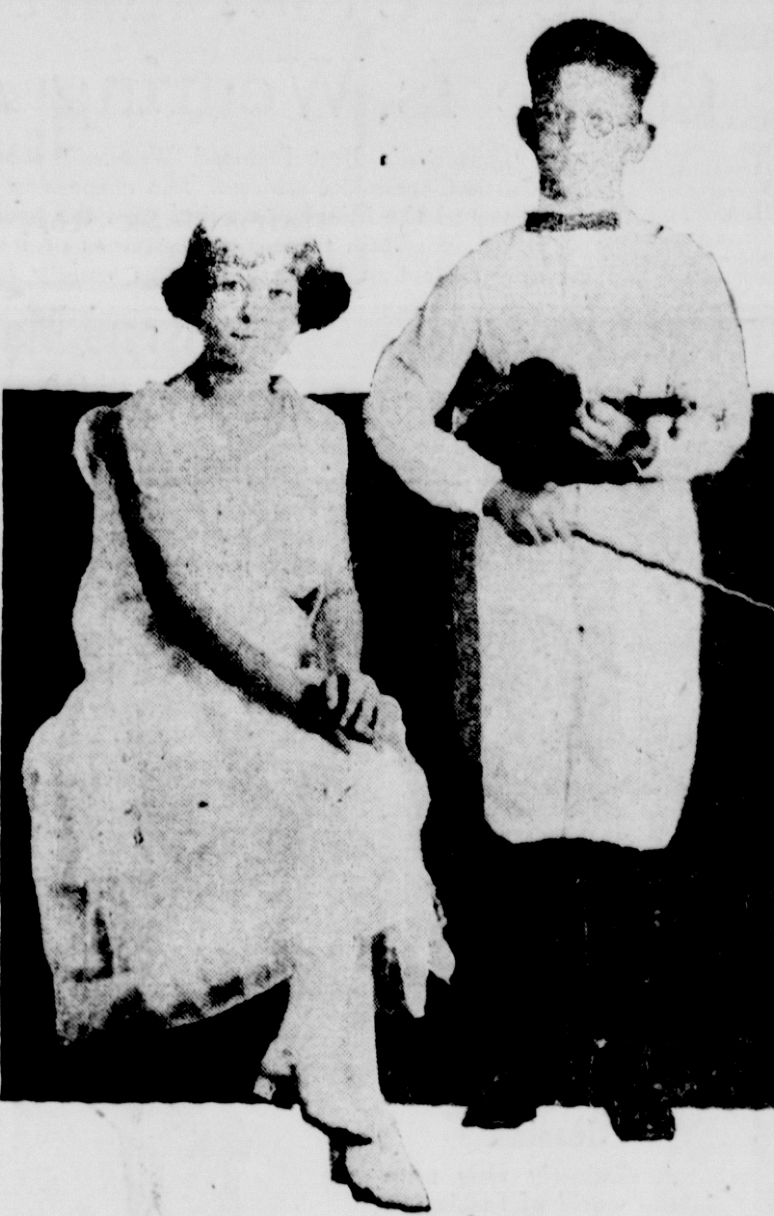

ST. JOHN'S AID TO MEET THURSDAY

The Ladies Aid of St. John's Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. August Fisher at her home, 320 East Fourteenth street, at 2:30 o'clock. All members of the Aid are expected to attend the meeting.

MRS. F. SHELTON TO SAN ANTONIO

Mrs. Frank Shelton, formerly Miss Ola Owen, daughter of Mrs. B. S. Granger of the Model Addition, left Friday evening for San Antonio to join her husband, Sergeant Frank Shelton of Kelley Field, and to make their home in that city.

Accomplished Musicians

DORIS AND ARTHUR DIXON

CHILDREN of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Dixon of this city, are gaining a place in the ranks of the younger musicians of Port Arthur. Both are pupils of Mrs. Sam Simon, Doris being a talented pianist and Arthur an accomplished violinist. Arthur recently won a gold medal for his playing in a recital in which he competed with a number of other violinists of Port Arthur.

MISS HOLLS ENTERTAINS

Miss Dorothy Hollis entertained with a masquerade party Wednesday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Hollis in East Ridge.

The guests, Spooky and Nooky, met the guests at the door and after the watchword was given they were admitted. The house was decorated in the Halloween colors with witches, owls, bats and Jack-o-lanterns forming the decorative features. Mrs. T. E. Harper as a witch told the fortunes of the guests during the evening. During the telling of the story of the jealous rival, his eyes, hair, and teeth were passed around to the guests while they sat in darkness. In the dining room the table was centered with a sealed box, from which the guests drew strings attached to which were their fortunes. In a voting contest Beatrice McKim won first prize and Fern Giddens second. Doughnuts, punch, pop corn, and apples were served as refreshments by Mrs. Hollis, assisted by Mrs. G. M. Robertson, and Mrs. T. E. Harper.

Among those present were Catherine Ward, Carol Leffert, Alma Bessel, Beatrice McKim, Mildred Farmer, Edith Bailey, Rosalie Kalkweit, Edith Ellis, Nadine Perkins, Laverne Miller, Marie Bogel, Bessie Schulman, Marie Berlin, Marie Evans, Lois Jernigan, Charles Stevens, Roy Winkler, Jack Dabos, Arlene Ballard, Chester Hill, Edna Ward, Leola McKim, Clifford Simmons, Virgil Hillier, Victor Savoy, El Hunt, Emil Paul, Jr., Silver Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Anderson, H. B. Miller, Mrs. J. B. Hollis and Dorothy Hollis.

FRIDAY

Friday Bridge club with Mrs. W. N. McKeen, 2147 Procter street, 2:30 o'clock.

Friday afternoon Bridge club with Mrs. A. L. Carter, 3512 Eighth street, 2:30 o'clock.

Religious meeting at Odd Fellows hall, 7:30 o'clock.

Royal Neighbors to meet at hall in Hartford building, 7:30 o'clock.

Christian Endeavorers In Closing Meet Today

The closing session of the Beaumont District Christian Endeavor convention will be held this evening at the Congregational church, with the Endeavor meeting at 6:30 p. m.

Mrs. H. P. Foote, convention chairman, will have charge of the program, the subject of which will be "In His Steps; What Jesus Said About Faith." Sunday evening is consecration Sunday, and the program will be as follows:

Opening hymn: "Trust and Obey."

Devotional service—Miss Sophia Jaschke of Beaumont, president of the Beaumont C. E. district.

Opening talk—Mrs. H. P. Foote.

Talk: "A test of faith that has come to me during my Christian Endeavor work and how I have stood this test"—F. W. Johnson, president of Presbyterian C. E. Society.

Talk: The best means of strengthening a Christian Endeavorer's faith—Miss Esther Cramton, president of Port Arthur City C. E. Union.

Violin solo: Selected—Miss Bessie Reese, with accompaniment by Miss Reese.

Whistling number—Miss Bessie Reese, with violin accompaniment by Miss Bessie Reese.

Talk: What was Jesus' test of faith with which the Christian Endeavorer today must comply?—H. C. Holmes, president of First Christian C. E. Society.

Talk: How can a Christian Endeavorer show his faith in the Christ?—Miss Freda Swanson, president of Congregational C. E. Society.

My Youth Cream

My Youth Cream is a remarkable creation, combining many factors. It contains products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best helps science gave me to foster and protect the skin.

It comes in two types—cold cream and vanishing. I use it as a night cream, also daytime as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. My velvet complexion shows what that cream can do.

The cost is 60c per jar.

My Hair Youth

The cause of my luxuriant hair, thick and silky, finer than 40 years ago. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, and never a touch of gray.

A concentrated product combining many ingredients. I apply it with an eyedropper directly to the scalp. There it combats all the stifled hair roots. It tones and stimulates. No man or woman will omit it when they see what Hair Youth does. The cost is 50c and 81c with eyedropper.

White Youth Clay

A new-type clay, white, refined and dainty. Vastly different from the crude and muddy clays so many have employed. The final result of 20 years of scientific study.

It purges the skin of all that clogs and ruins it. Removes the causes of blackheads and blemishes. Brings a rosy afterglow which mingles and delights. Combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores.

No girl or woman can afford to omit it. It multiplies beauty. And many women seem to drop ten years after one application. My White Youth Clay costs 50c and 81c.

My Facial Youth

All druggists and toilet counters supply Edna Wallace Hopper's beauty helps. Edna Wallace Hopper, 530 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

Lovely Bridge Given At Allis Home Thursday

Autumn flowers everywhere were evident for the bridge party given by Mrs. David Bovee and Mrs. R. C. Allis Thursday evening at the latter's home, 3445 Procter street, in entertainment of the members of the Saturday Bridge club and additional guests.

The Halloween colors of black and orange were emphasized in the gorgeous blossoms and in the bridge table appointments. Six tables of ladies enjoyed the games in which Mrs. Pat Reed was awarded the players' prize for high score and Wilford Imhoff received the gentlemen's favor. Consolation fell to Mrs. Tom Hart. A salad course, reflecting the Halloween theme, was served at the close of the games.

The personnel included Mr. and Mrs. Sam MacFadden, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Davis, Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Imhoff, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Harty, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Elliott, Mrs. Carl Bodglin, Mrs. Frank Harrell, Miss Grace Imman, Mrs. Pat Reed, Miss Eileen Eubank, Phillip Imman, M. Moffett, Mr. and Mrs. David Bovee and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Allis.

JUNIOR ENDEAVORERS ENTERTAINED FRIDAY

Mrs. J. R. Jolley entertained the Junior Christian Endeavorers of the First Christian church with a Halloween party Friday evening at her home, 1345 Stillwell boulevard.

After the little folks were assembled they were taken on a journey through the enchanted forest, after which they visited the cave of the west winds where an old witch told them stories. During the evening Jean and Dorothy Conley entertained with several musical selections. Hot chocolate was served from a boiling pot on the lawn.

Participating in the Halloween party were Evelyn Long, Pansy Dole, Alphonse Stanley, Naomi Stanley, Jewel Dillinger, Alard Dillinger, Boreia Dole, Dorothy Conley, Jean Conley, Elizabeth Fox, Grace Fox, Viola Youngblood, Elona Leavie, Rosemond Wastner, Grace Swan, Mary Swan, Olive Perry, Lois, Mildred Davis, Dorothy Heid, Everett Sherill, Halwell, Oscar Francis Wisner, John Hillman Stanley, Derwood Winfree, Lynden Lauer, Mrs. J. L. Fox, Mrs. Burt Lee, Mrs. R. J. Conley, Mrs. Jim Dillinger, Mrs. J. H. Stanley, Mrs. Fred Dement, Mrs. Fox of Austin, Mrs. Henry Davis, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jolley and little son, Robert.

MABELLE CORTELL ENTERTAINS FRIDAY

Miss Mabelle Cortell entertained with a Halloween party Friday evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. Joe Cortell, 2001 Procter street, the occasion being her thirteenth birthday.

The home was attractively decorated in Halloween decorations, which were enhanced by the pretty costumes of the guests, who attended masked games and contests were enjoyed during the evening, and in a poetry contest Opal Lee Thornton was awarded the girls' prize and Archie Snyder the boys' prize. The boys fell to Walter Okey. Many party gifts were received by little Mabelle Cortell. Party refreshments of punch and cake were served. Miss Cortell being assisted in entertaining and serving by Miss Adele Tanager.

Enjoying the affair were Mary Alice Carney, Hazel Gonzalez, Opal Lee Thornton, Margaret Adams, Mabelle Cortell, Archie Snyder, Newman Schultz, Harry Hampton, Dannie Byron, Walter Okey, Joe Beard and J. R. Carroll.

Visiting Her Parents Here

MISS MARY O'GRADY OF HOUSTON

ATTRACTIVE daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Grady of this city, who is spending a two weeks' vacation with her parents, Miss O'Grady is widely known in Port Arthur and her visit here will be welcomed by her wide circle of friends. She is a graduate of both the Port Arthur High School and the Port Arthur College.

JAMES PRINCE HAS BIRTHDAY PARTY

James Prince celebrated his first birthday at the Day Nursery Wednesday afternoon. The dining room was prettily decorated in a pink and white theme, with the large birthday cake centered with one tiny pink candle and a pink rose. As the children filed into the dining room to victrola music, James stood at the head of the table and cut his cake, presenting each with a piece of his birthday cake. Hot chocolate and cake were served as refreshments.

The little guests included those at the Day Nursery home in addition to Ruth Elizabeth Farden of Beaumont and Jane Eickman.

Mrs. T. K. Furrow and daughter, Mrs. E. L. Ellerbee, of 3215 Procter street, have returned after a pleasant visit in Dallas with relatives and friends. While there they attended the state fair.

Reading Club Will Assist In Tag Sale

Members of the Reading Club will assist the 111th Engineers in their Tag Sale on November 11. Action to this effect was taken by the club at Friday's session when Mrs. K. A. Young and Mrs. C. L. Wignall were appointed as a committee in charge of the arrangements from the Reading Club. The women voted to assist the 111th Engineers in their tag sale following a short talk by T. Gowran, who is here in the interest of the 111th Engineers' Armory.

At the business session Mrs. A. S. Bailey, a member of the Day Nursery birthday party committee, told the women that though the birthday party was not being held this year the Day Nursery was in need of kitchen utensils, dishes, sheets, quilts and blankets and practically everything that was needed in a home. She urged the women to bring their birthday gifts to the meeting of the Department Club on Monday, November 10.

The resignation of Mrs. D. W. Eddy, Mrs. Willard Davis and Mrs. R. E. Mossman as members of the club were accepted with regrets. Mrs. B. H. Davidson, Mrs. Lee O. Smith and Mrs. C. H. McCall were accepted into the membership of the club.

Following the business session, Robert Herrick's novel, "The Common Lot," was studied by the club women, an interesting feature of the program being a short talk made by Mrs. O. G. Wilson, who knew Herrick while attending Columbia university. Mrs. H. K. Goodwin told of Robert Herrick's contributions to American literature and Mrs. S. C. Dunlop discussed "The Common Lot," as a social criticism of American life. An open discussion of the novel followed under the direction of the leader, Mrs. H. P. Foote.

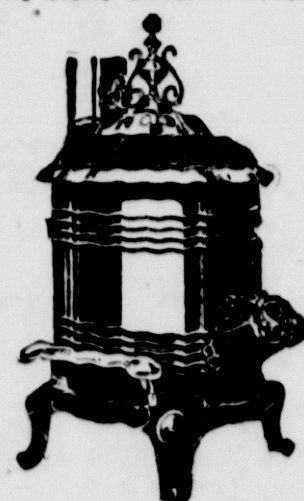

Those in attendance Friday were Mrs. C. T. Allis, Mrs. E. D. Ames, Mrs. F. E. Astell, Mrs. Harry Baker, Mrs. A. S. Bailey, Mrs. H. F. Banker, Mrs. Pendleton Beall, Mrs. J. H. Burlingham, Mrs. E. Smith, Mrs. J. E. Carr, Mrs. S. C. Dunlop, Mrs. A. A. Dupuis, Mrs. C. E. Dunning, Mrs. T. G. Dellinger, Mrs. G. H. Eubank, Mrs. H. P. Foote, Mrs. John Glasgow, Mrs. H. K. Goodwin, Mrs. M. S. Goss, Mrs. T. B. Sappington, Miss Margaret Mader, Miss Elizabeth Suddall, Mrs. C. E. Lauer, Miss Adeline Lauer of Deweyville, Mrs. Mrs. F. Y. Low, Mrs. W. A. Martin, Mrs. G. N. Pohl, Mrs. Herrick Smith, Mrs. O. G. Wilson, Mrs. E. L. Welch, Mrs. F. A. White, Mrs. C. L. Wignall, and Mrs. E. A. Young.

ANNOUNCEMENT

MRS. ENSLO SMITH DIXON Will Teach Expression—Dramatic Art at the Department Club Classes Every Thursday Phone 995 X

When the Norther Comes be prepared for it. Don't sit and freeze and wish that you had been more thoughtful about your winter comfort. There is nothing to equal the delightful feeling of comfort that comes with a good fire on a cold, blustery evening.

Wood Heaters

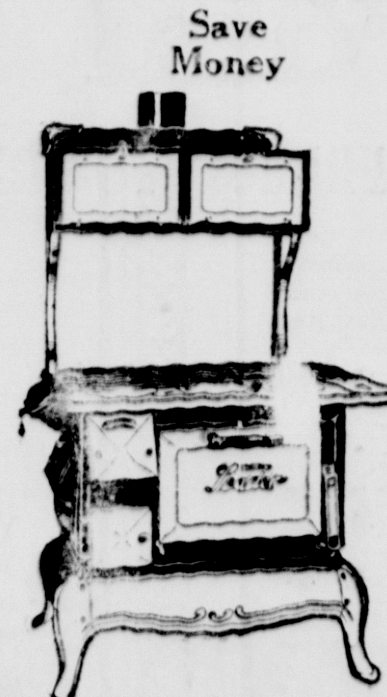

Have you money to burn?

If you cook with coal or wood all year round you are burning up a lot of money, money that you can save by installing a Florence Oil Range.

Florence Oil Ranges burn kerosene, fuel which is cheap and plentiful. They put an end to ashes, dirt and soot.

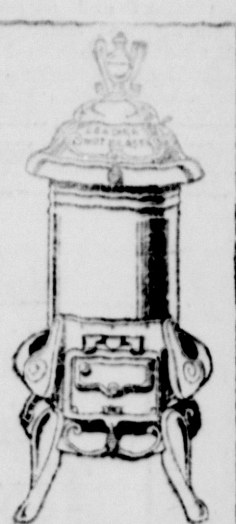

Come in and let us show you how the Florence delivers the flame close up under the cooking.

FLORENCE OIL RANGE

Wood and Coal Cook Stoves

Leader Hot Blast

Oil Heaters

Heat Cheaper

Cole's Hot Blast

Gulf Furniture Co.

600 Houston

Phone 995

Intermediates Enjoy Party at Sutherland's

With the rooms decorated to represent an assemblage place for witches and departed spirits, the Sutherland home in Griffing Addition on Friday evening gave the setting for a most enjoyable Halloween party for the Intermediate Christian Endeavorers and Mrs. E. B. Sutherland's class of the First Christian church.

Guests were greeted at the gate by four ghosts, who proved to be Edna Mae Perkins, Evelyn Smith, Paul Button and Rayford Kinard, and after a cold handshake they were directed into the house by four witches. After the masks were removed the guests repaired to the lawn where a fire was burning and the lawn was decorated with Jack-o-lanterns. All were seated and ghost stories were told. Many hair raising tales were heard. The story of the headless horseman from the "Legend of Sleepy Hollow" was well told by Paul Button, and at the climax of the story a real ghost, in the personage of Buster Moore, mounted on a black pony draped in white appeared upon the scene, adding much to the reality of the story. Games were played, apples were ducked for, and in a gayly decorated tent on the lawn the guests' fortunes were told. Several readings were given by Miss Vera Stanford, Vera Welch, Maurine Sutherland and Dora Cloutman, and violin selections were given by Maurine Sutherland, Lyla Mae McKinney and Franklin Cox. Piano solos were given by Paul Button, Roy Frederickson, Ferol Winfree, Evelyn Smith and Maurine Sutherland and Murray McCoy and Ivy Montgomery entertained with piano and banjo selections.

Mrs. Sutherland was assisted in serving refreshments of doughnuts, pickles, sandwiches, and hot chocolate by her Sunday school class and Mrs. W. N. Sumrell, Mrs. Lee Summers and Mrs. E. D. Ames.

Enjoying the evening were Ruth Swan, Franklin Cox, Mary Myers, Ferol Winfree, Leah Love, Lyla Mae McKinney, Merle Peterman, Evelyn Smith, Winona Smith, Alice Alma Mapp, Maude Youngblood, Maurine Sutherland, Edna Mae Perkins, Aurelia Patterson, Ora Lee Wagon, Viola Wistner, Winnie Hebert, Mary Peak, Waneta Sutherland, Emily Welch, Vera Welch, Evelyn Stokes, Mary Rhodes, Margaret Candler, Louise Candler, Dorothy Mae Marsh, Alma Bell Loy, Juanita Green, Dora B. Cloutman, Katy Jartley, Franke Candler, Loidell Candler, Maude Carron, Grace Rhodes, Roy Frederickson, Miller Jolley, Ivy Montgomery, Paul Button, Willard Youngblood, Murray McCoy, Claude Rhodes, Bernette Rhodes, Raymond Rhodes, Frank Chambers, Calvert Welch, Rayford Kinard, James Swan, William Goss, George Yelderman and Harry Rhodes; Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Ames, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Moore, Mrs. Allen Smith, Mrs. Helen Moore, Mrs. McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. Davis Button, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Welch, Mrs. Lee Summers, Mrs. C. E. Perry, Mrs. N. W. Sumrell, Mrs. M. H. Candler, Mrs. Vera Stanford, Mrs. H. R. Yelderman, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sutherland, John Sutherland and John H. Wilson.

MRS. ANDERSON ENTERTAINS G. A.

Mrs. A. C. Anderson entertained the members of the Girls Auxiliary of the Central Baptist church Friday evening at her home, 2323 Ninth street. She was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. J. M. Reagan.

The Halloween theme prevailed in the home adornment. In the contest of "Who'll Be the Leader?" Dora Haynes and Lucille Wilson won the awards. Halloween games, story telling, readings and musical selections were rendered during the evening. A spoke dance was held with music by an impromptu orchestra. The guests popped corn and roasted wieners over an open fire on the lawn.

Enjoying the occasion were Melina James, Nellie James, Virginia Reagan, Peggy Jane Reagan, Sarah Haynes, Dora Haynes, Una Mae Haynes, Sammie Jane Nicks, Helen Nicks, Lucille Wilson, Helen Wilson, Nevada Hyde, Gladys Crouch, Marie Smith, Donald Anderson, Virginia Anderson, Mrs. J. M. Reagan, Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Anderson.

JUNIOR MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO MEET

The Junior Missionary society of the First M. E. church, South, will meet Monday afternoon with Mrs. Fred Galloway at her home, 835 Atlanta avenue, at 4:30 o'clock. All members are requested to attend.

MISS GARRETT ENTERTAINS SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

Miss Gladys Garrett entertained her Sunday school class of the First Christian church Thursday evening with a Halloween party at her home, 1814 Ninth street. The home was decorated for the occasion.

Margarette Angus was awarded the prize for the best costume. Readings were given during the evening by Maude Summers and Loraine Spence. Miss Alma Garrett made a delightful fortune teller, reading the palms of the guests and predicting the future in little pamphlets decorated in Halloween colors. Tasty refreshments of hot chocolate and cake were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Adele Black and Miss Alma Garrett.

Those enjoying the evening were Annie Garrett, William Garrett, Robert Livergood, Francis Krohn, Mrs. Henry Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Eldridge, W. Y. Perryman, Curtis Lacey, Beatrice Carlin, Nettie Warren, Viola Youngblood, Maude Summers, Ethel Carron, Maude Carron, Evelyn Minder, Beulah Fitzner, Margarette Angus, Natalie Cloutman, Gladys Ellis, Edna Earl Green, Lena Dodson, Juanita Wilson, Loraine Hardgrave, Borita DeRosier, Pansy Dolron, Thelma Choute, Waverly Liskey, Mildred Davis, Dorothy Mae Marsh, Myrtle Fine, Mattie Lee White, Eula Lacy, Little Miss Loraine Spence.

MARTHA FERGUSON HAS HALLOWEEN PARTY

A hospitality appropriate to the Halloween season was a costume party given by Mrs. Roger Ferguson and Mrs. Neman Holmes at their home, 201 Third street, when they entertained a number of little friends in honor of Martha Ferguson.

The home was tastefully decorated with the Halloween colors of orange and black. Games and dancing were enjoyed during the evening hours. Prizes were awarded for the prettiest costumes and these were given to Beulah Fitzner, first prize; Marie Green, second; and Gay Boutie, third.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and confections were served on prettily decorated trays, each bearing a dainty basket favor.

Those enjoying the occasion were Zora Alice Fawcett, Beulah Fitzner,

Marie Green, Dora Collins, Anna Bell Fawcett, Etta Montgomery, Lula Gary, Valentine Hodges, Ruth Kornrumpf, Martha Ferguson, Paul Radau, Harry Walden, Teddy De-sey, Lincoln Hauser, Hugh Roth, Walter

D. Griffith and George Ames. Mrs. Ferguson was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. J. L. Banguard, Mrs. Mary Shepard, Mrs. N. Holmes, Mrs. L. Smith, Mrs. A. Boutie and Mrs. H. Gary.

Here Are the Smart New Costumes Irene Castle Is Wearing As Shown at Hodges

Again "America's Best Dressed Woman" scores notable triumphs in the creation of her newest Irene Castle-Corticelli Fashions! The surpassing charm and beauty of these distinguished garments have captured the imagination and won the acclaim of the smart fashion world. And you may obtain these very costumes of Irene Castle's from The Hodges Company! The brilliant new collection offers a glorious variety from which to choose.

These and Many More Models Are Now Shown at 49.50 to 64.50

IRENE CASTLE CORTICELLI FASHIONS The EILEEN Model

Jessica

A distinctly new note in the world of fashion is the coat dress and surely the genius of Irene Castle is charmingly reflected in this smart model fashioned of velvet and lined with soft Corticelli Crepe Eldora.

IRENE CASTLE CORTICELLI FASHIONS The JESSICA Model

IRENE CASTLE CORTICELLI FASHIONS The HELENE Model

Helene

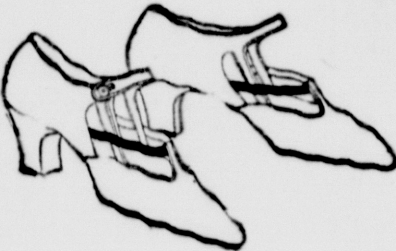

Heavy, lustrous black Corticelli Satin Sa-On fashions this delightful frock developed in the fascinating Redingote effect, with an unusually smart and winning green and crepe combination. The embroidery is in rich gold.

IRENE CASTLE CORTICELLI FASHIONS The RUTH Model

Ruth

The graceful new front tunic distinguishes this striking model of Corticelli black Satin Tremaine. Handsomely embroidered in two tone combination, it is worthy indeed of Irene Castle's favor.

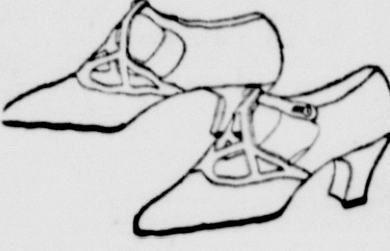

Authentic Fall Fashions

The Shoes to Match the Frock

And at Hodges you have access to a very large selection of fall footwear, modes to properly harmonize with the Irene Castle costume that you choose—or any other for that matter.

The model shown at the left is developed of patent leather, as pictured $10

The model shown at the right is developed of patent leather, as pictured $8

Authentic Fall Fashions

The Hodges Company, Inc.
Where the Promise is Performed

Nov.
3rd
Through
8th

VISITORS WEEK

Nov.
3rd
Through
8th

A Cordial Welcome Will Await You

COME—TELL YOUR FRIENDS TO COME—VISIT US THIS WEEK—THERE WILL BE SOUVENIRS FOR ALL WHO HELP US CELEBRATE OUR 20TH ANNIVERSARY

The First Group of Guests Will Begin Their Little Journey Through the Plant Monday, Nov. 3rd, at One in the Afternoon. On Other Days From Eight in the Morning Till 4:30 in the Afternoon—We hope to Show Dozens of Groups the Interior Workings of a Modern Business Which Sells Only Service

THE HOME LAUNDRY

Phones 118 & 119

Mabel Brownell, Betty Compson and Florence Vidor To Be Headliners This Week

Mabel Brownell At Best In Her New Comedy Role

"Meet The Wife" comes to the Elks Theatre on Sunday, November 9, for one night only, with Mabel Brownell in the part of a mother of a marriageable daughter, is a new comedy which answers the question, "What would you recommend us to see at the theatre?" and answers more than satisfactorily.

Jules Hurlig has given an admirable production and cast of players to this witty comedy written by Lynn Starling and staged by Bert French.

Mabel Brownell has never appeared to such advantage in a career which has presented some admirable impersonations to her public. In comedy work she is at her best and as Ger-

Thrilling Bull Fight Features 'Thundering Hoofs'

A production with color and originality of plot is claimed for "Thundering Hoofs," which comes to the Liberty Theatre Thursday and Friday, with Fred Thompson playing the leading role.

One of the big scenes of the picture is set in a Mexican bull fight arena, where Silver King is about to be gored by a ferocious bull.

Hart Strikes It Rich In 'The Verdict of the Desert'

Scenes and excitement of a gold rush centering around Nugget City, a small town out near the Mexican border, comprise the setting for the production, "The Verdict of the Desert," which comes to the Liberty Theatre Sunday and Monday with Neal Hart in the leading role.

Fat Actor Is Picked To Play Lead in 'Babbitt'

The Sinclair Lewis novel "Babbitt" in screen version, comes to the Liberty Theatre Sunday and Monday, with Willard Louis as Babbitt.

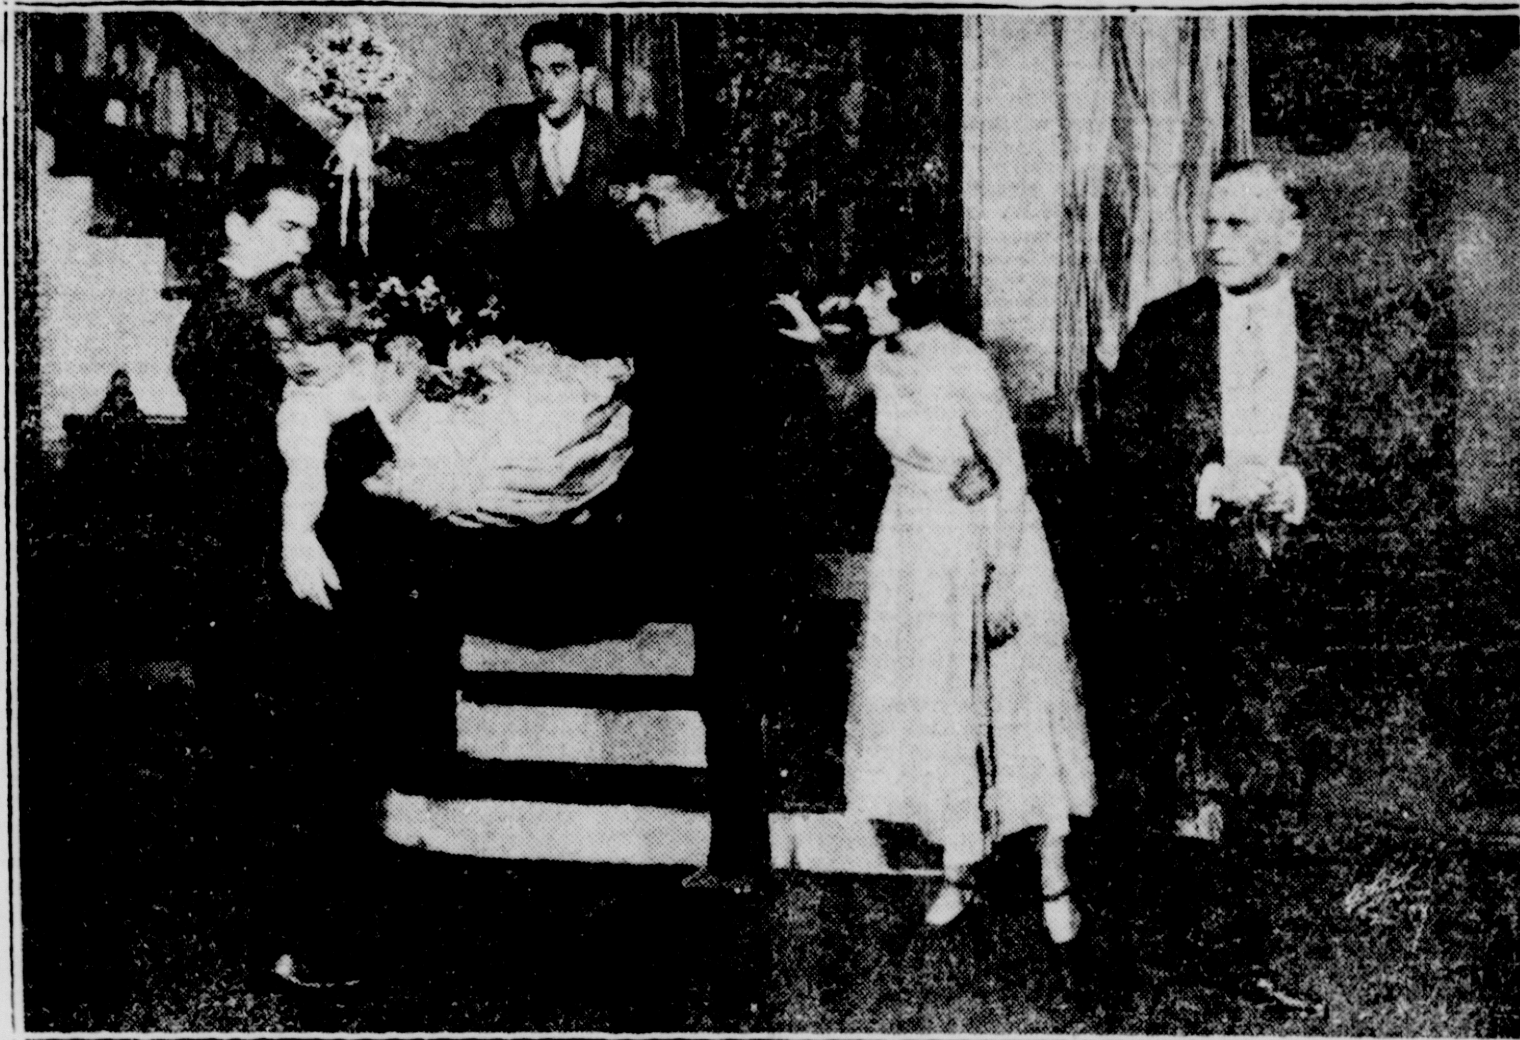

Louis played the role of the prince in "Ben Hur" and stepped from this place into the lead of "Babbitt." The producers claim that his characterization of Babbitt marks the first time a fat man has ever been selected to portray on the screen the sort of a real life part usually reserved for his slimmer brothers.

The story grows out of the hunger for a prosperous small town real estate man of 35 for romance and adventure.

Viola Wants Caveman In 'Open All Night'

A comedy of brilliant, sophisticated Parisian society is the announcement for "Open All Night," the production coming to the Peoples Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, with Viola Dana, Jetta Goudal and Raymond Griffith.

The story deals with one night in Paris, city of gay lovers, where Therese Duverne, weary of the calm superiority of her too polished husband, longs for the caveman type. Humorous possibilities and situations, with luxurious settings and personages abound in "Open All Night."

Paul Revere Rides Again In Griffith's 'America'

One of the big D. W. Griffith productions, "America," comes to the Strand theatre November 8 to open an indefinite run, according to an announcement from the management.

Calendar for the Week

PEOPLES
Sunday through Monday—"Open All Night" with Viola Dana, Adolphe Menjou, Jetta Goudal. Also "Caveman News Reel."
Wednesday through Saturday—"Children Wanted" with Willard Louis, Carmel Myers, Mary Alden and Raymond McKee. Also comedy, "Family Fix."
Sunday—"Children Wanted" with Willard Louis, Carmel Myers, Mary Alden and Raymond McKee. Also comedy, "Family Fix."
PEARCE
Sunday and Monday—"Babbitt" with Willard Louis, Carmel Myers, Mary Alden and Raymond McKee. Also comedy, "Family Fix."
Wednesday through Friday—"Wolves of the North" with Willard Louis, Carmel Myers, Mary Alden and Raymond McKee. Also comedy, "Family Fix."
GREEN TREE
Sunday—Jackie Coogan in "Little Rascals" and comedy "Children Wanted."
Monday—"Children Wanted" and comedy "Family Fix."
Tuesday—"Children Wanted" and comedy "Family Fix."
Wednesday—"Open All Night" with Viola Dana, Jetta Goudal, Raymond Griffith. Also comedy "Family Fix."
Thursday—"Open All Night" with Viola Dana, Jetta Goudal, Raymond Griffith. Also comedy "Family Fix."
Friday—"Open All Night" with Viola Dana, Jetta Goudal, Raymond Griffith. Also comedy "Family Fix."
Saturday—"Open All Night" with Viola Dana, Jetta Goudal, Raymond Griffith. Also comedy "Family Fix."
CAMEO
Sunday through Wednesday—"Borrowed Husbands" with Mildred Barbour. Saturday—Betty Compson in "White Shadows."
LIBERTY
Sunday and Monday—Neal Hart in "Verdict of the Desert."
Tuesday and Wednesday—William Farnum in "Wolves of the North."
Thursday and Friday—Fred Thompson in "Thundering Hoofs."
Saturday—Edmund Cobb in "Midnight Shadows."

Double Feature Bill Offered at Pearce

A double feature program is announced by the management of the Holton theatres as their offering at the Pearce theatre for Wednesday through Friday, when William Farnum in "Wolves of the North" and Richard Wallon Tully's production "Trills" will comprise the bill.

Trills, telling in a French language, comes to the notice of an artist who wants to sketch her beautiful feet, and in Paris, she meets an English boy studying art in the Latin quarter. On the night of their betrothal, Trills is hypnotized, and there follows a unique course of events.

In "Wolves of the North," the Enoch Arden motif is carried out in the story with a different treatment from the usual run of these plots, the producers claim, thrills and action, with tense moments relieved by dashes of comedy, are featured in the William Farnum play.

SCARF NOT SEPARATE

Scarves on the newest Paris creations are no longer separate from the costume, but are a part of it and often form the collar line.

IN THE PICTURES

Adolphe Menjou and Jetta Goudal in "Open All Night" at Peoples; Scene from "Meet The Wife," featuring Mabel Brownell, at Elks; Lower left, Charles Emmett Mack in "America," at Strand; lower right, Alma Rubens in "Catherine," at Peoples.

Liberty Theatre

Sunday—Monday
Neal Hart
Verdict of the Desert
Comedy and News

Tuesday—Wednesday
"Beautiful Sinner"
"Her Rodeo Hero" and LARRY SEMON

Thursday—Friday
"Thundering Hoofs"
Wolves of the North

Saturday
"Midnight Shadows"
Comedy and News

ELKS THEATRE

FIRST ROAD ATTRACTION
SUNDAY, NOV. 9

To insure first class future bookings the theatre management urges you to attend this show. The company comes well recommended and is positively guaranteed as one of the very best attractions of the season.

SEAT SALE OPENS WEDNESDAY, NOV. 5TH
ELKS THEATRE PHONES 410-632

Last Season JULES HURDIG Sent You "JUST MARRIED" AND YOU LIKED IT THIS SEASON HE INVITES YOU TO

MEET THE WIFE

THE BEST COMEDY IN THE WHOLE WIDE WORLD with MABEL BROWNELL YOU WILL LOVE HER One Solid Year at the Klaw Theatre, New York By arrangement with Stewart & French

Prices $1.00 to $2.50—Plus Tax

'If Winter Comes' Was Partly Filmed In England

THE CAST
Mark Sabre Percy Marmont
Twynning Sydney Herbert
Rev. Sebastian Fortune William Riley Hatch
Lord Tybar Raymond Elton
Harold Twynning Wallace Kolb
Young Perch Russell Sedgwick
"Hump" Leslie King
Old Bright George Peizer
Coroner James Ten Brook
Hapgood Arthur Metcalf
Nona, Lady Tybar Ann Forrest
Mabel Margaret Fielding
Erlie Gladys Leslie
High Jinks Dorothy Allen
Low Jinks Eleanor Daniels
Miss Winifred Virginia Lee
Mrs. Perch Eugenie Woodward

Faithful portrayal of a well known novel is promised by the producers for the production, "If Winter Comes," from the novel of that name by A. S. M. Hutchinson, which comes to the Strand theatre to run Tuesday through Friday.

The story has been taken up at a point near the middle of the book, jumping into the heart of the story. Characterization of Mark Sabre, played by Percy Marmont, is reported as the outstanding feature of the film production of the book.

Scenes of the story, laid in modern England, have been followed closely, parts of England having been used as the sites for filming of the play.

Betty Compson Plays Double Role In 'White Shadows'

THE CAST
Nancy Brent Betty Compson
Robin Field Clive Brook
Maurice Brent A. E. Ineson
Elizabeth Brent Daisy Campbell
Georgina Brent Betty Compson
Louis Chadwick Henry Victor

The story of "White Shadows," starring Betty Compson, which comes to the Cameo theatre Thursday through Saturday, was written for the screen by Michael Morton, and vividly depicts effect one life may have upon another.

London, and English country estate, Switzerland and Paris form the backgrounds for "White Shadows," and the production was actually filmed on these locales and not in movie studios, the producers claim.

Adventures of a restless, headless girl and the influence on her of her sweet, unselfish twin sister, are used through the play to carry on the story. Scenes shift rapidly through the European settings, and plenty of action to make the picture interesting is in the make-up.

Election Returns at the ELKS THEATRE

Tuesday, Nov. 4th
BEGINNING 7:30 P. M.

County, State and National returns by direct wire.

Returns flashed on screen by movie machine.

Plenty of comfortable seats.

Good Music

PRICES—Lower Floor 25c. Balcony 15c

OUR EASY TERMS Will Put a Phonograph in Your Home

Playertone

The Playertone Phonograph will go far toward making your home a place of entertainment and pleasure. There are no lonesome moments in the home with a Playertone. There is no place for a grouchy or that blue feeling in the home with a Playertone. For dancing, the world's best orchestras are at your service. For military music, why not the world's best bands? For singing why not the world's greatest artists? And besides, the Playertone is a handsome piece of furniture. What more do you want in a phonograph?

Easy Terms

Meteor

The Meteor is taking the music world by storm. Its clear tone, its ability to play any record, its good looks places the Meteor in the class with the best.

Easy Terms

Strand

Here is the beautiful Strand Console. No finer instrument has yet been made. Plays any make of record just as the artists want their works played. With a tone as near the human singing tone as it is possible to get. Better come in tomorrow morning and let us demonstrate the Strand for you.

GULF FURNITURE CO.
600 Houston Phone 995
"Make Your Own Terms"

CAMEO Starting Today for 4 Big Days

MILDRED BARBOUR'S EXTRAORDINARY STORY...

BORROWED HUSBANDS with FLORENCE VIDOR, ROCKCLIFFE FELLOWE, EARLE WILLIAMS, ROBERT GORDON

A DAVID SMITH PRODUCTION

Secret Loves, Men Were Only Playthings

BEST MUSIC IN THE CITY

STRAND SAT. PEOPLES SUN.-MON.-TUES.

'AMERICA' 'OPEN ALL NIGHT'

VIOLA DANA —With— ADOLPHE MENJOU

PEARCE 'BABBITT'

NOW PLAYING By Sinclair Lewis From Saturday Evening Post Story

STRAND 'IF WINTER COMES'

ERNEST TORRENCE —With— ALMA O. NILSSON

NOW PLAYING "The Side Show of Life"

STARTING TUESDAY

Ferguson Estimates 'Ma' Will Defeat Butte 355,000 on Basis of August Runoff

SAYS JEFFERSON IS SOLID FOR MA

Forecasts Sweeping Victory In Signed Statement

Special to The News.

TEMPLE, Texas, Nov. 1.—Former Governor James E. Ferguson predicts the center of the first page of the Ferguson Forum of this week to a prediction that Mrs. Ferguson will defeat Butte for governor on November 4 by two and one-half to one, and estimates her probable majority as 355,000.

Ferguson in his article assumes the position of chief campaign manager. He declares that nine out of ten of the negro votes will be cast for Mrs. Ferguson and that the heavy German republican vote of South and South-west Texas will be cast for Ma.

He declares that Tarrant (Fort Worth), Harris (Houston), Jefferson (Port Arthur and Beaumont), Lamar (Paris), will give Ferguson a majority.

Ferguson's signed statement follows:

"Every day my friends are writing me about the outcome of the contest which my wife is making with this Butte-Klux crowd. Of course when an election gets to where every candidate is going to beat another by the hundreds of thousands, the approximate majority becomes a matter of estimate only. Such is the case in reference to the majority of my wife and the rest of the democratic ticket.

I made five speeches last week in Hill, Navarro, Henderson, Kaufman and Collin counties. The smallest crowd which I had was 2,000 people in Hill county and the largest was 6,000 people in Collin county. All of these counties were carried by my wife in the last campaign by a substantial majority and it is quite evident that in this election her majority will be doubled in these counties. I am sure that my wife will get as much majority in Collin county alone as it is possible for Butte to get in Dallas county.

Total Vote in Doubt

"The size of the total vote is somewhat in doubt and I hardly think it will be as much as it was in the runoff primary, but that as it may, the scheme of the Ku Klux to slip on somebody and silently get their crowd to the polls while hoping that our crowd would stay at home is now a blown-up proposition. Our friends got onto the scheme early and mark my prediction. Our crowd will go to the polls in greater numbers than the crowd of the opposition. My estimate now is that Butte will carry twenty counties in the state and it is a lead-pipe cinch that he will not begin to be as strong as Felix Robertson was. In twelve counties, to wit: Lamar, Potter, Smith, Tarrant, Dallas, El Paso, Grayson, Hall, Hardin, Harris, Hunt and Jefferson, Robertson had a majority of 25,000 votes. It is dead sure now that he will not carry either Lamar, Tarrant, Harris or Jefferson counties and the Robertson majority will be decidedly reduced in those counties by 9,000 votes, leaving him a majority of only 16,000 in these eight counties. He probably might carry twelve other counties of the state, but I do not honestly believe that he will. Our friends need not be surprised if he loses some of the eight counties which I have conceded to him. Our friends in these counties are making a heroic fight and I know the Robertson Ku Klux majority in these counties will be very materially cut down.

Republicans for Ma

"I do not want anybody to think I am bragging but mark this prediction: My wife will get more republican votes than Butte will. The reason for it is quite evident. In the first place, the republican party has become so disgraced and disreputable in the minds of the people that even the negroes, who have been the backbone of the republican party, could have been counted on to vote solidly for the republican nominee, now openly refuse to do so any more and now there is so much corruption laid at the door of the republican party that the colored man feels that his self-respect and whatever standing he has had heretofore will be materially compromised if he voted for Butte this year. With all his lack of opportunity for an education, the colored man is too smart to be fooled by the republicans who run a candidate of the Ku Klux, who have been guilty of more outrages against the colored man than all the other organizations that have ever existed. And therefore, my wife will get ten colored votes to where Butte will get one.

"Again down in the south and southwest Texas counties where the republicans are strong, they recognize that the election of a Ku Klux would mean more trouble to them in two years than the benefits which a republican governor could bring in 50 years. Therefore, they are going to the polls almost solidly against Butte. They can consistently do this because they did not go into any primary and take upon themselves any pledge and are therefore left free to vote as they choose. For instance, Bexar county that went for a republican congressman last time, will again this time go for my wife by at least 6,000 majority. Just watch my prediction.

Basis of Estimate

"Therefore, summing up the whole situation, taking the runoff primary as a basis, my wife will get the 440,000 votes which she received in the last primary and she will get one-fourth of the Robertson vote of 340,000 votes, which would be 85,000 votes. And this to 140,000 votes and it will be seen that my wife will get 225,000 votes. On the other hand, if Butte got all the remaining Robertson votes it will only give him 255,000 votes, or a majority for my wife of 270,000 votes. But everybody knows that at least one-fourth of the Robertson voters will not vote, so in reality one of the people who went in the last primary Butte will only get 70,000 votes, and as my wife will get 225,000 votes on the basis of the August runoff primary. However, there is yet 100,000 republican votes to be accounted for. While I think my wife, as stated, will get more republican votes than Butte will, yet in order to be perfectly fair with him, I will concede to him 100,000 votes. This would make his total vote 225,000, and giving the same amount to my wife would give her 325,000, or a majority of 100,000 votes.

"Now, of course, I understand that the total number of votes in the election may not be this much. I do not believe it will, but whatever it is I predict that it will be in the proportion I have indicated. If my wife gets 225,000 votes, I predict that my wife will beat Butte 2-1 to 1 on any vote that may be cast.

"In order to make the result sure I appeal to our friends everywhere to turn out and vote and forever banish the Ku Klux heresy and the republican foolishness from Texas. My wife desires that her sincere thanks be extended to our friends everywhere for their loyalty, for their courage and for their devotion to the great principles upon which this great campaign is founded."

DRIVE TO OPEN FOR MEMORIAL

Active Campaign Launched For Bailey Fund

DENTON, Nov. 1.—An active campaign for funds to be devoted to the proposed Bailey memorial at the College of Industrial Arts is scheduled to begin this weekend. Money raised in the project will be devoted to erecting a new building, on the campus, to memorializing one of the buildings now standing, or to supplement a legislative appropriation for a building.

The soliciting committee, selected from the entire memorial committee, has agreed upon the following plan: A special letter is to be mailed to each of the 2,000 graduates of the college, asking for cash and time subscriptions.

DOHENY FIRM MADE BEST BID, CLAIM

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—Attempting to prove that competition in the bidding on the construction work of naval oil storage facilities at Pearl Harbor, Honolulu, was very limited, Owen J. Roberts, associate prosecution counsel, will further cross-examine H. Foster Bain, director of the United States Bureau of Mines, at today's session of the government's suit to break the Elkhills reserve leases held by the Pan-American Oil companies.

The Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, one of the organizations controlled by E. L. Doheny, was the only firm which made an out and out bid on the work with no strings attached. Roberts hopes to disclose,

SOCIETY

Mrs. J. C. Brennan Entertains Club

Members of the Friday Afternoon Bridge club were entertained by Mrs. J. C. Brennan on the club's name day at her home, 1133 Procter street.

The hostess' selection of a Halloween theme to feature the party affair was displayed in the orange and black colors about the rooms and in the card table appointments. Autumn blossoms gave floral charm to the decorations.

In the games Mrs. Kyle Dowdy was awarded the prize for high score and Mrs. A. G. Stanton received the low score. A dainty refreshment course, reflecting the chosen scheme, was served after the games.

The tables of players enjoyed the diversion, included among whom were Mrs. Kyle Dowdy, Mrs. H. B. Paggi, Mrs. J. M. Foster, Mrs. A. G. Stanton, Mrs. E. H. Ward Jr., Mrs. Roy Kellogg, Mrs. Jim Minter and Mrs. J. C. Brennan.

Mrs. A. L. Carter will entertain the club next week at her home, 2812 Eighth street.

MARY BELL AND EARL DEDMAN ENTERTAIN

Mary Bell and Earl Dedman entertained with a Halloween party at the home of their mother, Mrs. Hazel Dedman, 2200 Twelfth street, Friday evening.

Halloween decorations and spoils galore were throughout the home. During the evening the children bobbed for apples, and enjoyed contests, following which refreshments of punch and cake, pop corn balls and candies were served.

Participating in the Halloween party were Wilma Claes, Clarence Taylor, Maudie Clem, Neal Person, Stephen Henry, Ronald Dawson, Onedia Thorn, David Harvey, Dawson, Donald Louis, Mildred Carlos, Dorothy, Joseph, Cyrus, Blackmon, Judith Taylor, Katherine Cunningham, Carol Williams, Mary Thorn, Martin Grierson, Charles Gar, Elmo, Ott, Francis Hall, Helen Spence, E. Bennett, Mary C. Taylor, Vander Vidrine, Edward Daigle, Rudolph Taylor, Gladys Brennan, Joyce Smallwood, Herbert Johnson, Milton Ball, Maud Higgs, Claud English, Edgar Hunter, Ruth Betterson, Mildred Youngblood, Maudie Clem, Henry Earl McBride, Y. L. McBride, Ruth Gay, Lester Benton, and Mary Bell and Earl Dedman.

MRS. POLLOCK HOSTESS TO CIRCLE SEVEN

Mrs. A. S. Pollock entertained Circle Seven of the First Baptist Auxiliary Friday afternoon at her home, 2609 Sixth street. Mrs. R. L. Porter led the devotional service, following which the work for the new year was discussed at the business session at which time Mrs. F. A. Dwyer presided. An interesting program on "The Lady of the Kimono" was in charge of Mrs. Warren Baker, at the close of which delicious refreshments were served.

Those present were Mrs. N. B. Hampton, Mrs. P. G. Potts, Mrs. R. L. Porter, Mrs. F. A. Dwyer, Mrs. Warren Baker and Mrs. A. S. Pollock.

T. E. L. CLASS TO MEET MONDAY

The T. E. L. class of the Central Baptist church will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. M. Anderson, 724 Lake Charles avenue. Election of officers will feature this session and it is hoped that all members will be in attendance.

AUXILIARY HAS SPECIAL PROGRAM

The Women's Auxiliary of the First Baptist church met Thursday afternoon at the church in a special program with Mrs. C. W. Culp in charge.

Mrs. R. A. Collins had charge of the devotional service after which Mrs. J. T. Yardley told of the Baptist sanitariums and Mrs. W. P. Irwin gave a short talk on "Tithing and Sabbath Observance." A pleasing duet was given by Mrs. O. A. Groves and Mrs. C. W. Culp, following which Mrs. E. Cordell told of the White Cross and Mrs. W. O. Woodson spoke of Buckner's Orphanage.

The Women's Auxiliary recently adopted an aged minister. At yesterday's session Mrs. A. W. Dwyer gave a short sketch of his life and other sidelights on his life were given by Mrs. S. M. Humphrey and Mrs. G. W. Stewart. Mrs. T. E. Cannedy, president of the Southeast Texas Auxiliary, was in attendance and told of her visit to Buckner's Orphanage and announced a meeting of the Baptist women in Beaumont November 10 to arrange the 1925 program.

Forty women attended yesterday's program, at the close of which a box for Buckner's Orphanage was packed and sent to Dallas.

MISS CAMILLA BAKER TENDERED SHOWER

Miss Camilla Baker, a pretty bride-elect of the month, was tendered a miscellaneous shower Wednesday afternoon by the Terminal girls in the office. After the shower was presented Miss Baker, tasty refreshments of pie, sandwiches and candy were served.

Enjoying the pleasing affair were Misses Marian Trahan, Adele Black, Blanche Fisher, Altha Talley, Maud Gayle, Alma Garrett, Gladys Garrett, Wee Wee Griffin, Louise Jansford, Mrs. Clara Valverde, Mrs. Mabel Wrist, Mrs. Orta Engelson, Mrs. John Ludwig, Misses Edna Ellisworth, Ernestine Singletary, Jeanne Seville, Eva Butler, Hestia Reese, Bessie Reese, and Mrs. H. Q. Preston.

HALLOWEEN REVELER SLAIN IN GUN DUEL

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 1.—A revolver battle between two youths in a downtown cafe crowded with Halloween revelers resulted in the death shortly after midnight of Calvin Franklin, 23.

Police today were looking for Geo. Wells, 24, whom they accuse of the shooting. Both youths, officers said, had been drinking and drew their guns during the heat of a quarrel over some girl companions.

EPISCOPAL MEETING ENDS AT CLEBURNE

CLEBURNE, Nov. 1.—Episcopal clergymen from various parishes of the Dallas diocese ended their meeting here by selecting Denison as the next meeting place.

The session will be held on November 25. Bishop Harvey T. Moore of Dallas presided at the closing session.

ENDEAVORERS HEAR DAVIS

Addresses Convention Here At Presbyterian Church

Taking as his text, Romans 12:2, the text for the convention, Rev. T. Alvin Davis addressed the Beaumont District C. E. convention last night at the Presbyterian church on "Right Living—For My Country."

"No man liveth unto himself," declared the speaker. "That is a universal law. There is a relationship we must maintain with our family, our home, our community, our church, and the whole nation. Our country is a type of this relationship. Think of it in its broadest sense—right living for my country."

"What is right living? It is in having a renewed mind, a transformed or cultured mind. The world today demands the man of vision—one who is not shackled down. The Endeavorer who is to make the greatest progress is the one who has his face forward."

"Why should we live for our country? First, because of its heroic spirits, its struggles; secondly, because of its achievements; and last because of its outlook upon the future. Live right for your country so that your country may honor you when you are gone."

At the opening session of the convention, Miss Sophia Jaschke, president of the Beaumont District Union, presided and appointed the following committees: Nominating committee, Rev. D. W. McElroy of Silsbee, chairman, Miss Agnes Goode and Miss Nina Nowory of Beaumont and D. W. Barron of Port Arthur; resolutions committee, Misses Agnes Christofferson, chairman, Stella Cantley of Beaumont and Gertrude McDougal of Silsbee; singing convention committee, Anser Boner of Beaumont, chairman, Miss Bernice Gay of Silsbee, Miss Gladys Garrett and F. W. Johnson of Port Arthur.

"The Do's and Don'ts" of the convention were given by Jack Huppertz, state field secretary, and at the close of the convention sessions the young people were entertained with a delightful Halloween party at the annex.

THE OSTRICH

By Samuel Hopkins Adams

(Continued from preceding page)

Didn't your husband have a w-w-w-wart or a mole or a b-b-b-birthmark or something somewhere on his anatomy?"

"Whadda you mean, anatomy?" demanded Mrs. Johnson in extreme resentment.

"Remember there's ladies present. He ain't got a mark anywhere on him."

"That's what I meant," explained Mr. Johnson, hastily and apologetically.

"The only queer thing about him—you, I mean—is your face and always has been. It's either B. G. Johnson's face or it ain't. So here's your chance."

"I think Mrs. Johnson is quite right," supported Miss Wrenn firmly.

"She isn't M-m-m-mrs. Johnson."

"Listen to that, will you?" The human fly's extremely pretty face took on a pathetic droop. "The trouble I've had with that man since I married him! And I only did it because he was so sort of helpless and kiddish and contrary, like a big baby with nobody to look after him. You know how he gets at your feelings if you're a little soft. [Betty reddened; didn't she know?] Well, we had a bit of scrap a couple weeks ago and I gotta admit I beat him up a little rougher than maybe I had oughta. He was an athlete, you see, and him not much good that way."

"Whadda you think he went and done? Ran away and joined a bunch of hoodlums operating on this way to Canada. And him [with a swell college education. That's what all them read made in for—hoonch routes. Think of his play in with that gang of toughs, a little, wizened, lily fingered, pink cheeked shrimp like him!]

At this picturesque but unflattering depiction, Betty Wrenn's heart gave a sharp and unexpected bound. "That doesn't sound like him," said she. "Are you sure there isn't some mistake?"

"Maybe there is and maybe there ain't," replied the other grimly. "But I can tell them one thing; here I stuck until I see his name."

"He do," added the girl.

Mr. Johnson contributed nothing more distinctive than a hollow groan.

"Well, spell each other," suggested the athlete. "If you'll take the first trick, that'll gimme a chance to telephone back to my lawyer. She consulted a super-jeweled twist watch. "Six fifty. I'll be back at nine, and take the rest of the night. Anxious as it wouldn't be proper for a swell girl like you to stay here late in the rooms of a cheap sport—"

"It's a d-d-d-damn lie," shouted the jalled and badgered man.

"O, stutter yourself to death and I'll match this lady for your corpse," said the heartless Mrs. Johnson. "You sit on the lid and get back, Wrenn."

The door slammed decisively behind her. Betty wandered over to the window. Now that her suspicions, for a time seriously involved, were allayed and she was practically assured of Mrs. Johnson's error, she began to consider her own sensations with astonished mingling. What did it matter to her to whom B. G. Johnson was or was not married. Yet the first manifestation of the supposed Mrs. B. G. had caused her a feeling which she could only describe to herself as "completely sunk." Now, with her revelation of relief was mingled an illogical and whimsical determination to get even with B. G. Johnson for her unpleasant and inexplicable experience as if it were that poor unfortunate's fault. Anyway, she decided that she should not only exhibit but show some human interest in her before she left that room; so much was due, she decided with a peculiarly feminine twist of reasoning to her own self-respect.

A prudent crack opened in the inner door, through which the voice of the doomed victim percolated.

"Has that fellow gone yet?"

"Is that the way to speak of your wife?" reproved Miss Wrenn.

"She isn't my wife."

"She seems to think she is. Are you quite sure you didn't marry her in one of your fits of absent mind?"

"I never married any one," declared the principle. "I never wanted to marry any one until—"

"Until what?" queried Miss Wrenn with interest, as the voice died.

"I tell you, I don't even know the woman," she reverted piously.

"Then why wouldn't you face her?"

No reply.

"And why won't you face me?"

The silence embodied an invincible obduracy.

"Are you a bootlegger, Betty?"

"No. I'm an engineer. And you're interfering my work disastrously."

"What a shame! She answered with over-elaborate remorse. "But I don't see how it can be helped under the circumstances, do you?"

"Yes, I do. That is, if you really wanted to help and would play fair."

To this there is but one reply possible for a self-respecting girl. Betty delivered it with dignity. "I always play fair."

"Then if you'd just close your eyes and keep them closed while you push my typewriter through the door, you could read to me from that paper on the table while I copy it."

"Indeed! So kind of you! Why should I?"

"Why, you see, you've wasted a lot of my time."

"Waited!" cried the indignant guard. "Do you consider it wasted time to be with me?"

"Well, I couldn't work while I was with you, could I?" returned the other reasonably. "Now while I was away from you for quite a time," he muttered. "So I thought you might be willing to make it up."

She glanced at the papers. "It looks very dull," she complained.

"Most interesting job I ever tackled," was the quick retort. "But, of course, if you don't care to—"

"O, I suppose I've got to kill time some way. I'll try it."

On opposite sides of a half open door the two sat down to their work. For an interminable hour, Betty read calculations and specifications in a language as strange to her as Greek. Then her voice began to falter.

"What's the matter?" demanded the typist impatiently. "Are you losing interest?"

"Interest? O, Lord! I'm sleepy; that's what's the matter," yawned the reader. "If you'd set up daylight last night—just you did, didn't you?"

"I'd forgotten about your being out," said the gloomily. "I'm a selfish brute. You lie down on that couch and go to sleep. I can easily finish alone."

"You won't try to make a sneak on me!" doubtfully asked the jaller.

"Well, I'll trust you so far."

She threw herself down. Her breathing softened into regularity. B. G. Johnson, shutting himself in again, addressed himself to his work with concentration. But his attention wavered, flagged, and presently faltered. Rising, he peered out at the sleeping sentinel. He returned to his typewriter, snatched the page of figures violently out, inserted a fresh sheet, and began to write with passionate speed and fervor. At the end of each paragraph he refreshed his eyes with a long look at the slumbering girl. Once, making a long arm, he secured from the stand one of those volumes of poetry which had so charmed his original captor. When the task was finished he read it over, amended it, shook his head despondently, and after mature consideration addressed an envelope into which he slipped it. He looked again into the outer room, and thought that he saw the occupant of the couch shiver a little. Gathering a coverlet in his arms, he seemed to lack conviction.

Butty stamped her small foot with violence. "O, good-by—stupid!" she cried, and her voice shook a little.

At that it happened. Now Betty honestly expected and wanted it to happen only once; but it seemed to happen half a dozen times in all on a flashing, thrilling second.

Betty gasped. "This is no place for me," she decided in a swift and unhesitating moment of spirit. It had suddenly and most unexpectedly been revealed to her, among other things, that marrying or even being engaged to Fernald might be the last thing on earth possible to her, and she wondered idly why she hadn't perceived it before. Also she wished very much to get along with herself and figure out what this astonishing development might portend. She groped for the door again, and snatched her hand back as footsteps approached in the hall outside.

"What's that?" she demanded, her voice dropping to a startled whisper.

Footsteps pausing along the hall, paused outside. "Who left that bar down?" grumbled some one, and the impact of the heavy wood setting into place was like a blow.

The girl's face became set and pinched. "They've locked me in," she said under her breath. Then, with swift apprehensiveness, "What time is it?"

"Half past eleven."

She stifled a cry. "It can't be. Why isn't Mrs. Johnson back?"

"I don't care if she never gets back," he asserted with ferocity.

"Well, I do. How could you tell me stay here like this? Why didn't you tell me how late it was?"

"I didn't think of it."

"No; you wouldn't," she retorted bitterly. "You wouldn't think of a little thing like a girl's reputation. I suppose you think I can safely spend the night here with you."

"Are you afraid of me?" There was an apellid incredibly in his tone.

"O, you poor innocent!" she cried. "Can't you understand? There's no way of getting me out now without raising the hotel, and what will they think of my being in your room at this time of night?"

"Say, I'll morning then. You can have the whole room and I'll stay out here."

"I suppose you think that's a helpful idea!" was the disgusted rejoinder. "Can't you do something?"

"I could make a rope of the sheets and lower you to the ground."

"Right past the ballroom windows on the next floor, and a dance going on now. And I've got five minutes to Fernald Bright."

"You! Fernald Bright?"

"Yes! I wouldn't have bothered you about marrying Fernald," she retorted with slow bitterness. "That'll be off after tonight."

"I don't think I understand you," said he painfully.

"It's about you, then. After what will be said about me when I'm found here, no man would want to marry me. Can you understand that?"

There was a long pause. Then B. G. Johnson perpetrated the most fatal blunder in the whole long list of things not to do. He said in a small and terrified voice, "I'll marry you."

Another long pause followed, filled with what Mr. Johnson bewilderment, allied to be outrageous vibrations. Then the girl made what he could not but regard as a cynical remark in a still more curious voice, "I'm going to open my eyes."

"No!" he cried. "Then—What for?"

With deadly deliberation she replied, "I want to see what a man looks like when he thinks he's as noble as you think you are right now."

There was a click somewhere.

"I don't think anything of the sort," said B. G. Johnson stultically.

She opened her eyes to complete darkness, the click having switched off the lights. "It's just as well," she informed him. "I hope I never see you again. You're the most absolutely detestable human being—"

"You needn't hate me, even if you don't want to marry me now if you were the last man on earth."

He caught at the emphasis. "What do you mean, now?" he nervously said to say. "Do you mean that I ever had a chance?"

"You might have had—if you hadn't spoiled everything."

In the light Betty never would have said that. But the darkness and her wrath made her reckless. All she wanted now was to stab.

"But I've wanted to all along," he protested. "Ever since I first saw you. Only I didn't realize it till today. I'll do so much else on my mind."

"I guess that helps," said the sardonic Betty.

"You don't believe it? That I wanted to marry you before—"

"I don't."

"Won't you take my word for it?"

"I won't."

"Isn't there any way I could make you believe me?"

"There isn't. Never! Never! Never! After this."

"Just my luck!" mourned B. G. Johnson. "To fall in love with a girl and not find out what's the matter with me till too late."

"Fall in love!" retorted the girl contemptuously. "You don't know how you—your oyster. Go back to your figuring. It's all yours good for."

"I suppose it is," he agreed. His voice became more assured. "But don't you worry about Bright. I'll square it with him. I'll make him understand, and if he so much as dares to think anything—"

"O, let me alone!" cried Betty miserably. "Haven't you messed this up enough already?"

Which, had he thought it out, was something less than just to him. But he was not in a state to think anything out, for he heard, from the couch where she had thrown herself, a sound that constricted his heart like a clamp.

"Betty," he said.

"No. Go away. I loathe you."

"You're crying."

"What if I am? I'm not."

Nothing better suggested itself to his groping mind, at this uncompromising reply than to suggest: "Don't you want to go into my room and wash up? Maybe that'll make you feel better."

"Nothing'll make me feel better, ever," prophesied the girl. Nevertheless, she groped her way to the door, and entered.

The first thing she noticed as her eyes focused in the strong light was a stand containing a pile of neatly arranged sheets and beside them her name on an envelope.

"Is this for me?" she asked.

"What?"

"This letter addressed 'Betty'?"

"O, yes," said the hopeless voice outside.

"Dear Betty,"

"Why? What's in it?"

"It's—a sort of—a love letter."

"What? Typed?" Her laughter cleared the murky air. "Of course, you'd type a love letter."

"My handwriting is so bad," he excused himself.

"I'm going to read it."

"What's the use?" was the despondent reply.

There was a silence broken by little soft sounds which suggested a smile and yet were almost too tender for mirth. "Poetry, too," murmured Betty. "Good gracious!"

"Isn't that usual?" he inquired anxiously. "I got a volume of Shelley on purpose."

"It's more usual in love letters than typing, I believe," she reassured. "It's lovely. When did you say this was written?"

"O, somewhere about 1310, I suppose."

"Not the poetry, idiot!" said Betty softly. "The letter."

"O, that! This evening. While you were asleep on the lounge."

"Before you thought you had to be noble and—save me from shame and all that sort of thing," commented the girl.

"I didn't," barked B. G. Johnson.

"Anyway, you did take some sort of human interest in me before that."

"Isn't that what I've been trying to tell you? And you said you never believe me."

"But this letter changes everything," she pointed out. "I've got to believe that."

Something resembling suspiciously a hol-low groan greeted these glad tidings.

"What did you say?" demanded Betty,

He caught at the emphasis. "What do you mean, now?" he nervously said to say. "Do you mean that I ever had a chance?"

"You might have had—if you hadn't spoiled everything."

In the light Betty never would have said that. But the darkness and her wrath made her reckless. All she wanted now was to stab.

"But I've wanted to all along," he protested. "Ever since I first saw you. Only I didn't realize it till today. I'll do so much else on my mind."

"I guess that helps," said the sardonic Betty.

"You don't believe it? That I wanted to marry you before—"

"I don't."

"Won't you take my word for it?"

"I won't."

"Isn't there any way I could make you believe me?"

"There isn't. Never! Never! Never! After this."

"Just my luck!" mourned B. G. Johnson. "To fall in love with a girl and not find out what's the matter with me till too late."

"Fall in love!" retorted the girl contemptuously. "You don't know how you—your oyster. Go back to your figuring. It's all yours good for."

"I suppose it is," he agreed. His voice became more assured. "But don't you worry about Bright. I'll square it with him. I'll make him understand, and if he so much as dares to think anything—"

"O, let me alone!" cried Betty miserably. "Haven't you messed this up enough already?"

Which, had he thought it out, was something less than just to him. But he was not in a state to think anything out, for he heard, from the couch where she had thrown herself, a sound that constricted his heart like a clamp.

"Betty," he said.

"No. Go away. I loathe you."

"You're crying."

"What if I am? I'm not."

Nothing better suggested itself to his groping mind, at this uncompromising reply than to suggest: "Don't you want to go into my room and wash up? Maybe that'll make you feel better."

"Nothing'll make me feel better, ever," prophesied the girl. Nevertheless, she groped her way to the door, and entered.

The first thing she noticed as her eyes focused in the strong light was a stand containing a pile of neatly arranged sheets and beside them her name on an envelope.

"Is this for me?" she asked.

"What?"

"This letter addressed 'Betty'?"

"O, yes," said the hopeless voice outside.

"Dear Betty,"

"Why? What's in it?"

"It's—a sort of—a love letter."

"What? Typed?" Her laughter cleared the murky air. "Of course, you'd type a love letter."

"My handwriting is so bad," he excused himself.

"I'm going to read it."

"What's the use?" was the despondent reply.

There was a silence broken by little soft sounds which suggested a smile and yet were

Mrs. Bushong Hostess To Missionary Society

Mrs. F. A. Bushong opened her home on Fifth street to the Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist Episcopal church Thursday afternoon for the monthly session.

The Halloween idea was carried out in the home adornment, and was reflected in the dainty refreshment service that was offered after the games. Punch was served during the afternoon with Mrs. C. R. Robinson presiding at punch bowl, assisted by Mrs. Charles Stevenson.

An interesting lesson was given during the afternoon hours, with Mrs. C. V. Palmer in charge of the devotional service on "Stewardship of Giving," and Mrs. C. W. Rodgers conducting the study lesson on "Missionary Year and Why—Threefold Stewardship." Mrs. E. D. Streeter told the story of "The Titan Egg," and Mrs. George E. Carter told of "Miss Fragrant's Money," after which Mrs. F. A. Bushong asked, "Which is Yours?" and told a charming missionary story.

Those in attendance Thursday were Mrs. Frank Waller, Mrs. C. R. Stevenson, Mrs. S. Loeb, Mrs. A. Prahon, Mrs. C. R. Robinson, Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. C. V. Palmer, Mrs. E. J. Smith, Mrs. G. W. Rodgers, Mrs. C. W. Rodgers, Mrs. A. B. Chener, Mrs. C. A. McDonald, Mrs. J. A. Paschal, Mrs. L. B. Abbey, Mrs. W. H. Acher, Mrs. Haynes of Welch, La., Mrs. P. S. DeWitt, Mrs. B. Glicksburg, Mrs. Bert Hughes and Mrs. F. A. Bushong.

ST. GEORGE'S AUXILIARY IN INTERESTING MEET

St. George's Auxiliary met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. H. Eubank, 2301 Lake Shore drive.

Rev. John Ridout, rector of St. George's church, gave a short talk to the women, telling of the importance of missionary work. The afternoon hours were devoted to mending for the Red Cross chapter, following which the hostess served a dainty refreshment course.

Those present were Mrs. Anna Sherman, Mrs. C. C. Blackman, Mrs. Nora Keith, Mrs. T. T. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Barron, Mrs. J. G. Glasgow, Rev. and Mrs. John Ridout, and Mrs. G. H. Eubank.

DR. KATHRYN BEHMER ENTERTAINS FOR MOTHER

Dr. Kathryn Behmer entertained a few friends Thursday afternoon at her home, 2727 Fifth street, in honor of her mother, Mrs. Anna Schalkleton, who has just returned from a summer's visit in California. The occasion was also Mrs. Schalkleton's seventy-fourth birthday.

Autumn flowers and green ferns and foliage were used by the hostess in the adornment of the home. Twenty guests called during the afternoon hours, which were spent in needlework and chatting. Miss C. Van Tyne and Mrs. Walter Crockett, prominent musicians, entertained the guests with several delightful piano selections. Punch was served during the afternoon hours, following which a dainty ice course was offered.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN ATTEND CONFERENCE

The following women of the Port Arthur Westminster Presbyterian church attended the District Council of Women's Auxiliaries, which met at Beaumont Thursday in all day session: Mrs. A. M. Armstrong, Mrs. C. B. Moore, Mrs. H. M. Heffner, Mrs. G. H. Maul, Mrs. Sublett, Mrs. D. C. Higginbotham, Mrs. K. L. Goss, Mrs. W. W. Dunn, Mrs. Walter Tate, Mrs. W. P. Hansman, Mrs. F. H. Seubold, Mrs. S. A. Smith, Mrs. Felix Broussard, Mrs. C. P. Livengood, Mrs. A. M. Heffner, Mrs. J. C. Maul and Mrs. T. S. Tyson.

DANCE PROVES DELIGHTFUL

More than two hundred guests attended the Halloween dance at the Gulf club last evening.

At 11:30 o'clock the grand march was staged, with the guests being presented with balloons, confetti and serpentine, a Mardi Gras spirit prevailing throughout the remainder of the evening. Tuneful melodies were rendered by the Gloom Chasers orchestra for the entertainment of the guests.

MISSIONARY SPEAKS HERE

Mrs. Osborn of the Woman's Missionary society of the Congregational churches and a missionary of national reputation spoke to the women of the Congregational church Friday afternoon and told of what the church is doing toward home missions and of the inter-denominational results.

Mrs. J. C. Reynolds presided at Friday's sessions. A musical program, which was arranged by Mrs. Fred P. Dodge, was given with Miss Julia Jack Routh entertaining with several violin selections, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. L. B. Crockett. Miss Ethel King sang a beautiful solo accompanied by Mrs. I. A. Durke.

Mrs. Richer of Dallas, president of the woman's Home Missionary society in Texas, also gave a short talk.

Forty women were in attendance at Friday's meet. A dainty salad course was served at the close of the program.

Council of Jewish Women Entertain

Mrs. Sam Harris was hostess to a lovely bridge party Wednesday afternoon at her home, 1327 Procter street, the personnel of guests including members of the Council of Jewish Women.

Five tables of players enjoyed the games amid an environment made attractive with the Halloween motif. Bridge table necessities also reflected the motif, and in the games Mrs. M. Linoff of San Antonio scored high and was awarded the first prize while the second favor fell to Mrs. A. Dimond. Mrs. F. Friedman received the no-trump prize. A delectable salad course was offered after the games.

Miss Erbel Iles Hostess at Dance

Miss Erbel Iles pleasantly entertained a few friends with a Halloween party Friday evening at her home, 1828 Seventh street.

Decorations of orange and black were used with pretty effect in the decorations of the home, with jack-o'-lanterns casting a weird glow over the merry-makers. An orchestra furnished music throughout the evening while dancing and games were enjoyed. Refreshments of punch and cake were served.

Enjoying the affair were Misses Emily Provost, Lucy Provost, Adele Ellison, Gertrude Flanagan, Ursula Landry, Ernestine Myer, Jewel Wilson, Marie Louise Cormier, Ruby Lee Odum, Marie Oberle, Bertha Cazaui, Margaret Ward, Cleo Bradshaw, and Maurina Puteh; Messrs. Emil Provost, Basil Moran, Otto Rowl, Walter Reichle, Wallace Boyd, Keller Weber, J. H. Olson, Moody Bell, Robert Trahan, Luther Odum, F. Cazaui, Howard Iles, Alfred Beadle, George Steinhil, S. J. Stansbury, Roy Iles and Robert Bogel; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Iles, and the hostess, Miss Erbel Iles.

WOODMEN CIRCLE HAS HALLOWEEN PARTY

After the business session Thursday evening the Woodmen Circle entertained with a Halloween party. Mrs. W. G. Montgomery received the prize for the prettiest costume, and booby prizes were awarded Mrs. Edward Casper and O. Youngblood.

Refreshments were served by Mesdames Lincoln, Leon Little and W. G. Montgomery. Little Miss Mae Lincoln read during the evening and Mrs. Montgomery gave several piano numbers.

Mrs. M. J. Mitchell, guardian of the Woodmen Circle, has requested that all members of the circle meet in front of the First M. E. church, South, Monday night at 7 o'clock to attend the revival service in a body.

MISS JASCHKE GUEST OF MISS BOUTWELL

Miss Sophia Jaschke of Beaumont, president of the Beaumont C. E. district, is in the city attending the Christian Endeavor convention and while here is the guest of Miss Lois Boutwell at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Boutwell, 2100 Sixth street.

Mrs. Booz Entertains For Miss Watkeys

Miss Agnes Watkeys, who leaves soon for Rochester, Minn., for an indefinite stay, was complimented with a lovely handkerchief shower Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. C. E. Booz, Jr., at the home of Mrs. Booz's mother, Mrs. Peter Bos, 1840 Lake Shore Drive.

The home was adorned with a pink and white motif, with pretty blossoms of the season giving floral beauty. Needlework and chatting were enjoyed during the afternoon and at the time appointed for the shower Mrs. Booz presented Miss Watkeys with a white and pink checked box, filled with dainty handkerchiefs. A lovely refreshment course was offered during the late afternoon hours.

Guests included members of the Elders Krow society and additional friends among whom were Mrs. Harry Holton, Mrs. Sam Ransom, Jr., Mrs. M. Payne of Houston, Mrs. George Woodworth, Mrs. Grady Odum, Mrs. Tom Boyd, Mrs. J. C. Bendixen, Mrs. F. H. Waites, Mrs. L. S. Hidalgo, Mrs. Douglas Campbell, Mrs. Peter Bos, Miss Eva Jewel Giddens, Miss Agnes Watkeys and Mrs. C. E. Booz, Jr.

W. B. A. OF MACABEES TO ATTEND REVIVAL

All members of the W. B. A. of the Macabees are urged to attend the special Women's service at the revival being conducted at the First M. E. church, South. The special service will be held Monday night.

ALINE TURNER ENTERTAINS

Little Miss Aline Turner entertained a number of friends at a pleasing Halloween party Friday evening at her home, 3343 Sixth street. The Halloween colors of black and orange were featured in the decorations of the home, with Halloween emblems filling wall space and vantage points. Biting apples, pinning on the cat's tail, fortune telling and various other Halloween games were enjoyed. Billy Mosley captured the prize for pinning on the cat's tail and the booby fell to Kenneth Williams. Refreshments of punch, cake, pop corn balls were served.

Mrs. Turner was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. J. L. Williams, Mrs. J. R. Warren and Mrs. Hassell Road.

Those present were Lillian Repschlager, Marie Abshire, Etta Davis, Elizabeth Ellis, Geraldine Williams, Elinor Mae Strowbridge, Jane Strowbridge, Marjorie Spence, Maurice Warren, Willard Pinder, Bob Parks, Perry Pace, James Vardley, Allen Goldsmith, Billy Mosley, Russell Warren, Earl Hyde, Fred Ellis, Donald Long, Frederick Strowbridge and Kenneth Williams.

MRS. DIXON ENTERTAINS FOR LITTLE DAUGHTER

Mrs. Epsie S. Dixon entertained a few little friends Friday afternoon at her home, 3035 Seventh street, for her daughter, Shirley Elaine. The home was decorated in the Halloween emblems, and during the afternoon the little costumed guests looked for apples, told stories, played games and enjoyed a peanut hunt in which Lucille Herpin won the prize. A witch told the children stories and their fortunes during the afternoon. Refreshments of pop corn balls, doughnuts, apples and jollypops were served, with ice cream and cake being served later.

Enjoying the afternoon were Mary Elizabeth Mills, Ruth Herpin, Lucille Herpin, Clara Delfiance, Mozelle Jacobs, Anna Bell Smith, Alma Bell Smith, Juliet Lipoff, Martha Vickers, Elizabeth Ann Baldwin, Joseph Herpin, Ernest Delfiance, John Calvin McCullough, William Briley, Edwin Baldwin, John Titus, and Shirley Elaine Dixon.

GRAVES-SCHMIDT WEDDING ANNOUNCED

A wedding of interest to both Beaumont and Port Arthur friends has just been announced by Mrs. U. O. Graves, mother of the bride, who was Miss Cordie Graves of Port Arthur before her marriage to Mr. Layton Schmidt of Beaumont. The wedding took place in Port Arthur, Oct. 15th. With Rev. Kennedy of the Central Baptist church officiating. The bride is an attractive young woman of Port Arthur. She was a graduate of the 1922 class of the Beaumont high school and also attended college there. Mr. Schmidt is well known in Beaumont, holding a position with Thompson-Lockhart Electric Co. Both Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt have a host of friends in both Port Arthur and Beaumont who are interested in their marriage. After a short stay in Houston they will return to Port Arthur making that their future home.

Mrs. Dean Dorchester Entertains at Bridge

A prettily appointed affair of Friday afternoon was the bridge given by Mrs. Dean Dorchester at her home, 1953 Lake Shore drive, the personnel of which included members of the Friday Bridge club.

Two tables of players enjoyed the hospitality, with Mrs. W. H. Elliott scoring high and receiving the club trophy, and Mrs. Albert Alston being presented with the guest favor. A dainty salad course was offered after the games.

MARGARET WILEY CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

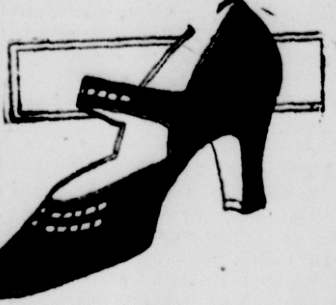

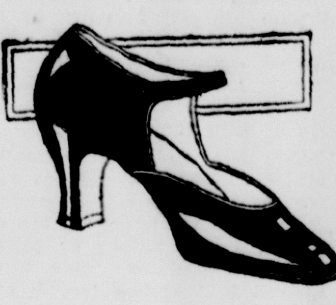

A pretty party of Friday afternoon was Mrs. Thurman S. Wiley's entertainment of a host of little tots in honor of her daughter, Mildred Margaret, at her home, 1549 Stillwell.

The home was charmingly decorated with a profusion of chrysanthemums and the Halloween colors of black and orange were featured. A number of outdoor games were enjoyed after which they gathered in the living room and enjoyed several piano selections rendered by the little honoree. Grace Fox won the prize in pinning on the cat's tail.

Ice cream and cake were served to the following guests: Grace Darling, Kay, Minnie Lucille Foley, Wrens Pollock, Violet, Cleo and Mary Virginia Shields, Mary Crutchfield, Grace Fox, Maxine Epperson, Doris Elaine Ellender, Francis Margaret Hatheor, Mildred Margaret Wiley, Junior Lauer, Henry Kleaspan, have something to sell.

Call up the Ad-Viser when you have something to sell.

Something New In

Smart Footwear

As Sketched by Dame Fashion

Two distinctive patterns, the mode of the moment in feminine footwear these slippers in slender patterns of satin and patent with narrow and beautiful shaped heels. A style for every smart autumn costume.

$12 and $13.50

Style Without Extravagance

Deutser's

The Big Department Store

joyed after which they gathered in the living room and enjoyed several piano selections rendered by the little honoree. Grace Fox won the prize in pinning on the cat's tail.

Ice cream and cake were served to the following guests: Grace Darling, Kay, Minnie Lucille Foley, Wrens Pollock, Violet, Cleo and Mary Virginia Shields, Mary Crutchfield, Grace Fox, Maxine Epperson, Doris Elaine Ellender, Francis Margaret Hatheor, Mildred Margaret Wiley, Junior Lauer, Henry Kleaspan, have something to sell.

Call up the Ad-Viser when you have something to sell.

The Fig District of Hamshire is 30 minutes auto ride from Beaumont, over hard surface roads. Hamshire is the only district in Jefferson County, where Magnolia Figs have proven to be a wonderful success.

All other districts are still problematic and cannot with certainty make this claim. In the HAMSHIRE DISTRICT, the so conditions and the influence of the Gulf Salt breezes make the Hamshire Magnolia Fig orchards famous. Prairie land right among or near these orchards can still be bought for $50.00 to $75.00 per acre, (according to location) on monthly installments. Warranty deed and clear abstract furnished soon as a little more than one-third is paid, balance in ten yearly installments. Development work for non-resident purchasers can be contracted for by them, with dependable local orchardists and could be supervised by us or our local manager. Well rooted Magnolia fig trees cost 10 cents apiece, long as the supply lasts and it takes 1340 trees to the acre $13.40. The total development work including fertilizer and spraying, costs about $35.00 per acre per year during the first two years, (outside of the cost of trees and the returns at the end of the second year in ordinary years will be sufficient to cover all these expenses except the original purchase price of the land.

These figures and statements are compiled and confirmed by several orchardists of actual experience.

Be sure to inspect our exhibit in the Manufacturers Building at the Beaumont Fair. Our preserved figs there are picked from fig trees planted in February and March 1924.

For further particulars, address

THEO. F. KOCH & CO.

444-446 Weiss Bldg Beaumont, Texas Phone 727 or their local agents

Our Hamshire office is open on Sundays and land will be shown in the afternoon every day in the week.

Special Sale on COMFORTS AND BLANKETS

$1.00 DOWN

Blankets From $2.75 to $9.75 | Comforts From $3.75 to $9.75

A DOLLAR OR TWO A WEEK WILL DO

WILLIAMS

FURNITURE COMPANY

OPEN UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK PAY NIGHTS

203 Procter Phone 3156

SALE

Stock Reduction

Wednesday, Nov. 5th

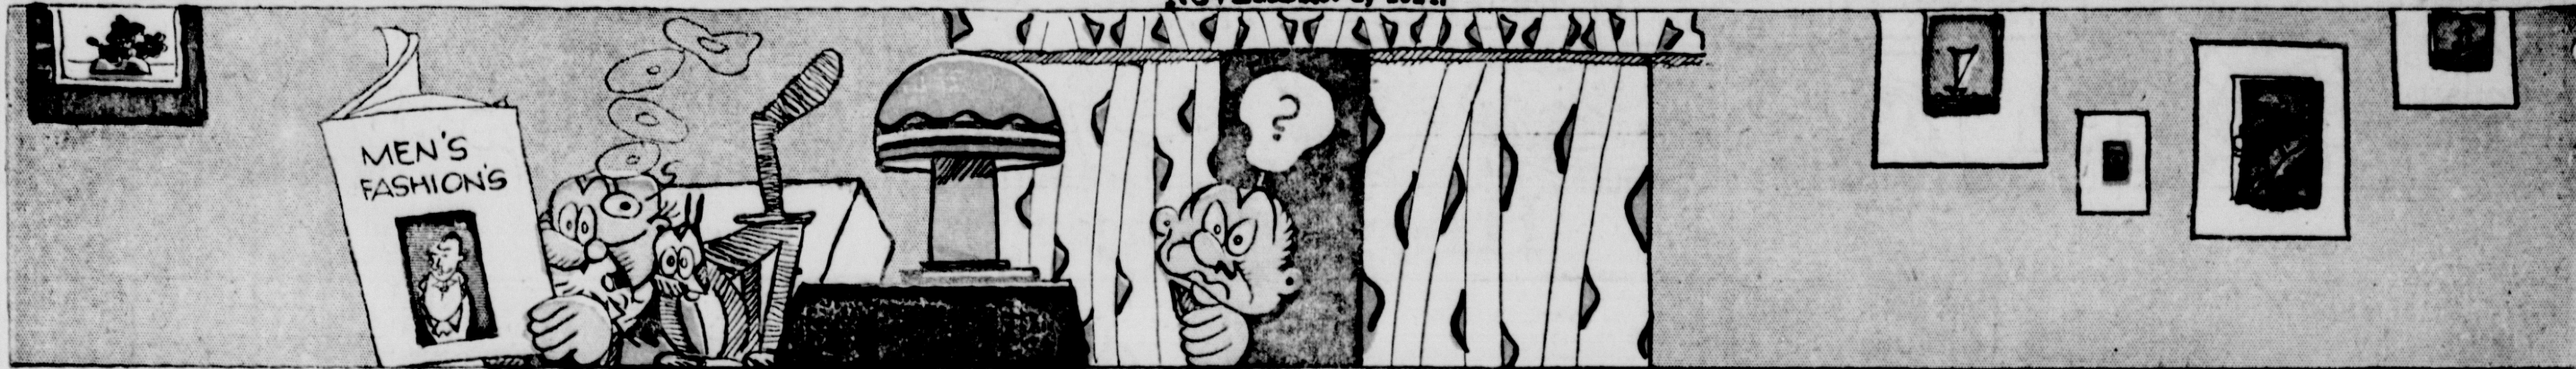

The most gigantic merchandise movement in Port Arthur's history. Just when the fall season reaches the peak—The Deutser Dry Goods Company offers the most drastic reductions possible to offer.

Entire Stock Will Be Reduced

10% to 50%

For Our Double Page Ad in the Tuesday News

NOVEMBER 2, 1924.

Polly—Clothes May Not Make the Man, But—

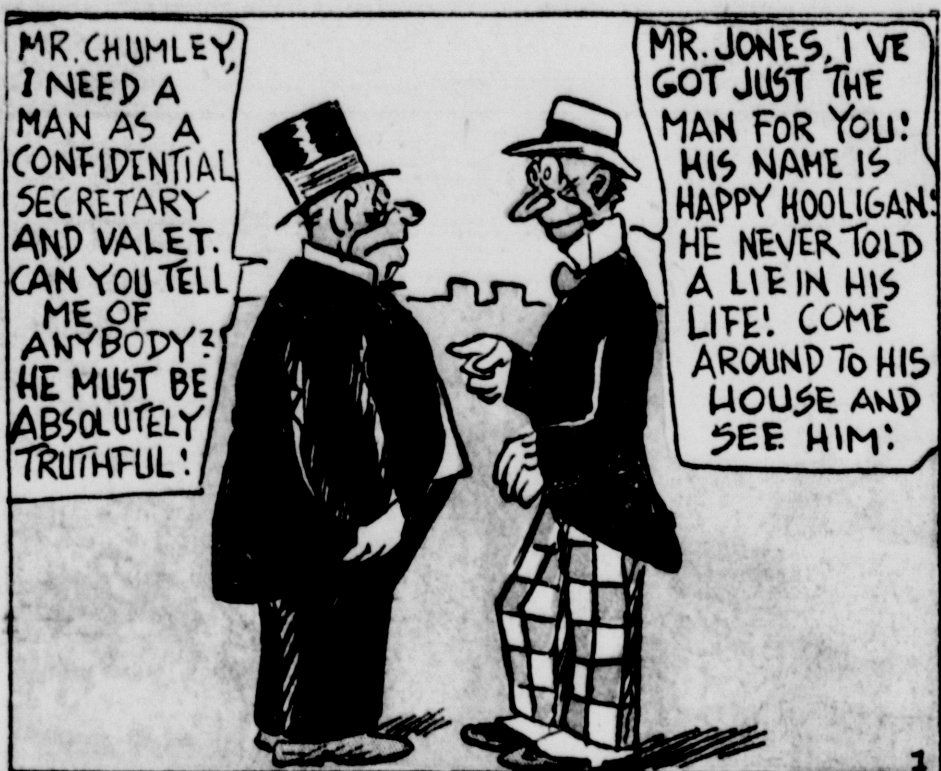

Registered U. S. Patent Office

Happy Hooligan

Registered U. S. Patent Office

Little Jimmy

Registered U. S. Patent Office

1. "JIMMY, NO SUGAR FO' DLINNAH, YO' GO GETTUM SUGAR AT GLOECERY STO I MAKEE YO' COOKIE. GETTUM FAST!"

2. "COOKIES! HOORAY!"

3. "YOU'RE TOSSIN A MEAN HORSE-SHOE 'RED'"

4. "THIS HERE ONES A RINGER."

5. "HEY, KID GIT YER DORG OUTEN, THERE!"

6. "HES A TOUGH DOG. HE WONT MIND BEIN' HIT."

7. "GIT GOIN' FASTER, YOU 'RED'!"

8. "LOOK OUT, 'RED'!"

9. "SEND JIMMY FO' SUGAR LONG TIME AGO. HIM NO COME BACK WHABHA MALLA?"

10. "I SUPPOSE I'LL HAVE TO GO OUT AND FIND HIM"

11. "THERE'S BEANS BUT NO JIMMY. I SUPPOSE I MIGHT JUST AS WELL GET THE SUGAR."

12. "MADAM, HERES YOUR SUGAR."

13. "SING, HERES YOUR SUGAR."

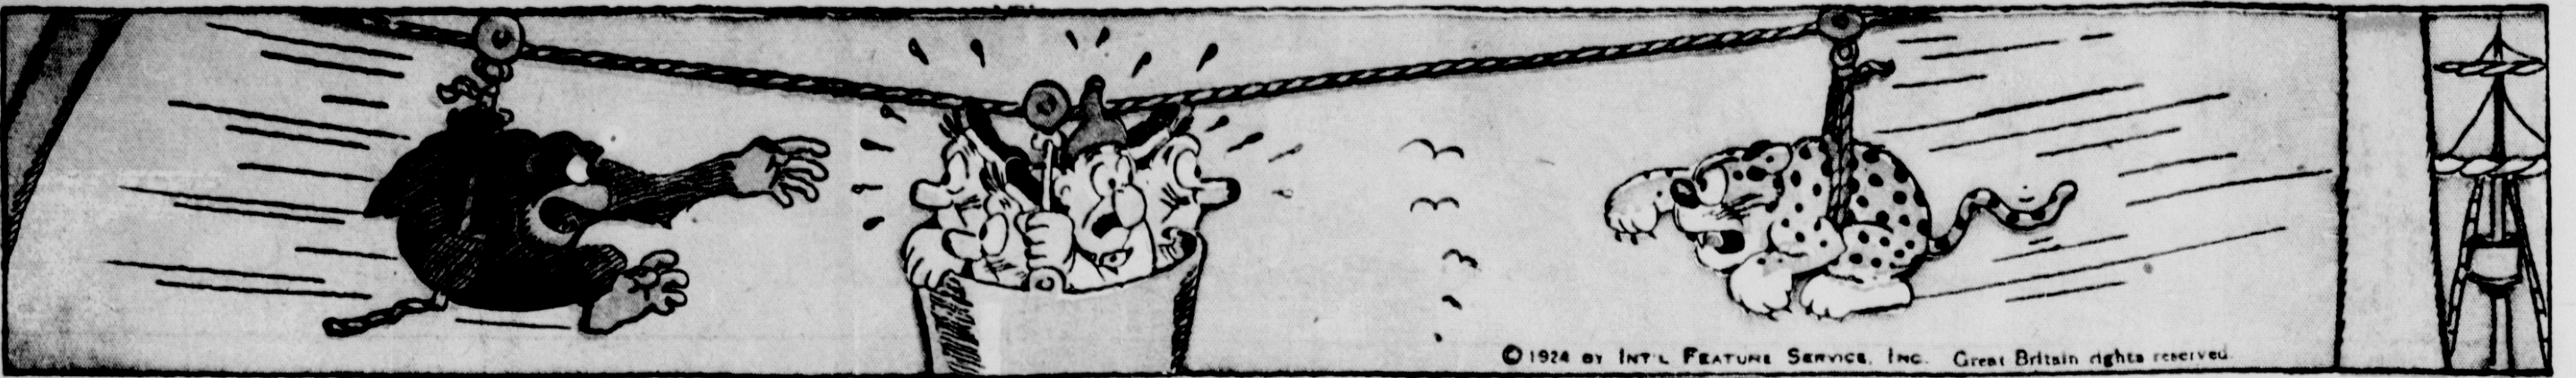

14. "PLUNTY SUGAR TO DAY!"

15. "AN' WHEN 'BEANS' TOOK AFTER THE HORSESHOE FELLER, I REMEMBERED THE SUGAR."

AND IN THE MEAN TIME

11-2 © 1924 BY INT'L FEATURE SERVICE, INC. Great Britain rights reserved. SWINNERTON

© 1924 BY INT'L FEATURE SERVICE, INC. Great Britain rights reserved.

The Katzenjammer Kids

WY ISS DER BUCKET?

SO LONG VE STAY HERE IT SAFES TIME TO BRING DER COCOANUTS UND DER FRESH EATS ON DER SHIP!

HEY, YE LITTLE SCALLYWAGS! COME DOWN THERE! Y'AIN'T GOIN' ON THAT TRAIN!

CHON! FOR DOT I RAISE YOUR SELLERY! I TELL DER KINK VOT A MAN YOU ISS AFTER MY OWN DOD-GASTED HEART! SOAK 'EM FOR ME!

YOU IMPS'LL STAY ON THIS SHIP AN' YE CAN LAY TO THAT!

HAW! HAW! HAR!

CHASS, I DID! BUT YOU CAN'T HELL UP YOUR VOICE UNLESS YOU PUT IT ON ICE!

DID YOU EFER HEAR A NASTIER NOISE DAN DOT HAR-HAR VOT DER HERRING BOYS GIF US?

WIF HIS MAJESTY'S COMPLIMENTS FO' YO' ALL TO TAKE HOME! AN' IF YO' DON'T MIND HIS MAJ. WANTS YO' TO JOIN HIM IN A LIL' GAME O' FREEZE-OUT!

VOT? ALL DEM FOR ME? SURE! I GO PLAY MIT DER KINK UND I DONT MIND IF I VIN A LIDDLE!

DOES ITTY PITY OSCAR VANT NICE ITTY RIDE TO SHIP UND PLAY WIF NICE ITTY SAILORS?

IF OSCAR DONT CHEW UP DOT BUNCH UF HAR-HAR-ERS, I GIF OSCAR A KICK IN DER SPOTS!

SUFFERIN' CATSPAWS!

JIMMINY! THAT AINT NO COCOANUT!

IT'S A LION! IT'S A RHIN-OCERHORSE!

HAR! HAR! HOW'S EVERY-THING, SPOTTY? HOW ARE YOUR FOLKS?

HE FOOLED THAT POLKA-DOT CAT ALL RIGHT!

JOHN'S CERTAINLY GOT A HEAD ON HIM!

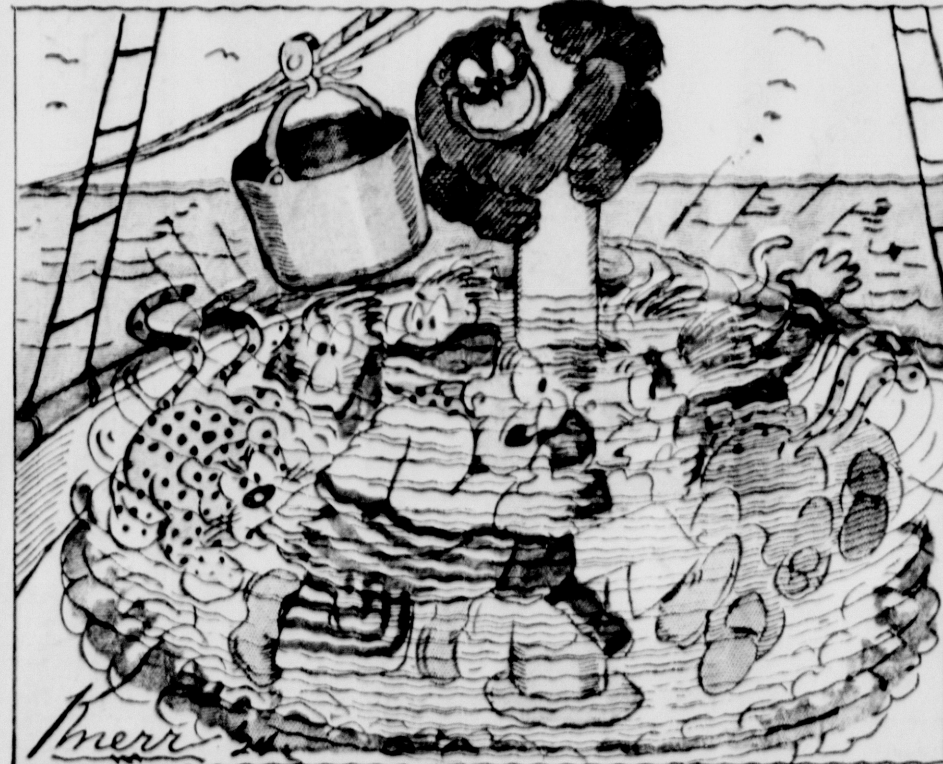

OOH! VOT A GROUCH DOT BABY GOT! MAYBE SOMETHING VOT YOU SAID HOITED HIS FEELINGS!

SAY! I GUESS HE BETTER CALL ON DOT SAILOR BUNCH UND ASK DEM FOR A APOLOGY!

JUMPIN' JEHOSEPHATS!

IT'S THEM KIDS!

CURSES ON THE LUCK!

THE CRUISE IS HASHED!

P-R-R!

